Students at W.C. Petty School in Antioch get a closer look at one of five Oscar-Mayer Wienermobiles that help market the Kraft products. The visit was made possible because the school's chorus won the company's Oscar Mayer Talent Search School House Jam Contest.—

Though the W.C. Petty choir members didn't change any of the lyrics of the two classic Oscar Mayer jingles it combined for the Talent Search School House Jam Contest, they could have changed the one from wiener to winner.

The school's choir, comprised for fourth, fifth and sixth grade students, entered the contest last fall and won the "early bird" prize. That prize included a visit from the Wienermobile, whistles for the entire student body, small stuffed Wienermobiles for the 55 choir members and a huge stuffed Wienermobile to remain in the music room.

"We're very excited to have won this," said Melissa Marchman, the school's general music teacher and choir director. "This is the first year we entered, and we really wanted to win this early bird prize." Marchman said she heard about the contest both through the Music Educators National Conference (MENC) and through Oscar Mayer directly.

The choir was given three possible jingles, both the music and the lyrics, that could then be combined or altered to create a new jingle. A video entry of the choir's performance of the new creation was required as part of the competition.

"We stuck with the two classics: 'I Wish I Were an Oscar Mayer Wiener' and 'My Bologna Has a First Name,'" said Marchman. "These were the ones I knew the best, and they're classics. We combined the two songs and added some instruments."

Marchman said that the students were shy at first about expressing their ideas, they have more than warmed up to the notion and are already working a submission for next year. "I started them out with an idea or two, but then they got the hang of it," she said.

The biggest challenge was pulling the act together for the video performance. "Students in the choir volunteer to do this and meet during their lunch breaks for 20 minutes," said Marchman. "They're not all together. They worked on it separately and then we had one day to put it together for the video."

The entire school was treated to a performance of the jingle during the all-school assembly held just prior to the Wienermobile's arrival.

In April, Oscar Mayer will announce the schools that won the 50 state prizes and the one nationwide grand prize. "The state prize is $10,000," said Marchman. "It's a lot of money, and well worth entering the contest. The grand prize winner gets an additional $15,000 for a total of $25,000."

Trustee race sees 7 vie for 3 village slots

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

As the filing deadline looms, seven candidates seek three seats on Antioch's village board.

At the last village board meeting, Trustee Wayne Foresta announced that he would not run for re-election. Trustees Larry Hanson and Barbara Porch will run as incumbent candidates in the April 1 consolidated election.

"There will definitely be some new blood on the board because of Wayne's decision," said Hanson. "It's not my seat, and I'm not taking it for granted. I know I have to earn it, and I think I've done these past four years. My decisions have been based on hard work and commitment."

Hanson was first elected in 1989, ran for mayor in the following election and then "took some time for reflection" before returning to the board four years ago.

Porch, who is just finishing her first four-year term as trustee, said she is running again to ensure the residents of Antioch are represented. "I want to make sure the people are represented," she said. "They vote us into office and it's our job to listen to what they have to say, what they care about, and try to make sure that comes through in our decision making."

Other candidates include (listed in the order the names will appear on the ballot, less Hanson and Porch) Kenneth G. Karasek, Ralph Antonelli, George B. Close, John R. Moulchin and Mary J. Turner.

Karasek ran as part of the Antioch First party in 1991. For this election, he decided to run solo.

"I have learned never to underestimate the power of people working together," said Karasek previously. "Events and programs are successful because people care and show their support for the community they live in and want to see it succeed."

He has been a member of the redevelopment commission, and over the last several years has served as parade and food service chairman for the Independence Day celebration while volunteering for other special events in the village, regularly attending village board meetings and organizing subdivision activities.

Antonelli and Turner are not newcomers to public service either.

Turner served on parks department board and said, "I love Antioch and have lived here forever. I want to continue with community service. I love the improvements the previous administration made improving the look of downtown and would like to see that carried over to Lake Street

County Board takes time to ensure 1 voter's anonymity

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Action taken by the Lake County board of directors ensures that one Antioch voter's anonymity is restored. Due to narrow property lines and relatively thick precinct lines drawn of the official Lake County precinct map, one incorporated Antioch resident was placed in a precinct where all the other voters are part of the unincorporated area of Antioch.

"There are a lot of issues that go into drawing up precinct boundaries," said Debbie Bakanec, executive assistant in the Lake County Clerk's office. "It's more complicated than it would seem."

Bakanec said when new precinct lines were drawn up one year ago, this parcel was hidden by the boundary lines and illogically placed in Precinct 1. The board took action to have the boundary changed slightly to include this parcel in Precinct 2 that is made up of other incorporated Antioch residents.

"One special ballot would have had to be generated with the municipal office on it. It would be have been easy to tell how this person voted," she said.

ACHS announces candidates for consolidated election

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Joyce Heneberry, who has temporarily been filling the seat on the Antioch Community High School board of education that was vacated by Larry Peterson last fall, is the only candidate seeking to fill the two-year term vacancy.

Heneberry, a Lake Villa resident who works at the Central Baptist Children's Home, would have held the seat until a permanent replacement was elected April 1. Running unopposed, it looks as though she will be that permanent replacement.

The three seats currently held by Ed Koziorowski of Antioch, Sandy Jacobs of Antioch and Kathy Werchek of Lake Villa will also need to be filled for a regular, four-year term. All three are running for re-election.

Other candidates for those spots include Vickie Axton of Antioch, Marty Geweke of Lake Villa, Kathleen VanDien of Lindenhurst, Thomas McConnell of Antioch, Dave Dziki of Antioch and Reed Ano of Antioch.

Because 30 percent of the taxable property in the district is in an unincorporated area, two of the six board members must reside in either unincorporated Antioch or Lake Villa. Phil Delany, president, and Aileen Biel both reside in Antioch Township and have two more years left in their terms.

The other four board members may be elected from any area within the district.

Woman charged in murder-for-hire

By ELIZABETH GUARD
Staff Reporter

Cecilia Gonzalez, 37, of 7786 Nursery Dr., has been charged with one count of solicitation of murder for hire, a class X felony.

Gonzalez's husband, Orlando Piedra, 53, of the same address, contacted police on Jan. 20 and reported that his wife had asked someone to kill him.

Piedra said on that morning, he received a call from the husband of his live-in nanny. The man told Piedra his car had broken down on his way to work and he needed a ride. When Piedra arrived, the man told him his wife had approached him and asked him to kill Piedra.

The nanny's husband then handed Piedra a .32 caliber pistol and a bag containing a pistol magazine and 10 .32 caliber rounds of ammunition. He told Piedra the pistol was supplied to him as the intended murder weapon.

The minimum mandatory sentence for a class X felony is 20 years. If convicted, Gonzalez could face 20-40 years in prison.

Gonzalez was held overnight at the Gurnee Police Department and was taken to a bond hearing at the Lake County Courthouse on Jan. 21. Bond was set at $150,000 and Gonzalez was remanded to the custody of the Lake County Sheriff.

The case remains under investigation.

Antioch Chamber tells list of its 2003 officers

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

New and returning members to the Antioch Chamber of Commerce officially took over in January and in turn elected officers.

"Most of the officers will remain the same as last year," said Barbara Porch, executive director.

Karen Dunham of the First National Bank-Employee Owned will serve as president. Bill Ahlers, business manager of the Antioch Community High School, is first vice president. Mary Ann Kuhn of the Advertiser Network is second vice president.

Kurt Duehr of the State Bank of The Lakes is treasurer. Jennifer Evans of Harbinger Graphics is new to the position of secretary this year.

Directors at large include Tam Alleman of Antioch Vacuum Shoppe, Mike Cascone of Keller Williams Realty, Curt Miller of Keller Williams Realty and Sandy Norwood of Hair Designs Unlimited.

Porch, who has served on the board for more than eight years, first as board member and then as executive director, said phone calls and other day-to-day tasks are handled by the office and not by the individual directors.

Expo could earn someone millions

Dance academy to provide entertainment

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"The color of this year's Million-Dollar Expo is green," said Barbara Porch, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry. "We're hoping someone will actually take away millions this year."

The event will take place on Saturday, March 1 from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. at the Antioch Community High School (ACHS). There is no charge to the public.

Last year, the Chamber changed the name of its exposition to have it coordinate with the fact that it is working closely with the Illinois State Lottery and is giving out 1,000 lottery tickets to the first over-18 (years old) visitors. There will be other giveaways throughout the day.

Porch added, "This is great for consumers. There is so much more to come see this year."

"This expo will be a great source of information for everyone"

Barbara Porch

The format is two-tier with the main booths in the north gymnasium, and arts, crafts and antiques in the south gymnasium. Porch said that arts and crafts currently outnumber the antiques booths.

While there is no charge, those entering the south gymnasium will have to have a hand stamp to help the traffic flow.

Visitors should look for guest appearances by Spiderman and Superman. Porch said all the details haven't been finalized but things are looking for these two superheroes.

Additionally, Porch said there is a nice array of exhibitors from jewelers and financial institutions, hair salons and health organizations.

The American Stars of Dance Academy of Antioch will provide some of the entertainment for the event.

"This expo will be a great source of information for everyone," said Porch.

Honk if you love Public Works

We all have a job to do and don't necessarily expect any other thanks than our paychecks.

Those who work for the Antioch public works department may not expect it, but they certainly deserve a big thank for working from 6 p.m. to nearly 1 a.m. on the coldest night of the winter season fixing the water main by the high school. That, of course, is after a week of having a water main break every day.

Honk and waive the next time you see one of these village employees out working in the freezing temperatures.

With the extra cold temperatures and lack of snow, children in Antioch are getting creative to have some wintertime fun.

OUR TOWN

Camp Crayon program had a "snowball" fight the other day indoors and using old to-be-recycled paper.

"It was adorable," said parks department director Laurie Stahl. "They had two teams on either side of the room with equal stacks of paper. The team that was able to ball up and launch their snowballs first won the fight."

Where there's a will, there's a way.

It's short notice, but girls and boys between 10-14 years old (as of Jan. 1) who are handy playing hoops should consider entering the Knights of Columbus basketball free throw contest.

The contest is being held on Sunday, Feb. 2 at the St. Peter School gymnasium. Registration is at 1 p.m. and the competition begins at 2 p.m.

There will be different age and gender divisions.

The winners will represent Antioch through district, regional and state competition. For more information, call Dave Chesonis at 847-395-8076.

SCHOOL DIGEST

St. Peter student acknowledged for DARE essay

Having just completed its DARE program, Arlene Gaffrig's fifth grade class was treated to a pizza lunch celebration.

The drug awareness program lasted for 17 weeks and culminated with students reading the essays they wrote about keeping drug free and what they learned in the class. Antioch Police Department Officer Sandy Davenport awarded Solange Simpson a medal for her essay.

The DARE drug awareness program is designed to educate children about the effects of drugs while teaching them the tools to resist them.

Promise card returned

Sasha Polich a kindergartner from a small town in Michigan was the only one to find one of St. Peter School's promise cards and return it with a letter.

Promise cards were written by all students promising to remain drug free. The school sent the cards off attached to red helium balloons in October.

Antonelli is a long-time member of the Antioch Rescue Squad and has been involved with Antioch's planning since 1990, including participating in the development of the East Sub-Area Comprehensive Land Uses Plan and in updating the village's Comprehensive Plan.

When asked his views on growth, he said, "I am in favor of growth, however, it must be responsible, controlled and managed growth that is in harmony with the environment and with the consciousness of the community. I am not in favor of mega development. The residents of the town of Antioch need broader choices for shopping and dining and we need to strengthen the tax base."

Moulchin said his goals are to implement concise, detailed financial principles as well as to lead, assist, and meet the expectations of the Village of Antioch residents. "I will take a proactive approach to running the Village and resolving issues," he said.

His background is in finance and business management. He has been employed in the transportation/logistics industry for the past 24 years.

Hospital to start construction

Land hunt over, site set at Prairie Crossing

By ELIZABETH GUARD
Staff Reporter

After nearly three years in the works, ground will be broken on the Lake Forest Hospital comprehensive health and wellness campus on Route 120, just west of the Country Squire restaurant.

Lake Forest Hospital Vice President Jim Killian said the process for the new facility, the Prairie Crossing Campus, began in 2000. He said the hospital spent most of 2000 looking for land suitable to build the facility on. In April of 2001, the hospital purchased the 44-acre parcel of land just west of Route 45. Also in April of 2001, the Grayslake Village Board approved the facility. But Killian said the county also has jurisdiction over the location. Since 2001, Killian said he has been working with the county to get the $39 million facility approved.

Killian said he is only waiting for a Lake County Stormwater Management permit. After receiving that, Killian said he is hoping to break ground on the facility late this week or early next week.

The facility will be composed of medical office buildings with outpatient clinical services. "I call it a hospital without beds," Killian said.

The new site will include an urgent care center, which will be staffed with a physician as well as clinical and support personnel to provide walk-in medical services for non-life threatening situations. The urgent care program will operate with extended hours, seven days a week.

In addition, there will be a comprehensive outpatient diagnostic and treatment center, which will include clinical laboratory services and a full-service radiology facility with X-ray, ultrasound, mammography, MRI, nuclear medicine and bone density analysis. Non-invasive cardiology services such as EKG, stress testing, cardiac monitoring and echocardiography will also be offered. A variety of community education programs will also be offered in the on-site conference center.

Medical offices, which are expected to attract both primary and special care physicians affiliated with Lake Forest Hospital, will be owned and leased by Lake Forest Hospital.

"This new medical campus will provide consumers with greater access to the high-quality physicians and healthcare services for which Lake Forest Hospital and its medical staff are known," Killian said. "Building this campus in central Lake County, one of the fastest growing counties in the country, enables Lake Forest Hospital to help meet the area's current identified need for increased access to ambulatory services and primary care and specialty physicians."

Completion of the Prairie Crossing Campus is tentatively set for early 2004. Killian said an actual completion date will depend heavily on weather conditions.

St. Peter students earn eligibility for science competition in March

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Winning seventh and eighth grade students of St. Peter School's annual science fair are eligible to go on and compete at the Illinois Junior Academy of Science in its regional competition held March 22 at Niles North High School.

The school held its fair Jan. 24, and nine students earned the right to go on and compete in March. Joseph Pühr took first place in the qualifying division. Sarah Strack took second place. Sarah Larson and Bailey Lundman took third place.

Honorable mentions also earned eligibility. Students earning that distinction are Caitlin Kanvik, Sean Kelly, A.J. Umlauf, Jessica Bohn and Laura Gauntt.

Student exhibits were varied and showed examples astronomy, chemistry, earth science and physics. Students were given a maximum of ten minutes to make a presentation as their projects were evaluated.

Ribbons were awarded after a full morning of presentations.

Though younger grade students are not eligible for the Illinois Junior Academy of Science competition, prizes were given to students in the fourth through sixth grades as well.

Alexa Orticeili took first place in the sixth grade division. Marcus Bland took second place and Nicholas Wilson took third place. Honorable mentions were given to Chris Gotti, Ian Tune, Molly Thompson, Lauren Colette and Alex LaFortune.

In the fourth and fifth grade division, Stephanie Kowalczyk took first place. Solange Simpson and Rachel Tack share second place and Stephen Pühr took third place.

Junior high science teacher Dani Brandt and fifth and sixth grade science teacher Arlene Gaffrig note that the students had been working on these projects since November in preparation of this competition.

Learn how to finish your life 'with style'

Is it possible to age with joy? Can a person's senior years really be their best years? Can life be fulfilling after retirement? Yes, yes, and yes are the answers to those questions, according to Dr. George Sweeting.

Sweeting, of Antioch, has just written the book, "The Joys of Successful Aging, Finishing with Grace." This encouraging and uplifting book is packed with wisdom and humor.

Sweeting says, "Continual involvement with life is a major requirement for successful aging. Getting older is like water-skiing. When you slow down, you go down. So, keep on going." Chapter 2 addresses the fact that "people of faith tend to live longer."

Sweeting gives practical advice on taking care of your body. Three areas are highlighted, eating, exercise, and emotions. As I settled down to read some more of "The Joys of Successful Aging," with a candy bar in one hand, I flipped open the book to begin reading where I had left off. My eyes fell upon the words; "You Are What You Eat." Oops . . . I chuckled; at least I wasn't eating a lemon! Sweeting writes about the importance of walking for a healthier life and gives cures for worry.

It's a fact that Americans over 65 outnumber teenagers. Due to advances in science and medicine, seniors are living longer than ever. Sweeting calls "seniors to become aware of all they can be and do." He says, "seniors have time to give, money to give, and skills to pass on."

"There is an ocean of untapped seniors in our churches and society waiting to be enlisted." In his chapter "Aging With Joy" Sweeting writes about some advantages to aging. "Most of life's struggles are past. Your secrets are safe with your friends because they can't remember them either. You can have a big party and the neighbors don't even realize it. You quit trying to hold your stomach in. Your joints are more accurate than the weather service."

In this chapter he also speaks on retirement as a "time of special service. Another great joy is to enter into the lives of our children and grandchildren." He speaks of the senior years as a time of growth. "Anyone who stops growing is old whether he's 18 or 80." He also writes about the importance of building the inner life.

One chapter is devoted to a person's attitude and yet another to laughter. "Laughter is the best medicine available, and it's hard to overdose." More wisdom abounds in the pages on overcoming fear whether it be fear of "what if", fear of suffering, fear of failure, or fear of death. Saving the best for last Sweeting closes his book with a chapter on finishing your life with grace and dying well. At the end he adds a collection of quotations on aging and dying.

Sweeting, and his wife Margaret, live in Antioch and have been married over 50 years. They have four sons and 10 grandchildren. Sweeting was President and Chancellor of Moody Bible Institute in Chicago.

He has traveled worldwide as an evangelist and teacher. He has been a speaker on the radio programs "Moody Presents" and "Climbing Higher" for many years.

Sweeting has penned more than 30 books. He says this is the best response he has received on any book that he has written. After reading "The Joys of Successful Aging, Finishing With Grace," it was easy for me to see why. Who doesn't want to age with joy, finish life with grace, and die well?

Free-throw contest on Feb. 2

The Knights of Columbus, Father Henderson Council 3800, in Antioch, is sponsoring a local basketball free-throw contest on Feb. 2 at the St. Peter School gymnasium.

The competition is open to both boys and girls between the ages of 10-14 years old (as of Jan. 1). Winners will progress upward through the district competition to the regional and state competitions.

Sign up begins at 1 p.m. followed by the competition at 2 p.m.

Each contest gets three warm-up tosses followed by 15 consecutive free-throw attempts. At the regional and state level, the number of free-throw attempts increases to 25.

For more information, call Dave Chesonis at 847-395-8076.

The Knights of Columbus, Father Henderson Council 3800, in Antioch, is sponsoring a spelling bee on Feb. 23 at the Father Frawley Hall, in the basement of St. Peter Church located at 557 Lake Street, Antioch.

The competition is open to all children fourth through eighth grade within Antioch Township. This includes those who attend public and private schools as well as those who are home-schooled.

The three top spellers of the bee will go on to compete at the state level. In the past 10 years, five spellers have represented the area in this competition.

Prior spelling bee wins in other competitions do not disqualify students for this competition.

Parents wishing to have their child or children participate should call either Larry Albrecht at 847-973-0425 or the St. Peter Church Rectory at 847-395-0274. A copy of the word list is available by contacting the aforementioned.

Groups join to establish foundation

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The Chamber of Commerce and Industry has invited Antioch's redevelopment commission and the village board to meet together for the first time to discuss both short- and long-term goals for the village.

"We'll be laying the foundation to work together," said Barbara Porch, wearing her hat as executive director of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry. "This is the first time we'll be meeting face-to-face to find out more about the role each play in shaping Antioch."

Porch said she looks forward to the opportunity to explain to both the redevelopment commission and to the village what role the Chamber plays in the community as well as sharing ideas for the village's future. "I'm not sure what we'll be able to get accomplished in this first meeting, but it's a start at working together."

She added that further enhancing the relationship of the three entities is for the betterment of the community.

The meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m. on Feb. 11 in the Mapletorpe Room of the Community Building on Main Street.

Aggravated DUI

Jayne M. Bridges, 38, of 39941 Hidden Bunker Court, Antioch, was arrested on Jan. 21 at 11:54 p.m. on Route 83 south of Route 173 for driving under the influence of alcohol. After review by the Lake County Assistant States Attorney, those charges were upgrade to aggravated DUI as Bridges reportedly has several DUI convictions.

Police observed Bridges' vehicle weaving within her lane of traffic. She was stopped when she crossed over the yellow centerline and then onto the shoulder.

The officer detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on her breath when her driver's license was requested. Bridges failed all field sobriety tests requested of her.

She was arrested and issued citations for DUI and two counts of improper lane usage. She refused chemical testing.

Bridges was placed in a cell to await transportation to bond court.

No valid driver's license

Raul Hernandez-Alarcon, 23, of 2150 Morningside, Carpentersville, was arrested for driving without a valid driver's license on Jan. 25 at 11:54 p.m. on Route 83 at Poplar.

He was locked traveling 43 mph in a 30-mph zone. A check through LEADS/SOS came back with information that he had no valid driver's license.

Hernandez-Alarcon was arrested and issued citations for driving without a valid driver's license, operating an uninsured vehicle and speeding. He was released on personal recognizance pending his March 12 court date.

Suspended driver's license

Michele A. Mitchell, 29, of 3645 S. 54th Court, Cicero, was arrested on Jan. 14 at 1:10 p.m. on Route 173 at Tiffany Road for driving while suspended.

She was stopped on a complaint of reckless driving for allegedly having passed several vehicles in a no-passing zone. Police observed Mitchell pass other cars illegally and stopped her.

A check through LEADS came back with information that her driver's license was suspended.

Mitchell was arrested and issued citations for driving while suspended, improper passing on a curve and improper overtaking on the left. She was released on personal recognizance pending her Feb. 5 court date.

DUI

Kyle W. Ronk, 18, of 30546 N. Sheridan, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on Jan. 20, at 9:17 p.m., while driving eastbound on Grass Lake Road near Painted Lakes. A police officer observed a black SUV parked behind a red Chevy Cavalier on Oakland. The Cavalier was facing northbound in the southbound lane. The driver of the SUV sped off, and when overtaken by police, she said the Cavalier had been tailgating, and then passed her at a high rate of speed, forcing an oncoming car to move onto the shoulder to avoid a collision.

The driver of the Cavalier, later identified as Ronk, was seen at Corner Crossroads Tavern on Grass Lake Road and Route 83, appearing intoxicated and asking for directions, according to police reports.

A Lake Villa Police officer found a marijuana pipe in the Chevy. Ronk registered .182 BAC on a breath test and refused field sobriety tests. He was charged with possession of cannabis, improper overtaking on the left, improper lane usage, DUI, DUI over .08 BAC, driving an uninsured motor vehicle, reckless driving, improper use of registration, no registration, no driver's license and failure to secure new registration. He was released on a $3,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on Feb. 7.

Edward W. Wenzlaff, 40, of 18919 Orchard Lane, Wildwood, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on Jan. 22, at 1:41 a.m., while driving southbound on Route 83 near Hampton. Police observed his rear registration light was out. The officer noticed an odor of alcohol, and administered field sobriety tests, which the driver failed. He refused breath tests. He was charged with no registration light, DUI and driving an uninsured motor vehicle. He was released on a $3,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on Feb. 14, at 9 a.m.

Warrant arrest

Jennifer F. Hansen (Clark), 23, of 2203 Briar Lane, Lindenhurst, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on Jan. 21, at 11:19 a.m., while driving eastbound on Route 132 near Douglas Lane. Police were looking for a woman wanted on a warrant. Hansen and her passenger bot fit the description of the wanted woman, but neither one was the suspect. She was allowed to drive her baby and her passenger home, and was then taken to Lake County bond Court.

Paul M. Johnson, 23, of 1429 Cherokee, Round Lake Beach, was arrested by Lindenhurst Police on Jan. 26, at 12:41 a.m., while driving eastbound on Route 132 near Victory. He was observed driving 53 mph in a 45-mph zone, and crossing the double yellow centerline three times. He failed six of six field sobriety tests, and breath test yielded a result of .086 BAC. He said he had imbibed one beer. His passenger, Lindsay R. Wilcox, 20, of 579 Old Walnut Circle, Gurnee, who said she drank one wine cooler, registered .070 BAC on a PBT. Johnson was charged with speeding, driving in the wrong lane, DUI and DUI over .08 BAC. He was released on a $3,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on Feb. 14, at 9 a.m. Wilcox was charged with consumption of alcohol by a minor, and was released on a $75 I-bond, pending an appearance in Grayslake Branch III court, on March 5, at 3 p.m.

Bomb threat at Victory Lakes

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

Lindenhurst Police are continuing to investigate a bomb threat called in to the Victory Lakes Assisted Living building on Jan. 23 at 4:26 p.m.

Police responded to an employee's report of the telephone threat by evacuating the apartments and conducting a search, with the assistance of Lake County Sheriff's Department K-9 units.

Results were negative, and residents were returned to their apartments.

An employee reported to police that she heard the pay phone in the hall outside her office ringing. She ignored the first call, but answered the second call, which came almost immediately after.

A male caller with a deep voice allegedly said "There's a bomb in the building, you b—."

Lindenhurst Police responded, calling for help from the County Sheriff. At 5:50 p.m., deputies arrived with K-9 units. The search was completed at 6:25 p.m., with nothing found.

The incoming call was eventually traced to the home of a female employee. On the date of the call, she was working a 7 a.m.-7 p.m. shift, and was on the telephone to her home at 4 p.m.

Questioning of her husband suggested the possibility that one of the husband's sons, aged 16 and 18, may have made the call, but police have not yet released information about the interviews with the youths. As of Jan. 28, no arrests had been made.

Gurnee cop shot

Suspect killed, another man found dead

By ELIZABETH GUARD
Staff Reporter

A man who shot and wounded a Gurnee police officer, was shot to death on Williamsburg Avenue Monday night.

After responding to a call reporting shots fired on the 600 block of Williamsburg at approximately 9:30 p.m., officers found and attempted to stop a vehicle matching witnesses' descriptions on the 700 block of Cohasset Court. According to a police statement from Gurnee Police Commander Jay Patrick, the driver, who has been identified as Tremell J. Celestine, got out of his vehicle with a handgun and fired at the officers, hitting one in the arm.

Police then returned fire and shot Celestine, who was taken to Provena-St.

Therese Medical Center in Waukegan and pronounced dead. Celestine, 24, was from Milwaukee.

The wounded officer, six-year veteran Kevin Schreiner, was also taken to Provena-St. Therese, treated for his wounds and released. Schreiner was hit in the upper left arm, with the bullet exiting behind his left shoulder.

That same night, another shooting scene was discovered near Route 41 and Washington Street in Park City. John C. Pemberton, 48, of Fort Sheridan, was found dead in his vehicle with a gunshot wound to the head. Police believe the two incidents are related.

The Lake County Major Crimes Task Force is currently handling the investigation, which is standard procedure for all police-related shootings in Lake County.

Animal hospital chain transforms veterinary care

By ELIZABETH GUARD
Staff Reporter

In 1955, an animal hospital opened in Portland, Ore., that aimed to make human-quality medicine available to pets. The hospital, Banfield, The Pet Hospital, became known for its client service and became one of the leading private veterinary practices in the nation. Through its unique vision, Banfield has blossomed into a chain of more than 300 pet hospitals nationwide, including the most recent addition to the family in Gurnee.

Dr. Scott Campbell, who joined the original Banfield in the 80s, developed the Banfield vision. He wanted Banfield doctors to provide the highest quality of veterinary medicine and to make life better for families by giving pets the same care we expect for ourselves, making pet care affordable, strengthening the value of pets in families, teaching how better pet care can lengthen lives and stopping euthanasia by keeping pets healthy. Or in not so many words, to treat your pet like family. Dr. Ray C. and his wife Pam opened Banfield in the Gurnee PETsMART on Jan. 11. Pam, the hospital director, said the Banfield vision is something she and her husband really live by.

"Our pets are our family, they're like our children," she said. "The pet is our client, so we have to act like a pediatrician. A kid can't tell you what's wrong and neither can a pet, so we need to be an advocate for the pet."

Banfield grew by leaps and bounds because PETsMART, the nation's largest retailer of pet-related products, services and solutions, took notice of Dr. Campbell's vision. PETsMART representatives approached Dr. Campbell and asked him to bring his high quality of medicine to their stores. Today, many PETsMARTs around the county have a Banfield inside them, and a Banfield cannot be found outside of a PETsMART. Some are charter-owned (privately), like Ray and Pam's, and some are owned by the original Banfield in Portland.

Ray and Pam, who live in Wadsworth with their two miniature Schnauzers, decided to open a charter Banfield for several reasons. Ray is a veterinarian who now works in the marketing and publishing part of the industry. He used to practice medicine, but now publishes veterinary magazines. He also produces the Central Veterinary Conference in Kansas City, Mo. At one of the conferences, Ray met Dr. Campbell and said he realized he shared his vision. Ray also plans on retiring in about five years, and "certainly didn't want to sit around."

"This ended up being an opportunity for him to be able to practice, but at the time he wanted to, not 70 hours a week," Pam said.

Narske, who graduated from the University of Illinois in 1996, started working at an emergency and critical care center in Northbrook, straight out of college. She had been working there for the past six years when Ray and Pam contacted her to see if she would be interested in running their hospital.

Narske, who lives in Buffalo Grove with her cats Ashley and Elliott, said it wasn't even a decision to come to Banfield. "I said emergency and critical care is extremely stressful and the hours are long."

"I'm so used to practicing high-quality medicine with specialists and to be able to do that in a general practice is just a dream for me," Narske said. "At Banfield, they don't want you to compromise your medicine at all. I like the idea of being held to a specific standard, and they're kind of on the forefront of veterinary medicine."

Narske, along with all other doctors who choose to work at Banfield, was required to attend a week-long training session, called "The Banfield Academy," in Portland before she could begin practicing. Narske said the experience was wonderful.

"You meet people from all over the country, and everyone is so excited you're there," Narske said. "They're all so enthusiastic about what they're doing, and that's something I wasn't used to. They all have made this vision their lives and their jobs, and it's just really neat to see."

Narske said she began to feel somewhat burnt-out on practicing veterinary medicine until Banfield came into her life.

"I love getting up and going to work in the morning," Narske said. "And I had lost that feeling that I was making a difference as a veterinarian."

All Banfield hospitals around the country are set up exactly the same, to treat pets like humans. They have their own surgery centers, which are set up exactly like a human

HOROSCOPE

ARIES – March 21/April 20

You must fight for what you want this week, Aries. Take nothing for granted, especially from those who you suspect may be jealous of your recent success.

TAURUS – April 21/May 21

Your workload is likely to increase this week, and you'll have to work pretty hard just to keep up. Be sure to reward yourself with plenty of rest and relaxation.

GEMINI – May 22/June 21

Put your heart and your soul into everything you do this week, Gemini. Expect positive developments in a working relationship, friendship or romance.

CANCER – June 22/July 22

Now is the time to act if your goal is to persuade loved ones to see things your way. Those near and dear may become more difficult, but not impossible, to deal with later in the week.

LEO – July 23/August 23

Think positive, Leo. No matter what you do for certain people this week, it won't be enough, so stop worrying about it and just do what makes you feel good.

VIRGO – Aug 24/Sept 22

If you focus on money matters this week, it won't be long before all of your numbers are lined up. However, if you do too much at once, you'll only end up in trouble again.

LIBRA – Sept 23/Oct 23

You won't want for self-confidence this week, Libra. But remember that yours is the sign of partnerships, and you'll get more done if you learn to cooperate with others.

SCORPIO – Oct 24/Nov 22

You may regret it if you give too much away this week, Scorpio. Your generosity is legendary, and wonderful, but it pays to be a little selfish at times.

SAGITTARIUS – Nov 23/Dec 21

You are a person who definitely understands how to network. Your smile this week is proof that you're on top. Don't try so hard to impress other people. After all, you're the star of the show.

CAPRICORN – Dec 22/Jan 20

There will rarely come a better time to show the bosses what you've got. Don't worry about messing up; just take the plunge and in no time everyone will be singing your praises.

AQUARIUS – Jan 21/Feb 18

Now's the time to make a change if you're bored with your current situation at work or in your personal life. You'll have plenty of energy to go around this week.

PISCES – Feb 19/March 20

Try not to mix business with pleasure this week, Pisces, as you may regret it. Things can get confusing when it comes to affairs of the heart. Keep your emotions under control.

Annual art sale boasts original art at great prices

The 2003 Artists' Studio Sale, Feb. 6-9, at the Old Court House Arts Center in Woodstock, will once again give buyers an opportunity to own original works of art at bargain prices.

The sale began three years ago when a group of area artists decided to sell their excess artwork from previous exhibits at greatly reduced prices.

"What began as a 'clean out the studio' sale resulted in a major winter event on our schedule," said Beverly Ganschow, director of the Old Courts House Arts Center. "And this year the artists got really serious about uncluttering their studios, so we have added an Artists' Equipment Sale to our event." The sale will include frames, easels, canvases, books, paints, brushes and many surprises. Artists who will participate are: Dee Abbate, Robert Blue, Susan Galloway, Nanette Garcia, Sarah Hahne, Lynn Krause, Donna Magnani, Sue Skowronski, Gale Gunter Trausch, Tom Trausch, Lena Wells and Donna Jill Witty of Woodstock; Joan Hasselman, Mary Obodzinski, Dolores Preston and William Schneider of Crystal Lake; Linda Hall, Carol Calaway and Jacques Thomas of Barrington; Mort Luby, Carpentersville; Nancy Rayborn, Palatine; Sandra Perlow, Chicago; and Wisconsin artists: Peg Cullen, Blanchardville; Marvin Hill, Johnson Creek; Judy Knight, Walworth; Larry Welo, Mt. Horeb; and Wayne Hasselgren, Delavan.

Art center hours during the sale are Thursday through Sunday, Feb. 6-9; 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. For questions about the event, call 815-338-4525.

Free Cubs game tickets offered by club

The Hugs and Hope Club for Sick Children has joined forces with St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital, The Coca-Cola Company, and former Chicago Cubs player Ted May to raise money for pediatric cancer research.

When you purchase a shirt, your name will automatically be entered into a drawing to win two free tickets to a Chicago Cubs game this summer and a chance to meet the team.

Hugs and Hope volunteers are working to sell 1 million T-shirts. The money raised will help fund the HUGS and HOPE Club and the expansion of St. Jude's research laboratories.

Professional baseball player Ted May is stepping up to the plate to promote this effort so that St. Jude may expand and continue life-saving research and so that Hugs and Hope may continue sending goodie packages (called "happy mail") to hospitalized children.

Shirts come in adult and children's sizes and sell for $16 each.

To order shirts, visit the HUGS and HOPE web site at www.hugsandhope.com.

Long running winter event benefits scholarships

The year 2003 marks the 43rd anniversary of the Ice Fishing Derby, sponsored by the Northern Illinois Conservation Club. It is the longest continuously run winter event in the State of Illinois. This derby and winter festival will be held on Feb. 8 and 9, and they are going all out to make it better than ever. Fishing hours are Saturday 8 a.m.-4 p.m. and Sunday 7 a.m.-2 p.m.

Plan on bringing your family and friends to enjoy the carnival atmosphere. There will be games for the children, and prizes for each child. Hourly raffles are held both days. Come watch the fishermen register their catch of the hour hoping to win a prize for the smallest or the largest fish. When you get hungry, there's plenty of good food to buy at the Food Trailer. Sunday at 1 p.m., the Canine Unit from the Lake County Sheriff's Department will demonstrate their capabilities.

Satellites will be K & S Kempf's on Petite Lake in Antioch, Pink Harrison's on Pistakee Lake in McHenry and Sandbar on Lake Marie in Antioch. For more information on weather conditions, ice, parking, etc., please call these locations: L & P's Landing, 847-395-4704, Larry Paszkiet; K & S Kempf's, 847-395-2484, Kevin or Shari Kempf; Harrison's Resort, 815-385-0323, Mike Harrison; and Sandbar, 847-395-8990, Dan and Sheryl Nowak.

Hourly fishing prizes will be awarded in all ten categories at each claiming station. The largest fish caught overall in each category during the derby will receive a $100 cash prize. In addition, the largest fish caught at each station (regardless of species) overall will receive a $100 cash prize. The hourly and overall $25 cash prize for smallest fish caught will be handled the same as largest. A bonus prize will be given for releasing of games fish. Ties will split the prize. Rules for the derby are available at all claiming stations (Channel Lake, Petite Lake, Pistakee Lake and Lake Marie).

Lake County Scholarships

The auction to be held at the end of the derby on Sunday, Feb. 9, is always one of the highlights, and this year should be better than ever. Dodge of Antioch has donated a good used vehicle this year, and there will be a good variety of quality items. There will be both adult and kids auctions (only children under 12 can bid).

This fundraiser allows us to provide one $500 scholarship to a CLC student and one $500 scholarship to a McHenry Community College student as well as continue to educate, preserve and protect the wetlands and open space on the club grounds.

Teacher mini-grants offered

Public school teachers in the northeastern Lake County area are invited to apply for mini-grants of up to $1,000 from the Ruth Hathorne Memorial Project. Now in its thirteenth year, the project, sponsored by the Waukegan Area Association of University Women, will award one or more grants totaling $1,000 for creative proposals involving the teaching of international relations.

To be eligible, applicants must teach in the following communities: Waukegan, North Chicago, Zion, Winthrop Harbor, Gurnee, Lake Villa, Lindenhurst, Millburn, Round Lake, Antioch and Grayslake. Applications have been sent to schools in these areas and are also available from the project coordinator at 847-336-1795. They must be submitted by March 1. Proposals are evaluated on originality and creativity as well as potential impact on students.

The project honors Ruth Hathorne, a charter member of the Waukegan Area AAUW who died in 1985. Hathorne taught in Waukegan schools and served on the school board for many years. Because she was concerned about world peace, the fellowship stipulates that grant money be used in public schools for projects which enhance students' understanding of other countries and their cultures.

Robert Morris College Scholarship covers tuition

Over 55? Are you a Lake County firefighter or police officer with a child ready for college? A sailor at Great Lakes? If you answer 'yes' to any of these questions, you've spent a lot of time and effort working for the benefit of others. Now, it's your turn to be on the receiving end. A full scholarship awaits selected students at the new Robert Morris College Lake County campus in Waukegan. By enrolling in one of the College's full-time degree programs, which start in September, 2003, a select number of students can attend college tuition-free after applying for financial aid.

Robert Morris College offers bachelor's and associate degrees in business administration, computer studies, art and graphic design and health studies.

Providing tuition benefits to the children of firefighters and police officers, as well as to Great Lakes enlisted personnel, is another way of saying thank you for the life of service that each of these careers require. There will be a limited number of scholarships available and they are offered on a first come, first served basis. Interested students must submit the FASFA form during the application process, and an essay will be required of fire fighter and police officer dependants. The College will cover tuition costs over and above any financial aid received for those receiving the scholarships. The deadline for application is April 1, 2003. Interested students can apply in person at Robert Morris College, 1507 N. Waukegan Road in Waukegan or call for an appointment at 800-709-7179. For additional information on scholarships available at any Robert Morris College campus, contact Judy Krause, director of scholarships, 312-935-4238. For more information call 1-800-225-1520 or visit RMC's web site at www.robertmorris.edu.

SPECIAL EVENT

Children's Museum fund-raiser precedes condo sneak peek

A sneak preview of the first phase in developing the Waukegan Harbor area will be held following a fundraiser for the new Waukegan Lakefront Children's Museum on Thursday, Feb. 6, at the Waukegan Yacht Club.

This also will be the first opportunity for people to place their name on a First Choice Preference List for those interested in acquiring one of the initial lakefront condominiums to be built there.

The Children's Museum fundraiser will be held from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Live music, wine and hors d'oeuvres will be featured. A minimum donation of $25 per person would be appreciated. The Historic Carnegie 1903 Library Building is owned by the Carnegie Preservation Project, Inc. and is a proposed location for the Waukegan Lakefront Children's Museum at Sheridan Road and Washington Street.

A sneak preview of the Harbor Place Condominiums will be held from 7-30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. This project will be the first of approximately 340 condos to be built just west of the Yacht Club.

There will not be a charge to attend the condo preview although people who were not at the fundraiser will be asked to donate $25 to the Children's Museum if they want to be on the condo preference list.

The public is invited to the fundraiser and sneak preview, hosted by the Waukegan Lakefront Development Corporation and Harbor Place Condominiums. A reservation, while not required, would be appreciated by calling 847-855-4339 or faxing to 847-855-4502. The Yacht Club is located at the harbor east of Sheridan Road and the downtown railroad tracks in Waukegan. Information can be viewed at www.waukeganlakefront.com and for the museum at 847-336-6703.

MEETING

Support group

The Advocates for FMS Support Group is offering a Special Presentation at their next meeting on Saturday, Feb. 1. The Medical Director of the Paragon Clinic, Michael McNett, MD, will be giving a talk about their approach to treating fibromyalgia. The Paragon Clinic, in the northwest Chicago area, is devoted solely to the treatment of fibromyalgia and muscular pain. The staff is committed to finding and treating the perpetuating factors causing the chronic pain of fibromyalgia, rather than treating patients with medications only. Reservations are recommended. A small donation is requested but not required. Any proceeds will go towards AFFTER's mission to improve the lives of those with fibromyalgia. For more information, call 847-362-7807.

MUSIC

CLC faculty recital

The College of Lake County in Grayslake will hold a faculty recital at 4 p.m. on Feb. 2 in the Studio Theatre in the Performing Arts Building on the Grayslake Campus.

Admission to the recital, which will feature works by Chopin, Beethoven, Debussy and others, is free. Artists who will be featured include pianists Olga Bornavalova, Kathleen Whitmer Cizewski, Pamela Jones and Thomas Purnell; saxophonist Andrew Carpenter; sopranos Carolyn Rose-Rynex and Carolyn Niehoff; and guest violinist Ed Wilcox.

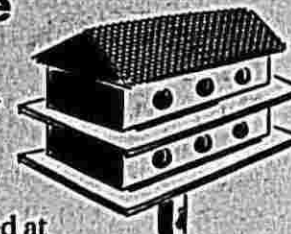

Chicago Symphony Orchestra

The CSO Chamber Music Series at The Art Institute of Chicago explores the links between music and visual arts Sunday, Feb. 2, at 2 p.m. in the Fullerton Auditorium, Art Institute of Chicago. Each performance includes an introductory discussion and slide presentation, as well as a post-concert guided gallery tour. This concert is part of the "Reflections" series, which focuses on established art and landmark works of chamber music. Tickets are $9-$18 and can be purchased by calling 800-223-7114.

NATURE

Build a birdhouse

Welcome birds into your backyard by building a birdhouse. The Lake County Audubon Society will meet Monday, Feb. 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the Libertyville Township Office Meeting Room, located at 359 Merrill Court, Libertyville. Bring a hammer to the meeting and your newsletter as proof of Audubon membership. Cost of the birdhouse kit is $3 for Audubon members and $6 for non-members. Second kits, if available, will be $6 for both members and nonmembers alike. For more information, or directions, call 847-362-0472.

SPECIAL EVENT

Come listen to some jazz and drink some great, thoughtfully selected wines. Remember to mark your calendar. For more information, call 847-566-1000. Or visit the website www.vinrougeinc.com.

CLASSES

Project management skills

If you are asked to be a project team member or manage projects at work, a course being offered through the College of Lake County's Continuing Education Department can help.

The course, Project Management Essentials (CPRO 22-2201), will prepare those working on projects to carry out their responsibilities by focusing on the concept that project management is people management, explaining how projects are different from other types of business activities, and discussing how to use computer software to build and manage projects. The course starts Feb. 3 and will be held Mondays through March 24, 6-9 p.m. For further information, call 847-543-2829.

OUTDOOR ACTIVITY

Fishing enthusiasts, take note!

The McHenry County Conservation District has opened five of its sites to ice fishing for the winter. Licensed anglers can try their luck at the Hollows Conservation Area on Route 14 in Cary, at Rush Creek Conservation Area on McGuire Road in Harvard, Lyons Prairie and Marsh on Hickory Nut Grove Road in Cary, the ponds at Fel-Pro RRR on Crystal Lake Ave in Cary, and at the Stickney Run Conservation Area on State Park Road in McHenry. To avoid possible accidents, MCCC closes all of its lakes and ponds when surface ice begins to form. The MCCC sites that have been designated for ice fishing open once the depth requirement of four inches of clear ice has been met. Closures due to thin ice conditions are strictly enforced; please obey the posted signs. For more information, call 815-338-6223.

WORKSHOPS

Writing outside the lines

The Ragdale Foundation presents a six-week journal writing workshop from Thursday Feb. 6 - Thursday, March 13. Classes are from 7 p.m. - 9 p.m. and meet at the Ragdale House Living Room, 1230 North Green Bay Rd., Lake Forest. Barbara Hurwitz, a clinical psychologist will start you on a voyage in which you will become reacquainted with yourself, listen to your inner experiences and learn how to create new meaning from old life events. Ideal for all levels of writers who want to discover more about who they are while developing more ways to manage their lives. You will need a spiral notebook and a favorite pen to take with you on your journey. Space is limited to 14 participants and to register call, 847-234-1063 ext. 205.

Screenwriting seminar

The Screenwriters Group will be offering a free screenwriting seminar Sunday, Feb. 2 at 1803 West Bryon St. in Chicago. The seminar will be conducted by Dan Miers, director of The Screenwriters Group, from 1 p.m. - 3 p.m. Sandi Stevenson's screenplay, "Santa and the Princess," which was developed in class at The Screenwriters Group in Chicago, went on to win the Illinois/Chicago Screenwriting competition and a contract with a Hollywood producer. The Screenwriters Group helps the students get their scripts sold or produced. For more information, call 773-665-8500.

Pump up creative juices

The Chain O' Lakes Area ArtWorks Children's Museum in Ingleside will continue parent-child workshops through the winter months. These workshops are held every Tuesday and Thursday each week unless otherwise noted. The workshops are free with your admission or membership and are available all day. Some mornings there may be a story time to coincide with your project. ArtWorks is located at 130 Washington St. in Ingleside. For more information, call White at 847-587-7882. Dates and topics for workshops: Feb. 4 and 6: Do a collage about Illinois in the shape of the state; Feb. 11 and 13: Make Valentine boxes and cards for people you love; Feb. 18 and 20: George Washington's birthday, make a cherry tree; Feb. 25 and 27: Use a bottle to create a tapered candleholder.

CLC to salute gospel music Feb. 8

An Eclectic View of Gospel Music" will be the theme for the College of Lake County's 19th Annual Salute to Gospel Music, which will be held at 7 p.m. Feb. 8 in the Mainstage Theatre of the Performing Arts Building on the Grayslake Campus. Tickets are $10 for the general public and $8 for CLC students/staff/alumni members and children under 12.

The program will open with a performance by the CLC Gospel Choir, directed by Mark Cooley, followed by the guest artists of Core & Company, whose repertoire will include such familiar offerings as "Song For You," "Optimistic," "Bridge Over Troubled Water" and "I'll Take You There," as well as original songs and contemporary hits. Core's "Company" includes Sisters Cotton and a talented group of musicians whose resumes include "Sounds of Blackness," singer R. Kelly, Kirk Franklin and more.

The program will also feature the 2003 Harambee Award of Excellence, which will be presented to pastors E. James and Deborah Logan of Christian Faith Fellowship Church of Zion.

For tickets, call the CLC box office at 847-543-2300.

Home-Outdoor Expo to welcome spring

Each and every year Lakeland residents try to keep warm, hoping that Old Man Winter will soon go away. Sure enough, each and every year he does just that. In fact, with eight short weeks left of winter, spring is just around the corner.

In Lake County, the unofficial kick-off to spring the last three years has been Home and Outdoor Living Expo, held each February at the Lake County Fairgrounds. Last year saw more than 10,000 area residents attending.

Lake County's Home and Outdoor Living Expo will be Saturday, Feb. 16 and Sunday, Feb. 17. Families get to do more than dream, as more than 150 booths are on display to either give home improvement advice or offer their products or services.

Whether someone is looking to add another room, remodel the basement, expand their deck or improve their landscaping, they are sure to find the right people at the Home Expo to help them with their task. Plumbers, electricians, spa dealers, window and wall experts and hundreds of other businesses are available to answer questions, with many giving great off-season rates.

Lakeland Media is proud to be the official media sponsor of the 2003 Lake County Home and Outdoor Living Expo. Look for the official Expo program to be inserted in your Feb. 14 edition of Lakeland Newspapers on the Feb. 10 issue of the Market Journal. It will contain even more information on the expo, as well as free admission coupon.

Hearts for Homeless benefit to be held in Hoffman Estates

In response to President Bush's request for faith-based groups to support the needy, Catholic Charities' Northwest Suburban Services will host its 14th annual Hearts for Homeless Families in Transition benefit. "Love, American Style" is the theme for this year's annual party, the major fundraising event for the Catholic Charities' Northwest Suburban Shelter Program, which is based in Des Plaines. The 3rd annual Stephen O'Brien-Combs "Heart of Charity" award will be presented to Sister Lorraine Menheer, director of Pastoral Care and Project Hope for St. Anne Catholic Community. She will be honored for her immense contributions to the poor, unemployed and homeless in the northwest suburbs. Honored guests are Reverend Michael M. Boland, administrator of Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Chicago; and John R. Powers, inspirational speaker from Lake Geneva, who will serve as emcee. Mr. Powers is an author, playwright and co-producer of "Do Black Patent Leather Shoes Really Reflect Up?"

Patriotic colors will salute guests as they are welcomed at 5:30 p.m. on Saturday, Feb. 15, at Stonegate Conference & Banquet Centre, 2401 W. Higgins Road in Hoffman Estates. Valet parking is available. A complimentary cocktail reception, review and bidding on the parade of prizes and extravagant silent auction items will be followed by a four-course dinner with wine. As desserts are served, singer/actor Mark Brink, auctioneer extraordinaire from Chicago, will be gearing up his vocal chords for the live auction.

Cost of benefit ticket including complimentary bar is $100 ($45 tax deductible). Please respond by Feb. 7 to: Hearts for Homeless Families c/o Catholic Charities NW Suburban Services, 1717 Rand Rd., Des Plaines, IL 60016.

Gala chairperson is Patty O'Brien, Mt. Prospect. Her committee members include past chairperson Cynthia Boho, Spring Grove; Carole Simone, Northbrook; Diane Breman, Mt. Prospect; Mark Cramer, Hoffman Estates; Marianne and William Dahlborn, Tom Dahlborn, and Barb Shay, Palatine; Helen Leadley, Anne Marie Saterus and Nancy Kordecki, Arlington Heights; Donna Hoffman, Des Plaines; Kathleen Kelley and Denise Kendra Chicago; Diane Kordecki and Meg Zirkelbach, Vernon Hills; Carol Marsh and Glenne McMonigal, Crystal Lake; Catherine Mura, Barrington; Pat Szymonik, Elmwood Park; and Sandra Yates, Rolling Meadows.

Some of the many raffle, silent and live auction items include Royal Caribbean cruise to Bahamas; St. Nicholas Ball tickets; Bear footballs autographed by Urlacher, Sayers, Butkus, Hampton and Singletary; Cub items autographed by Jenkins and Williams; two-hour Lake Geneva cruise on the Diamond Lady, a 58-foot Bluewater Yacht; lunch with John Powers at Gordy's Waterfront Boat House, Fontana, Wis.; outings at Six Flags Great America, A Day at the Races in the Million Room at Arlington Park; Buddy Guy's Legends, Spirit of Chicago and Noah's Ark Family Park in the Dells; and overnights at The Westin, Chicago Hilton, Hyatt, Drury Inn and Marriott, as well as lawn and garden items, clothing, jewelry, casino, dinner, theater, sports, city and country getaway packages.

For more information on the benefit or the Catholic Charities' NW Suburban Services, phone 847-376-2100.

'A Celebration of Praise' kicks off arts festival in Milwaukee

The 2003 International Arts Festival, celebrating African/African American arts and cultures, opens with a special event, "A Celebration of Praise" Feb. 5 beginning at 5:30 p.m. at the Marcus Center for the Performing Arts.

This festival was conceived and established as a showcase for local arts and artists to highlight their strengths and reflect the diversity of Milwaukee. Each year a specific culture or country is highlighted, and this year's culture is African/African American. The participating groups are not required to take on the highlighted theme, but are required to have an international focus. The 2003 festival will feature presentations by over 35 different groups during the six weeks of the festival.

The entire Marcus Center will come alive with the sights, sounds and tastes of the African/African American cultures. An array of entertainment includes Milwaukee High School of the Arts' Choir, Jazz Sextet, Brothers of Kwanza and Oceans of Soul; Marshall High School's Omo-ana-Children of the Spirit of the Drum; Bayview High School's Concert Choir; Tanya Reed and Mary Hendrix's drumming group, the Royal Rhythm Section and Dasha Kelly's dramatic and powerful poetics. Food samplings from the African Hut, Henry and Bobbie's Bungalow, Speed Queen Bar-B-Que, Sunday's Appetizers, Lula's Café and Linda's Catering will be available.

As part of the festivities, a marketplace will feature various artisans sell their wares. Many of the arts organizations participating in this year's festival will also be on hand promoting their upcoming events. A fashion show, "Crown of Glory" presented by Kinetic Energy Dance Group from Washington High School, will focus on the history of hats.

The evening will conclude in Uihlein Hall at 8 p.m. with a musical extravaganza highlighting local gospel choirs including Carthage College Gospel Messengers, Greater New Birth Full Gospel Church Choir, St. Matthew Christian Methodist Episcopal Church and Youth Leadership Academy Boys Choir. The featured performance group of the evening is Kurt Carr and the Kurt Carr Singers, a nationally known gospel group that offers powerful, exciting and uplifting music.

Various ticket packages are $20-$50, available at the Maracuz Center Box Office, 929 N. Water Street, Milwaukee, Wis., or by calling 414-273-7206; Toll free 1-888-612-3500. For more information visit www.onmilwaukee.com/internationalarts-festival.

Enduring 'The Fantasticks' still a crowd-pleaser

Theater provides many examples of the universal appeal of a love story. One of the most popular, "The Fantasticks," traces its roots to May 1960 – and it's still going strong.

The musical comedy, with such evergreen songs as "Try To Remember" and "I Can See It," is now enjoying a well-deserved remounting at Chicago's Mercury Theatre.

James Harms directs the Pegasus Players, a group that initially performed the show last fall at the O'Rourke Center for the Performing Arts. In between, "The Fantasticks" troupe, led by executive director Arlene Crewdson, successfully toured Egypt.

Based on a book by Tom Jones and music by Harvey Schmidt, "The Fantasticks" takes its time in Act I setting up a storybook romance between two starry-eyed neighbors, Luisa (Rebecca Reeve) and Matt (Chris Tuttle). Their respective fathers seem to understand more of the basics of gardening (when you plant a cucumber seed, you get a cucumber) than child-rearing (too many surprises!). They have resorted to reverse psychology in order to bring the young people together. They feigned hostility and built a wall to separate their gardens.

To assure success, they hired El Gallo (Dan Zakarija), a professional bandit/actor, and two zany helpers to stage a mock abduction of Luisa, complete with swordplay so that an unsuspecting Matt could shine as a brave rescuer.

By Act II, a dose of the real world has had its impact. Instead of beguiling moonlight, the lovers meet under a glaring sun, and things deteriorate from "scenic" to "cynic." Soon Matt dashes off to chase some of the glitter the world has to offer but quickly learns tough lessons about sorrow and disappointment, similar lessons that Luisa comes to know at home. Ultimately, the couple, older and wiser, reunite.

Reeve and Tuttle reveal appealing singing voices. We liked the singing and acting of Brett Owen and Bob Pries, who played the two fathers. And the comedies goings-on provided by sidekicks Henry Michael Odum and Rus Rainear were nicely timed and right on target.

The costumes, from sensible to outrageous, added pizzazz. See "The Fantasticks" through Feb. 23. Ticket information is available at 773-325-1700.

"Confessions of a Dangerous Mind", starring George Clooney, and Sam Rockwell.

Director

George Clooney

Sam Rockwell, Drew Barrymore, Julia Roberts, George Clooney

Chuck Barris, the creator of TV shows such as "The Dating Game" and "The Gong Show," claims in his memoirs, now a movie, that he was recruited by CIA agent Jim Byrd (George Clooney) to become an off the books assassin. Barris (Sam Rockwell) alleges that by the time he got out of the CIA, he had murdered 33 people. He certainly killed 'em on his schlock TV series.

As Barry started to discover his quirky creative side, he got a pilot accepted for "The Dating Game." It was not picked up, and while out of work he was recruited by CIA Agent Byrd. Only later did he learn that his undercover assignment was to be an assassin.

Chuck's main lady was Penny (Drew Barrymore), who put up with his oddball personality and habits, and even later when she caught him making love with CIA agent Patricia (Julia Roberts).

Barris was indeed in two different worlds, and his progression toward insanity was palpable. This is an odd film that is hard to explain, yet easy to follow when you are looking at it. When Barris is told that he fits the profile of what the CIA is looking to recruit, he doesn't get it that he is the opposite of what one would think a CIA agent would look and act like. The line "Jesus Christ was dead and resurrected by 33, so you better get cracking" was priceless. It's Byrd's way of telling him that it's way past time to get it in gear. Also unforgettable was a scene on "The Dating Game" when a woman chooses a "dork," after passing over two well known faces that would be, by almost any single woman, the dream date.

Sam Rockwell has been added to George's list of candidates for best actor this year, as this is clearly a breakout role for him. Julia Roberts and Drew Barrymore are two women with very different relationships to Barris. One wins and the other loses. Barris goes through most of his life out of control, while staying inside his driving lane. Or so it seems.

These films are currently playing at local theaters. More reviews of these and other films can be found under Current Movie Reviews and Future Films at www.reelmoviecritic.com.

Opening This Week

Biker Boyz: Laurence Fishburne tries to retain his Hell's Angels image and motorcycle title. Derek Luke (Antwone Fisher), Lisa Bonet, Orlando Jones, Larenz Tate co-star.

Final Destination 2: Teen slasher flick. Usual, er...date movie. A.J. Cook.

The Guru: Aspiring actor from India finds that in America, the road is not paved in gold. This comedy features Heather Graham, Marisa Tomei and Jimi Mistry.

Phantom of Liberty, The (Gene Siskel Center): Classic surrealist film by Luis Bunuel. Restored. Only till Feb 6. Not on video.

Still Playing

City of God ★★★★★: An intense new experience disguised as a movie, is the sprawling story of gangs, drugs, corruption and redemption, set over a few decades amidst the turbulent backdrop of Rio de Janeiro's slums. On the top 10 lists for George, Pam and Roger Ebert. Described by Ebert as a "near masterpiece."

Max: John Cusack is an art dealer that meets aspiring artist and political activist Adolf Hitler (Noah Taylor). They become friends...sort of.

Talk to Her

Fresh Comedy Sucks You Up

Funeral Fred Barlow (Jeff Daniels) grieves over the loss of his mother and her Super Sucker.

Super Sucker

R
Sexual Content

Director

Jeff Daniels

Jeff Daniels, Harve Presnell

At the recent US Comedy Arts Festival, "Super Sucker" was the winner of the Audience Award for Best Feature. In the fictitious Midwestern town of Johnson City, two competitive door-to-door vacuum cleaner sales teams often have a contest where the winners have steak dinners bought by the losers, who have to eat a large bowl of beans. After a small riot breaks out in a restaurant between the two teams, the district manager decides to have a 30-day contest, in which the prize is an exclusive territory for the winner. That means, winner takes all!

The competing sales managers are Fred Barlow (Jeff Daniels of "Dumb and Dumber"), and Winslow Schnaebelt (Harve Presnell of "Mr. Deeds"). The passion they have for their job and to make the sale, by providing real value and a bit of entertainment thrown in, almost makes you want someone to come knocking on your door hustling you to accept the offer of the day.

Winslow's group is off to a fast start and appears to be the certain winner, until Fred discovers a unique use for a vacuum cleaner attachment that dramatically changes the sexual dynamics in one's bedroom.

More than just punch lines, the dialogue tells a story which tends to have multiple interpretations. You get a chance to laugh during the film - and even later. It contains some of the funniest sexual innuendo humor George has seen in a long time.

Some of you will be familiar with Jeff's Daniels in "Escanaba." Folks are always telling us they are looking for something fresh. This is it. Indie films like this must be supported during the first two "weekends" for them to stay in theaters, and for the filmmakers to get funding for future projects. It's during those times that the decision is made about the film's future. It opened last week, so if you are thinking about seeing it, now is the time.

In spite of the lack of snow, over 400 people gathered at Volo Bog State Natural Area's WinterFest on Sunday, Jan. 12. The crowd enjoyed live music, bog tours and winter crafts, and the announcement of the winners of Volo Bog's 16th Annual Nature Photo Contest. The contest is sponsored by the Friends of Volo Bog and Volo Bog State Natural Area, an Illinois Department of Natural Resources site located in Ingleside.

Eighty-six prints were judged by Volo Bog visitors from November through mid-January. First through third-place ribbons were awarded in each of six different categories. Plaques were presented to the first-place winners in each. The "Best of Show," determined by votes, and a "Technical Excellence" award, determined by a panel of judges, also received ribbons and plaques. The winners were:

Best of Show: Howard Phillips of Palatine "Visitor to Montrose"

Color Plant: 1st Place - Tom Lowden of Crystal Lake, "Wild Iris 3" 2nd Place - Edith Sieg of Libertyville, "Icy Dew" 3rd Place Tie - K.Z. Hong of Long Grove, "Summer of 2002" and Edith Sieg of Libertyville, "Autumn Splendor"

Color Animal: 1st Place - Tom Maple of Ingleside, "Cardinal Rule" 2nd Place - Tammy Rusch of Round Lake, "Untitled" 3rd Place - Tammy Rusch of Round Lake, "Untitled"

Color Landscape: 1st Place - Tom Lowden of Crystal Lake, "Tranquil Grotto" 2nd Place - Tammy Rusch, "Untitled" 3rd Place - Ellen Dallas, "Reflections"

Black & White: 1st Place - Walter Centeno of Chicago, "Cotton Waters" 2nd Place - James Seplak of Fox Lake, "Lily Lake Lily" 3rd Place - Walter Centeno of Chicago, "Reverse Reflection"

Kids' Pics: 1st Place - Ryan Lyerly of Libertyville, "Sharp Spider" 2nd Place - Eric Lyerly of Libertyville, "Spider" Digital: 1st Place - Tom Maple of Ingleside, "American Beauty - Goldfinch" 2nd Place - Howard Phillips of Palatine, "Visitor to Montrose" 3rd Place - Joel Orlinsky of Ingleside, "Come Play With Me" Technical Excellence: Tom Maple of Ingleside, "Cardinal Rule"

Entry forms for the 17th Annual Volo Bog Nature Photo Contest will be available soon. Call 815-344-1294 to be put on the list to receive a form.

'Out of the Bog: A Living Tradition'

Sunday, Feb. 2, 2-3 p.m.

Twenty-five years ago Connie Scanlon and James Fraher traveled to Ireland for a one year sabbatical. A year grew into two, and, in the spring of 1978, the pair donned Wellington boots and with their locally made turf spade and spreading fork spent a month on a bog harvesting peat for the coming winter. And so began the deepening of their connection to the culture and traditions of their ancestors. "Out of the Bog" features photographs taken on Irish bogs in Counties Sligo, Galway, Donegal and Offaly with a personal memoir of Scanlon and Fraher's experiences hand-cutting turf in County Sligo. James Fraher will also share his recent photographic project documenting the International Sculpture Symposium that took place in September 2002 at the Lough Boora Parklands bog in County Offaly, Ireland.

The peat bog is an ancient place where water and earth combine over thousands of years to form a rich, organic archive. Although today we realize the importance of bogland preservation, for generations peat (turf) was harvested in Ireland and burned for fuel and warmth. Tidhigh An Phorta "fire on the bog" evokes the paradox of fire and water, earth and air - the image of a slow burning fire, difficult to extinguish. With these images in mind, Scanlon and Fraher chose the name "Bogfire" to represent their creative endeavors. From graphic design and photography to traditional music and cultural exhibits, Bogfire strives to celebrate the creative spirit.

Volo Bog State Natural Area is pleased and honored to host Scanlon and Fraher for an hour-long presentation geared to adults and youths age 10 and up. Reservations are required; please phone 815-344-1294. The Ameritech Relay # for hearing impaired is 800-526-0844.

One-hour guided tours of Volo Bog are held each Saturday and Sunday at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. at Volo Bog State Natural Area (SNA).

These informal tours are designed for individuals and families to help visitors enjoy the wonders of winter while learning about one of Illinois' most unique wetlands. Wetlands plants such as winterberry holly, tamarack pines and leatherleaf stand prominent against winter's starkness. The snow-covered pond at Volo Bog's center becomes a slate etched in tracks of deer, rabbit, mink, fox and even coyote as visiting northern birds add quiet winter songs.

No reservations are needed for individuals and small groups. All ages are welcome. Groups of 10 or more are asked to please phone 815-344-1294 for special arrangements. The Ameritech relay number for the hearing impaired is 1-800-526-0844.

The following are free programs offered this winter at Volo Bog SNA, located on Brandenburg Road in Ingleside, west of U.S. Route 12 between routes 120 and 134. Most require reservations, unless otherwise noted. Call Volo Bog SNA at 815-344-1294 for more information.

"Of Books and Bogs" meets the first Thursday of each month. The next meeting is Feb. 6, from 7-8:30 p.m. This group is small and informal, sharing coffee and snacks as well as discussions and readings from the book. Books selected for discussion range from contemporary to classic and are chosen by those attending the sessions. Previous books include "Walden" by Henry David Thoreau, "Silent Spring" by Rachel Carson, "Of Wolves and Men" by Barry Lopez and "Desert Solitaire" by Edward Abbey.

"Of Bogs and Books" will discuss "The Voyage of the Beagle" by Charles Darwin on Feb. 6. The group meets at the Volo Bog Reference Library. Reservations are required.

The Shutter Bugs nature photography club meets the third Wednesday of the month except December. Meetings include how-to workshops, guest speakers and competitions. Non-members are welcome to attend, but membership is required to compete. Ages 16 to adult are welcome.

Artist Diana Maxwell will team up with Iwanicki to take a look at the mythology, ecology and the beauty of the world of the coyote. Among stories and discussions, participants will sketch from models including the site's "resident" mounted coyote, a coyote skull, a deer skull and more. The program is from 12:30 - 3 p.m. on Feb. 9. Volo Bog will provide all art materials. Ages 11 to adult are welcome. Reservations are required.

Pictured during a planning meeting for Barrington Lyric's "Mardi Gras Murder Mystery Dinner" are committee members, from left, Diane Johnson from Arlington Heights; Todd Sholeen from Barrington; program co-chair Maureen Brown from Deer Park; forefront Anne Gross from Inverness. Not pictured is program co-chair Wanda Hollensteiner from North Barrington.

In celebration of Verdi's "Masked Ball" presented this season at Lyric Opera of Chicago, His Royal Highness King Gustav of Barrington Chapter of Lyric Opera of Chicago begs the honor of your presence at a "Mardi Gras Murder Mystery Dinner" on Saturday, Feb. 8. A dastardly crime has been committed back stage at The Metropolis Ballroom, 6 South Vail St. in Arlington Heights. The plot will unfold during the 5 p.m. cocktail hour and thickens during dinner with wine. The cost is $85 per person - free valet parking and cash bar. Reservations are limited. Please respond by Feb. 1 with checks payable to BCLOC c/o Susanne Wells, 225 Timber Ridge, Barrington 60010. For more information, please phone 847-382-2613. Mardi Gras masks, costumes or cocktail attire would be appropriate.

This promises to be an evening of suspense and intrigue in which all guests are invited to participate. Suspects will be chosen from attending guests. In the spirit of the occasion, you are invited to observe the drama unfold from behind the privacy of your favorite mask. Each table will be its own detective agency in solving the dreadful crime.

For inquiries on Barrington Chapter membership, please phone George Obermaier 847-985-0837.

Please visit Barrington Chapter's web site at <http://nsn.nslsilus.org/bakhome/Lyric>. You may also visit Lyric Opera of Chicago's web site: www.lyricopera.org.

hospital surgery room, their own pharmacies, which dispense only the highest quality of pet medicine, their own labs, which test blood and other samples exactly the same as human hospitals and their own X-ray equipment with lead-lined walls, again the same as a human hospital's X-ray center. Pam said Banfield surgery rooms feature the safest anesthesia system, which is actually the exact same anesthesia used on President Bush's recent surgery.

Banfield concentrates on preventive care, encouraging pet parents to bring their animals in twice a year, as opposed to other hospitals, which only recommend one visit a year. Pam said because animals age six to ten years for a human's every one year, a 30-year-old pet could be 40 years old the next time it is seen on an annual visit, so it's comparable to a human not seeing a doctor for 10 years.

Pam said a study produced results that found animals treated at Banfield hospitals live one and one-half times longer than animals treated at other animal hospitals something that only reinforces Banfield's vision.

However, bringing a pet to a veterinarian twice a year can become quite costly.

"We know it's a large bullet to bite," Pam said.

Banfield hospitals concentrate on keeping the costs of veterinary care down by several means. Dr. Campbell noticed affordability as a barrier to pet care, so he developed payment plans for pet parents, called Optimum Wellness Plans. There are four plans, which range in care offered and costs, Pam said, because different pets require different care. The primary care plan, for example, includes annual vaccinations and two comprehensive physical exams per year. A one-time, lifetime membership fee of $69.95 is charged and so is a monthly charge of $11.95. All office visits are included in the fees, saving pet parents a minimum of $280.00 per year on their pet's health care. Pet parents who enroll in the primary plan also save 5 percent on any other services not included in the plan, such as surgeries or dental cleanings.

Pam added that Banfield's operating costs are the same as any other pet hospital's costs.

"The logical way to reduce costs is to see more patients without reducing the quality of care," Pam said. "So we support our doctors with twice as many experienced professionals as other pet hospitals."

The hospitals encourage drop-offs for convenience so pet parents aren't stuck waiting in the hospital.

Banfield hospitals also pride themselves on educating pet parents about pet healthcare. Banfield produces brochures on nearly every disease that may afflict pets. Also, some visits can last as short as 15 minutes. If pet parents are waiting, they are encouraged to watch one of the hundreds of short educational videos produced by Banfield, which focus on all pet disorders from obesity to heartworms. Banfield hopes to put an end to euthanasia by educating pet owners how to properly care for their pets so they can live longer.

There are currently 16 Banfield's in the Chicagoland area. The Gurnee addition is the first in Lake County. But every PETsMART in the country has a naked shell of a Banfield pet hospital inside, so the development of more Banfields in the area is a definite possibility.

Because all Banfields are set up exactly the same and held to the same high standards, patients can easily transfer.

"If you're visiting somewhere or moving, you can easily go to another Banfield and know everything will always be done the right way," Pam said.

Pam, who hasn't worked in several years by choice, is now working 14 or more hours a day to run her new hospital. But, she said, she couldn't be happier with her decision to return to work.

"What is really very special to us is the whole foundation - we treat our pets like they are our children," Pam said. "We really believe in practicing veterinary medicine that enhances the bond between pets and their owners. It's really cool to be in an atmosphere you know is the right place to be. Plus, it's just so fun to play with those kittens and puppies. There's nothing better than puppy kisses."

For more information about the Gurnee Banfield, call 847-856-6690. For more locations and other information about Banfield, visit their web site at www.banfield.net.

LOCAL DIGEST

Public hearing held for Village bonds

The Village of Antioch will have a public hearing on Feb. 3 at 7:30 p.m. and just prior to its regular board meeting as the 1996 Corporate Bonds are due to expire.

Village administrator Mike Haley said funds from these bonds are needed to upgrade and replace technology and engineering, as well as to bring public facilities up to federal code to accommodate those with disabilities.

MFT money made available for road repair

The board of directors of the Village of Antioch approved the use of an additional $41,000 of Motor Fuel Tax funds for road repair for the 2002 fiscal year.

"These funds can only be used for road projects with the approval of the board," said Haley. "The board already approved the use of $50,000, but we need more."

For the fiscal year 2003, $75,000 has been slated for use.

Daddy/daughter dance tickets on sale

For those who would like to take their sweethearts out for an evening of fun, the daddy/daughter dance is scheduled in February.

The event is to take place on Feb. 8 from 7-9 p.m., and is held at the Antioch Upper Grade School. The doors will not open until 6:45 p.m. The cost is $10 per couple for residents and $5 for an additional daughter attending.

Tickets become available to non-residents on Jan. 20. The cost is $20 per couple, but the price for an additional daughter remains $5. The last day to buy tickets is Feb. 7 (if tickets are still available).

Tickets will be available at the parks office located at 806 Holbek St. early in January. The phone number is 847-395-2160.

Parent University returns for spring session

There is no degree that certifies one to be a parent, yet it is the most important role in life. Parent University is scheduled to return on March 15 at 9 a.m. at the Antioch Community High School.

There will be break out sessions (10:15am - 11:15 & 11:30 - 12:30pm) on topics titled: 1-2-3 Magic; Divorce & the Impact on Youth; Strengthening Relationships; The Cure for the Common Curse; The Interim Year, Taking a Look at Taking Time Off; The Wonder Years; ADD/HD and Depression; and Brain Gym.

Advanced registration cost is $10.00 for the first family member and $5.00 for each additional member. Registration must be received by March 7, 2003. After March 7, registration at the door will cost an additional $5.00 per registrant. Registration fees include workshops, resource fair and continental breakfast.

If you have any questions please call Tim Noonan at ACHS 847-395-1421 extension 7644, or Chris Newton at Antioch Community Consolidated District 34 at 847-838-8400.

CPR classes held

The Antioch Rescue Squad and the Antioch Fire Dept. offer CPR classes to the public on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month at 6 p.m. at the Antioch Fire Dept. located at 835 Holbek Dr.

The fee of $5-$15 per person (depending on the class needed) is payable at the time of the class. For more information or to make reservations, call the Antioch Fire Dept. at 847-395-5511.

St. Peter's supports singles

St. Peter Church has a support group, St. Peter's Singles, that supports the emotional needs of those separated, divorced or widowed. The group meets on the second Monday of the month in the church basement.

All ages and denominations are welcome to attend the meetings.

Enter the church on the east side, back entrance. For more information, call either Deacon Bob Gagnon at 847-395-3024 (e-mail at deacongag@yahoo.com) or Patti Vavrina at 847-740-0417 (e-mail dioviacon@aol.com).

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mayor rebuts attacks

I would like to respond to recent letters written by Gregg Umek and Ralph Antonelli and published in the local newspapers. While I do read and contemplate the thoughts expressed in the letters these publications deem to publish, I do not usually respond to these letters directly. I realize criticism is part of the territory in any elected position and as mayor of Antioch, I do listen to all citizens who have a vision or idea of how they can constructively contribute to their local government. However, these letters recently published went beyond the spirit of constructive contribution to the local political landscape. Instead they were a malicious, ill informed, personal attack on my character, my honesty and my integrity. In particular, two words were used in these letters to describe me that I cannot let go without an immediate and sincere response.

Mr. Umek raised questions regarding campaign funding. My campaign finances are a matter of public record. Mr. Umek has access, as does every citizen of Antioch that I represent, to these records. There is a paper trail for all of my campaign funding. I have called Antioch home for over 30 years. Anyone who would think that I would sell out the village that I love for a small campaign contribution clearly has no idea who I am or what I am about.

I abhor political corruption. One of the principal reasons I settled in Antioch in 1973 was because of an absence of it here. Indeed, I left another Lake County municipality because of the political pressure put upon its business owners. I have not only prospered, but have gained a lifetime's worth of friendships.

In one particularly misinformed paragraph, Mr. Umek, calls me a "traitor." I would like to point out to Mr. Umek and to my actual constituents that when I was elected in May 2001, I inherited a village government awash in lawsuits, on the brink of bankruptcy and a village that not only had difficulty paying its bills, but also its payroll. In addition, the government I inherited had staff being investigated by the State's Attorney for monies misspent. In July of 2001, barely four months after being elected, my mother passed away in Greece. As much as I wanted to attend my mother's funeral, I did not go because of the obligation I felt to this village and to the office of mayor to address these problems for all citizens, whether they voted for me or not.

One year later, the village was still in litigation with Deercrest. Since there was not indication as to when we would be in court for a decision, I decided to take the time I gave up a year earlier and take my wife to not only visit my birthplace, but to also finally mourn the passing of my mother and to visit her gravesite. Perhaps if Mr. Umek had asked me what the circumstances were behind my trip, he would have had a better idea of what my character is all about.

To Mr. Antonelli's particularly malicious letter calling me a "fascist." Mr. Antonelli, I was a pre-teenager during the time when fascist Nazis and communist regimes were tearing up my birthplace and childhood home. I left that environment to come to America, where democratic values rule. Mr. Antonelli uses the word "fascist." I did not have such luxury of free speech when the real fascists overran my homeland. I would be glad to discuss fascism with him at any time of his choosing. You have a right to disagree with the decisions of this administration. However, that does not give you the right to make personal attacks upon my character. As a past member of the planning and zoning board, Mr. Antonelli, I would have expected a more dignified statement to voice your ideas and concerns. You really should know better.

All of the decisions that have been made by our administration have been made in the best interests of our residents and in the interests of fiscal responsibility. I am happy to say that this administration has righted the financial ship and village is now operating in the black.

Thank you all who have read this far. I appreciate you taking the time to allow me to respond to these attacks that I felt went over the line and vanquished the spirit in how we all can actively contribute to our local government. I also want to thank my family, friends and other local citizens who have offered their support after these personal attacks.

When I took the oath of office as mayor, I swore to serve the village with honesty and integrity. That will never change.

Taso Maravelas
Mayor, Village of Antioch

My position as an elected official has always been and will continue to be one of representing the best interests of you, the residents of the Village of Antioch. I stay on the side of caution when reviewing development proposals that come before our village board for approval, and ask questions whenever issues appear cloudy to me, or I feel are not clearly presented. I am in favor of growth within our community—it is critical to our survival, but it has to be smart growth and it has to be carefully planned.

I highly value the working relationship I have with the village board. A village board needs to be responsive and protective of its community. Whether you agree or disagree with decisions I have made, I will always welcome the opportunity to hear your views and concerns. Your valued input helps re-affirm your continued interest, support and genuine concern over our most prized attribute—the community Spirit of the Village of Antioch—our Home Town.

Barbara Porch
Village Trustee of Antioch
Antioch

Thank you

Just a note to thank all the kind people of Antioch. Wednesday, Jan. 22, we had a water main break on Main Street (Route 83). Because of the location and traffic, we had to begin the repairs in the evening and work into the early morning with temperatures below zero. It was truly heartwarming to have many passersby stopping with coffee, hot chocolate and doughnuts. Also stopping and offering assistance were Mayor Taso Maravelas, Rich Kufalk, Trustees, Larry Hanson and Bob Cauffield, Antioch police, rescue squad, and Lake County sheriff department. Last but not least, the Public Works crew for a job well done.

William Smith
Superintendent of Public Works
Antioch

Working to serve

I wish to express my sincere gratitude to the residents of Antioch, to both those "for" and those "against" the controversial GLP/Wal-Mart development. I was very impressed by the number of people who cared enough to attend our village board meetings, those who provided valid information, e-mailed the trustees, and those who gave their personal time to address the village board to voice their opinions and concerns.

LAST CALL

John Phelps

The bark is back

A prelude of things to come? It has its possibilities. It's been years since the Waukegan Bulldogs have made an appearance in its own sectional, of course, hosted for 35 out of the last 40 years at the storied East Gym.

That might change in about a month or so.

Don't look now, but there's a new breed of basketball being played in Waukegan.

The talent has always been there. But when the opposing team would build a lead to seemingly put the game out of reach in the past, the Bulldogs would drop their heads and lose their focus. The losses mounted.

Colbert

Not so this year.

First-year head coach Brian Colbert has instilled a new fire in this Bulldog bunch.

"The intensity is there in practice, and we've applied that same intensity when we get in game situations," said sophomore shooting guard Laron Frazier.

Frazier has been one of the reasons for the Dogs' new sense of urgency. His three-pointer in the second overtime session against a formidable New Trier squad, which made it to the Elite Eight in the State AA playoffs a year ago, gave the home team a 75-74 lead it would never look back on. The Bulldogs, with the "Dawg Pound" going nuts, wound up holding off the Trevs for a thrilling 78-74 victory.

Following his three-pointer, Frazier's presence yielded a steal and ultimately three-point play. Again, the intensity. Two seconds after the trey, Frazier salted the game with a steal and lay-up. He was also fouled, leading to a three-point play and icing on the cake.

"We just never gave up," said Frazier, who scored 12 of his 20 points in the two overtime periods.

If it wasn't Frazier, the Dogs found they could rely on junior guard Dane Cruz. With 1.6 seconds left in the first overtime and Waukegan trailing 68-65, Cruz was fouled on a three-point attempt. Nerves of steel would prevail as Cruz calmly sank all three foul shots to force the second overtime. Now that's the stuff that memories in this famous old barn off Jackson are made of. Cruz finished with 11 points. A big factor in how far the Dogs go in the post season could very well be Emmanuel Gaiter, one of the most talented sophomores in the area. The 6-foot, 3-inch Gaiter is a monster in the paint. He muscled the Trevians around on this night, finishing with a game-high 23 points, including eight in the post.

"It's been a while since we've had this kind of enthusiasm, so this is really neat for the kids," said Colbert, whose team has won four straight. "A lot of it is the mental aspect. There's a no-quit attitude in these guys."

Junior Fred Finley is yet another reason for the Dogs' success. A silky smooth jumper, finesse drives carving through the paint—you name it, he can also score.

These were just a handful of reasons why the Bulldogs were able to overcome a 10-point deficit in the fourth quarter.

Waukegan improved to 12-6 and very much in line for a top-four seed come the sectional seeding meeting Wed., Feb. 5.

They're also in the thick of the Central Suburban South race at 3-2, a game behind 4-1 Evanston.

The momentum is certainly there, and it's being backed up by wins-plenty of them.

Now wouldn't it be cool if the hometown team could get back to the sectionals? The old East Gym will rock regardless of who is playing in sectionals. Imagine the Dogs playing in front of the hometown crowd.

Hall doors are ajar at CLC

Junior College inducts seven new members

Sports Editor

Del Gorski (golf), Tom Holevas (men's soccer), Teri Huntington (women's basketball), Greg Washington (men's basketball)—just some of the great athletes who have passed through the College of Lake County. All made their mark in one way or another. Their names, as a result, are embroidered on the blue and white banners hanging on the south wall in the school's gymnasium. Quite the elite group, seeing that over 2,500 athletes have competed for the college since it opened its doors 36 years ago. And out

Well, add seven more very deserving athletes to the list.

It all took place in between the women and men's basketball games against Morton College.

"I was completely taken by surprise," said Keith Bolton, a standout men's basketball player for the Lancers in 1971. "I didn't know they kept archives that far back."

Bolton, an Antioch High graduate who now makes Bristol (Wis.) his home, was a team captain that currently ranks third on the CLC career scoring list, is fifth all-time in rebounding, and fifth on the leading scorer list for a single season. The All-State and two-time All-conference player helped lead the Lancers to its first Illinois Sectional championship.

Joining Bolton was a couple of standout soccer players, Dan Henrichs on the men's side and Becky Kirby for the women's.

Henrichs, the head athletic trainer at Carmel High, is a 1992 grad of the Mundelein school. He attended CLC in 1992-93. He was a two-time All-State and two-time All-Skyway Conference selection. He helped lead the Lancers to one of its best seasons in school history in 1992, when the team finished 16-2. Over his two years, the Lancers compiled an overall record of 30-5. Henrichs was voted the No. 2 player in the state his first year.

"(Athletic Director) Gene Hanson told me about the honor at a Region IV women's soccer game last year," he said. "It's truly a great honor and I'm very proud to be inducted. There are a lot of great names on that wall and to be a part of that is very flattering."

Meanwhile, Kirby, who assists current head women's coach Dave Beck with coaching duties, was an All-State player herself in 1998. The former Warren High standout was instrumental in helping lead CLC to its first winning season and second-place finish in the State. Kirby, a team captain and Most Valuable

'Peters principle' too much for Lady Sequoits

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

You know you have "made it" in any sport when they refer to you only by your name, and even more so, your first name.

Such is the case for Warren High's Amy Peters. During a huddle in Saturday's 58-44 loss, Antioch coach Don Zeman told his forces of Peters' talents, not in terms of "stop No. 50" or "the big girl," but just in terms of "Amy Peters" does this or that.

Peters' only flaw on the afternoon came when she missed 1-of-2 three-pointers. She made every one of her other 14 field goal tries in a 33-point effort. That was one-point shy of her career high.

"I was working on my left-handed lay-ups," Peters allowed afterward.

And after a game like she had Saturday, which helped Warren improve to 19-4, 6-1

NSC Lake, Zeman and the other NSC coaches may well be in attendance at Warren High's graduation, just to make sure Peters is sent off to Bradley University, diploma and more than 1,000 career points in hand, in style.

"It is hard to stop 100 percent shooting from twos and 50 percent from threes," Zeman said.

"The girls focus was better and we were able to play at a quicker pace and that favored us," said WTHS coach John Stanczykiewicz of Warren's second-half dominance.

"Amy has hit 30 four or five times. She can get the ball at all places," he added.

"We knew that we had to push it up," said senior guard Beth Wessel. "The plan was to get it to the post."

"All our guards play so well. We love to play together and move unselfishly," Peters said.

Peters, who grew up watching Caryn

Poliquin and Becky Moo as the star Warren forwards, would like to expand her game to the perimeter, even it means her only missed shot.

The Blue Devils are hoping for one of the top two seeds at the Antioch sectional. "Now, we're No. 1, we are the hunted team. It's a lot different," Beth Wessel said. She described teammate Peters as "A great player, strong and quick."

Peters' day began with a waltz to the basket on a lay-up. She battled against the game's second D-I player, Starla Williams, who is headed to Indiana University at Fort Wayne.

"They have had good battles over the years, but Peters had the advantage today," Zeman said. Williams scored 7 points. Katie Hofeldt, a sophomore, led Antioch 8-12, 1-6.

"We were very worried about this game. We beat a good team today. Their record is deceiving. They're as tough as any team you have to play in our conference," Stanczykiewicz said.

Warren received a solid effort from senior Ashina Hamilton, with 6 points and several rebounds.

"Ashina has a lot of talent and is very competitive. She does a lot of little things like defensive rebounds and steals," Peters said.

Warren's Amy Wessel also had 6 points.

Junior Jennie Dewar, Antioch's leading scorer, was held to 6 points. Junior Katie Malcolm came off the bench to score 8 points.

Antioch hosts Libertyville at 2:30 p.m. on Feb. 1.

Wrestlers showing progress

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

A win over Vernon Hills at the Grayslake Quad and easily defeating Zion-Benton has the Antioch's wrestlers upbeat heading into the North Suburban Conference meet.

The NSC meet will be hosted by Warren High at the Almond Road gym in Gurnee on Feb. 1.

Senior Ryan Schuster made the 25-win total at 119 points. Mike Campese at 215 was 3-0 for the day at Grayslake, while Phil Sehmer won two matches at 135. All won matches the previous night against Zion-Benton in a 63-3 Antioch win.

Antioch lost to Grayslake 58-13, but beat Vernon Hills 35-30 and lost a battle to Wauconda, 41-21.

"Today our kids wrestled well. Schuster's wrestling well and so is Campese. You can tell by the way the kids wrestle that they put in a lot of work in the wrestling room every day," said ACHS coach Ted Sieckowski.

Campese has an impressive, attacking style, the coach described.

"It is just with this group, that this is not a group big on pins," Sieckowski said.

The Sequoits may not be the favored team at the Warren conference meet, but Sieckowski said that is more a reflection of talent depth in the NSC.

"I remember when I was wrestling for Grant, when we went up against Antioch, that there was not a seat to be had in the gym. The NSC is just so talented this year. Grant and Libertyville are the favorites," Sieckowski said.

Antioch's Tim Naegle at 103, Schuster, Dan Black at 189, Campese, all won by pin against Zion-Benton.

Against Wauconda, the Sequoits had wins from Schuster at 119, Sehmer at 135, Sam Carden at 160, Kyle Stigler at 171, and Campese at 215.

In the win over Vernon Hills, Kory Mueller won by a pin in 1:40 at 130; Sehmer won a one-point decision; Stigler and Campese won by decision and heavyweight Drew Swanson won by a pin in 1:06.

Top records heading into the conference meet for the Sequoits include: Campese (26-11), Schuster (25-9), Carden (14-12) and 145-pounder Taylor Pechauer (18-13).

News and notes

An ASEP (American Sport Education Program) Coaches Clinic will be held in Rockford on Feb. 1 at the Quality Suites and in Arlington Heights on Feb. 15 at the Holiday Inn Express for anyone interested in becoming certified to coach middle or high school athletics.

The successful completion of the ASEP leader level program is required by the Illinois High School Association for all non-faculty members. To register or for further information, please call Jeff Kyle at 217-586-4799.

Celeste Pregracke of the Court Aces in Libertyville has announced that the Top O' The Hill Club is ready to start hiking again. The club, for singles aged 50- and older, has scheduled hikes for Feb. 15 and Mar. 1 at the Starved Rock Area. There is no cost but a contribution to gas is appreciated. The weather at this time of year is always a factor and will determine if the hike is cancelled or moved to a closer location.

Please sign-up in advance. To register or for further information, please call Celeste at 847-662-5038.

It might be chilly and there may be snow on the ground but that doesn't mean the golf enthusiast can start getting into the spirit for the upcoming season. Let the 20th Annual Chicago Golf Show help get those golfing juices going. This year, the event will be held Feb. 14-16 at the Donald E. Stephens Convention Center in Rosemont, located on River Rd. just south of I-90.

Come and check out the latest in new equipment as well as golf travel opportunities. Golfers can also get the kinks out of their swing by hitting shots at any one of 26 hitting stations. There will be plenty of raffles, giveaways and contests, including a longest putt. One-on-one instruction by PGA Professionals is also available.

Tickets for the Golf Show are available by calling 800-781-6083 or by checking out the web site at www.chicagogolfshow.com.

ACHS earns honors

Antioch Community High School had seven of the eight IHSA recognized fall sports qualify for the IHSA Team Academic Achievement Award. In order to qualify for this honor, varsity teams need to have their athletes average a 3.0 overall GPA for the first semester. The seven teams that qualified for this honor included girl's tennis, boy's soccer, boys and girl's cross-country, girl's volleyball, and boys and girls golf.

"We are very proud of our student athletes," said ACHS Athletic Director Steve Schoenfelder. "The number of teams that qualified for the award this past fall set a record for the number of teams to earn the award in a season."

In addition, Schoenfelder said that it only takes a couple of low grades to drop the team below a 'B' average. All of the student athletes needed to take pride in their work to earn this accomplishment. The athletes not only maintained their grades during the season but for two-and-a-half months after their respective season's ended since the grades cannot be figured officially until the semester ends.

"They all should be commended for their dedication to being successful in the classroom," he said.

INDUCTION

Player, joined forces with fellow CLC Hall of Fame women's soccer player Jenny Tully in organizing and starting the women's soccer program at the college in 1997. While the assistant to Beck the past four seasons, the Lady Lancers have won three straight Skyway titles. The women's team has all been ranked nationally all three of those years.

Former baseball player and current Lake County Sheriff Kevin Eckenstahler was also inducted into the Hall. Eckenstahler was an All-American, two-time All-State and two-time All-Skyway during his two-year stint in 1997-98. The Antioch High graduate ranks in the top-10 in several of the school's all-time categories, including doubles (6th), triples (6th), hits (7th), RBIs (7th), batting average (9th) and runs scored (9th). He had a career batting average of .399 and a career fielding percentage of .990 at the catcher's position.

"I owe a lot to Coach (Gene) Hanson," said Eckenstahler, whose brother pitches in the Detroit Tigers organization. "It's a great honor to be included with all of the other great players up there."

The list of accolades doesn't stop there, though, for Eckenstahler. He was a Team Captain and MVP and Illinois JUCO All-Star while graduating from the college with honors. The Lancers, with Eckenstahler calling the signals from behind the plate, finished with a school best 43-10 record during the 1997 season. After CLC, he earned his degree in criminal justice from the University of Wisconsin-Parkside.

Standout women's tennis player Jenny

Mayer, who played from 1996-97, also joined the illustrious list of inductees. The 1997 All-American also earned two-time All-State and two-time All-Conference honors. In addition, she qualified for the National Junior College Tournament in '97, where her second-place finish also helped the team finish second. She holds numerous schools records, including singles victories by a freshman (27), wins for doubles competition by a freshman (19), singles wins as a sophomore (31), and doubles wins by a sophomore (26). Her two-year overall record was a sparkling 103-15. During that '97 season, her efforts helped lead CLC to its only undefeated season at 23-0.

"She was an outstanding teammate who was very well respected," said Richard Watson, CLC's head coach since 1996. "She is testament to that '97 team that went undefeated. What an outstanding competitor."

Rounding out the Hall of Fame inductions were long-time grounds keepers Brian Bonadore and Jeff Sterett. Bonadore has been with the college for 18 years and Sterett for 14. The duo joined the elite list of five on the 'friends' banner as part of the Hall of Fame.

"It's just our way of saying thanks for all of the support and extra work you do to help maintain and keeping the fields in the excellent condition," said Hanson. "After all, if the fields aren't ready, the teams can't play. That's a testament to your hard work."

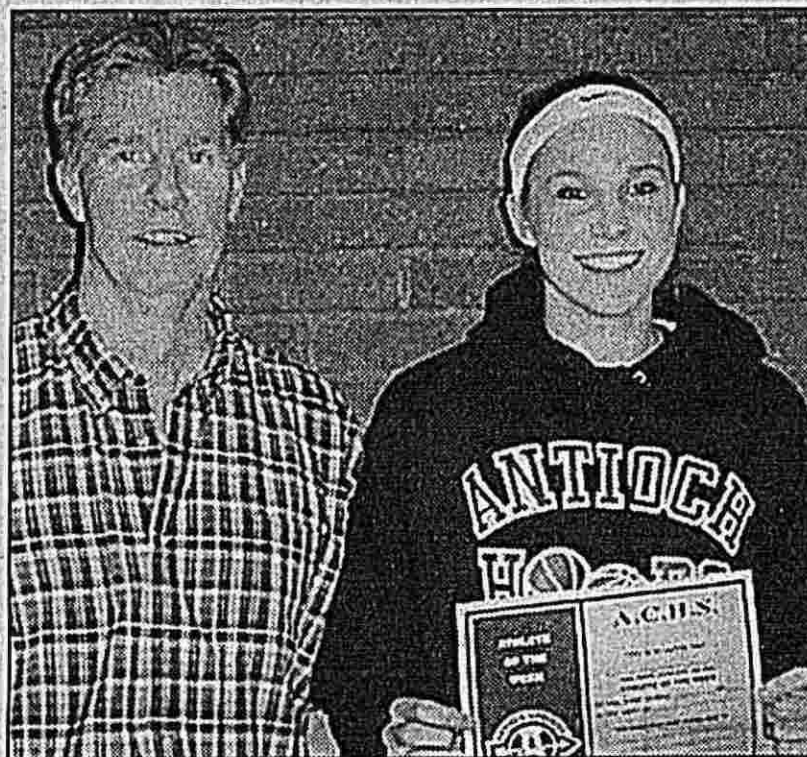

Hanson, who emceed the ceremony, presented plaques to all of the inductees in front of a nice crowd on this special evening.

"We do this every two years," he said. "Whatever success we've had here, it's because of people like this."

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Starla Williams
Girl's basketball

Starla (shown with head coach Don Zeman) helped lead the Sequoits to three consecutive wins over Vernon Hills, Grant and Mundelein. Starla scored a total of 37 points on the strength of 16-of-33 field-goal shooting. Starla also grabbed 26 rebounds, dished out two assists, had two steals and blocked four shots during that stretch.

Soccer

The under-11 Rockets girls' soccer team of the Lindenhurst Area Soccer Club picked up another victory last week, a 5-2 decision over Trevian White.

Carly Borders scored two goals while Ashely Chernich, Dominique Besette and Sarah Steffen each added single goals for the Rockets.

Alyssa Baker (five saves) and Julie Tarzon (four saves) combined efforts in goal.

Other team members on the Rockets include: Madeline Allen, Shanna Hertz, Sara Knupp, Brittany Mooney, Hannah Olsen and Megan Palmer.

The Rockets then added a 10-2 triumph over the Buffalo Grove Haze. Besette and Borders scored twice while Allen, Mooney, Steffen, Olsen, Palmer and Knupp added single goals.

Steffen stopped five shots while Hertz stopped three in earning the victory in goal.

Kenosha Komets

The Kenosha Komets under-12 girls' ice hockey team had a rough week in going 0-2-1. In a 3-1 loss to the Wisconsin Wild out of Brookfield (Wis.), Anna Ross scored the lone Komets goal off of a feed from Laurie Simonds. Then, in a 3-2 defeat to the Milwaukee Wildcats from Winter Club, Simonds scored unassisted in the second period. In the third period, Niki Steig scored the Komets' second goal, also unassisted.

Finally, the Komets posted a 2-2 tie with the Orland Park Vikings. Orland Park scored in the opening period but the Komets evened things up in the first period when Courtney Mercer scored unassisted. The Wildcats reclaimed the lead at 2-1 in the second but Kenosha salvaged the tie when Simonds knocked one through the net.

The Komets next game will be Sun., Feb. 2 when they take on Fond du Lac at the Kenosha County Ice Arena.

Atoms Peewee team wins twice

The under-12 Lake County Atoms

Peewee Bronze team skated to a 5-2 victory over the Arrowhead Youth Hockey Team out of Hartland (Wis.). Arrowhead scored the first goal but Ross Houslander, a sixth-grader from Antioch Upper Grade School, tied the game when he was assisted by Arthur Weiler, a sixth-grader from St. Patrick's School in Wadsworth, and Anthony Butera, a sixth-grader at St. Pat's. In the second period, Weiler then scored the second goal unassisted.

Arrowhead tied the game at 2-2 in the third, but not before Matt DeFiore, a sixth-grader from Martin School in Lake Villa, gave the Atoms the lead for good at 3-2. He was assisted by Bobby Bann, a seventh-grader at Palombi School in Lake Villa. Anthony then added an insurance goal with assists going to Weiler and Houslander.

The Atoms then posted a 3-2 win over the Falcons from Highland park in their first playoff game in the single game elimination round for the Northern Illinois Hockey League (NIHL) championship.

In the opening period, Woodland seventh-grader Matt Park scored off of an assist from Woodland sixth-grader Tyler Wonderlic and fellow Woodland seventh-grader Mick Turf.

Conor Dunn, a sixth-grader from Frederick School in Grayslake, scored unassisted to put the Atoms up 2-0. Park then added an unassisted insurance goal.

The Atoms advance to the next round of the playoffs when they tangle with Crystal Lake Jan. 31 at 6:30 p.m. at Seven Bridges Ice Arena in Woodridge.

Competitions

St. Peter Knights of Columbus Council will again be sponsoring a local youth basketball free-throw championship for all boys and girls between the ages of 10-14. Divisions will be divided according to gender and age. The local competition will be held on Sun., Feb. 2 at St. Peter School in Antioch in the school gymnasium. Competition will begin at approximately 2 p.m.

Sign-ups and warm-ups will start at 1 p.m.

Any questions regarding the K of C or the free-throw contest, please call Dave Chesonis at 847-395-8076.

Atoms Squirt Bronze wins title

Congratulations to the Lake County Youth Ice Hockey Association Squirt. Bronze team for taking first place in Eagle River (Wis.) Squirt Tournament. Eight teams from Wisconsin, Michigan and Illinois participated in the event. The Atoms were 6-1 victors over their first opponent from Green Bay. Strong offensive and defensive talents played a major role in the victory. Then, just two hours later, the Atoms rallied to beat Janesville, 6-5. The winning goal was scored with only 41.9 seconds left in the game on a precision pass to Chip Hoy from "Captain Kyle" Burza.

The championship was then held the next morning as the Atoms took on the Naugee Michigan Iron Rangers. In a spirited game, the Atoms jumped out to a 2-0 first period lead and never looked back. Despite strong play by the competition, the Atoms kept their "eye on the prize" and won in grand fashion, short-handed for the last minute-and-a-half of regulation. The defense stood tall, with the Atoms barely missing an empty net in the last seconds of the game.

Teamwork and solid play set the tone for the Atoms Squirt Bronze team. Every member of the team stepped up and made substantial contributions during the tournament games. Strong goaltending, including a couple of spectacular glove saves from "Downtown" Matthew Brown, went a long way in keeping the kids in every game.

The Atoms team members include: Henry Brewer, Matthew Brown, Kyle Burza, DJ Graham, JT Hamilton, Chip Hoy, John Krzeminski, Joey Meyer, Jacob Peterson, Andrew Stolzer, Jack Thompson and Alex Wilkins. Jim Meyer, Dave Graham and Jim Hamilton serve as the Atoms' coaches.

Cheer up!

Miller runs for LV trustee

'Green' issues are hallmark of platform

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

Ann Miller, a 48-year-old mother of three, is taking her environmental view of Lake Villa's future to the voters, as she runs for one of three trustee seats in the April consolidated election.

Miller is concerned that Lake Villa may lose its identity as a small town with open green spaces and trees, as suburban commercial growth increases in the village.

"I am a conservationist," she declared. "The earth's population grows by 219,000 people a day. Our remaining open space must be cherished."

Although this is Miller's first attempt to run for an elected office, she has made her stance known in the past, publicly speaking out in opposition to the Rosen car dealership on Grand Avenue.

"This area was first a resort, and people came here to focus on the area's loveliness," she said. "Lake Villa calls itself 'The Gateway to the Lake Region.' I want us to set goals to preserve that."

Miller noted that, as one drives eastward on Grand Avenue to Waukegan, commercial density increases.

"If you drive east, you can see our future," she said. She is opposed to the extension of Route 53.

"If you build it, they will come," she said. "Population will come with it."

Miller contends large retail stores are not the way to increase the tax base.

"Gurnee pays the same taxes we do," she said. "We need thoughtful retail development."

Miller believes the tax base could be increased in a "kinder, gentler" way with businesses such as furniture shops, doctors' offices and restaurants rather than car dealerships and big box stores.

"Developers should be asked for more," she asserted. "They have the resources to provide us with pedestrian and bicycle paths, for instance."

Miller said she has offered to serve on the downtown revitalization committee and the historical committee, but that, so far, she has received no response from either group.

In pursuit of preservation of open space, Miller noted it might be necessary to review the village's comprehensive plan, with an eye towards defining the scope of commercial growth in the village.

She believes existing farmland should be preserved, perhaps in the form of community gardens or cooperative farms.

She also favors creating new laws to preserve and encourage trees in the village.

"(Incumbent trustee) Joyce Frayer got a law passed that prohibits planting parkway trees," she said. "We need more trees, and park benches to encourage people to walk in the village."

Miller, who grew up in Palatine, graduated from the University of Denver with a triple major in psychology, education and Spanish. She taught in private schools in Colorado, rising to the position of headmistress.

"As a member of the Junior League in Denver, I learned about becoming a leader," she said, as she described working on a committee to obtain legal assistance for senior citizens.

She has been a Lake County Forest Preserve volunteer since 1996, and is presently employed as a permanent substitute teacher for Lake Villa C.C. School district 41, teaching at Pleviak. She is also active in supporting scouting, and serves as a committee chair for Lake Villa Cub Scout Pack 88.

She is married to Jim Miller, an environmental consultant for corporations. The couple has three sons, all attending public school in District 41.

Marturano to take Hoth's slate spot in Lindenhurst

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

With just days until the final filing deadlines for Certificates of Ballot, Perspectives Party has announced the withdrawal of Lindenhurst Trustee candidate Vernon ("Skip") Hoth.

Hoth stepped down citing health concerns.

The party has named Dominic E. Marturano to replace Hoth on the ticket.

Marturano, a 16-year resident of Lindenhurst, has no political background, but has served as a volunteer in several community venues. He is treasurer and president of Girls Iceless Hockey, has been a board member for seven years, and a coach for eight years. He coached Boys Iceless

Hockey for five years.

He also coaches and referees soccer for the Lindenhurst Park District, Illinois youth Soccer Association travel teams and Millburn School. He volunteers at Lindenfest and the park district.

Marturano has been employed at Cardinal Health (formerly Allegiance) for 22 years, where he presently serves as Director of Information Technology.

He is a graduate of Northern Illinois University, with a bachelor's degree in computer science.

His wife, Linda, is a business manager for the park district.

His son, Vincent, attends the College of Lake County. His daughter, Michelle, is a sophomore at Antioch Community High School.

One traffic stop in the early morning hours of Jan. 24 netted the Antioch Police Department two DUI arrests. Denise Curry, 41, of Trevor, Wis., and George W. Leever, 35, of Richmond, were both arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol shortly after 2 a.m. on Route 173 just east of Route 59.

Police witnessed both vehicles, one following right behind the other, weaving within the lane of traffic and then crossing the centerline at a rate that exceeded the posted speed limit. Both were pulled over, and both drivers were determined to be intoxicated.

The officer had to reach inside Curry's vehicle to put it into park for safety reasons when she had mistakenly put the car in reverse and was allowing it to roll backward. The officer detected the strong odor of alcohol on Curry's breath at this time. She refused to perform field sobriety tests.

A check of her identifiers came back with information that her driver's license was suspended.

Alcohol was detected on Leever's breath when his driver's license and proof of insurance were requested. He cooperated with police, but failed all field sobriety tests requested of him.

Both were arrested and refused chemical testing at the Antioch Police Department.

Curry was issued citations for DUI, driving while suspended, speeding, improper lane usage, and for having no rear registration plate light. She posted $300 cash bond. Leever was issued citations for DUI, speeding and improper lane usage. He posted $100 cash bond.

Both are scheduled to appear in court on Feb. 18.

Woman charged in murder-for-hire plot

Gurnee—Cecilia Gonzalez, 37, of 7785 Nursery Dr., has been charged with one count of solicitation of murder for hire, a class X felony. Gonzalez's husband, Orlando Piedra, 53, of the same address, contacted police on Jan. 20 and reported that his wife had asked someone to kill him.

Piedra said on that morning he received a call from the husband of his live-in nanny. The man told Piedra his car had broken down on his way to work and he needed a ride. When Piedra arrived, the man told him his wife had approached him and asked him to kill Piedra. The nanny's husband then handed Piedra a .32 caliber pistol and a bag containing a pistol magazine and 10 .32 caliber rounds of ammunition. He told Piedra the pistol was supplied to him as the intended murder weapon.

Mayors push for Route 53 extension

Round Lake—Fifty-three mayors for Route 53 could be the battle cry if the five mayors in the greater Round Lake area have their way.

At the annual mayoral luncheon in Round Lake Heights, Round Lake Mayor Bill Gentes told the Round Lake Area Chamber of Commerce members, that Ila Bauer, president of the Lake County Municipal League, has batted the idea around with other mayors. "The idea is 53 mayors supporting Route 53," Gentes said. And although there are only 52 municipalities in Lake County, the mayors have an answer for that. "Two mayors don't support it," Bauer said. "So we figured we would borrow some from McHenry County."

Staff Reporter

State Senator Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) has launched her own in-depth investigation into the financial and practical matters surrounding the proposed closing of St. Therese Hospital in Waukegan.

The hospital, previously owned by Provena, is in the process of transfer to Vista Health Care, which also owns Victory Memorial Hospital.

Vista is planning to close St. Therese and consolidate services at Victory, while building and establishing a new hospital in Lindenhurst.

In late December, the senator asked Vista Health CEO Tim Harrington to provide her with detailed records including profit and loss statements for both St. Therese and Victory Memorial hospitals for years 2000-02, copies of balance sheets, average daily census, payer mix, status of mortgages, status of accreditation, payroll information and tax returns.

Vista complied with the request, and the senator and her staff are reviewing the information.

"I don't expect to be done before the end of February," she said. "There are some things I want to clarify, such as why there was only one estimate for the renovation of St. Therese," she remarked.

"We are waiting for the senator to digest the information," said Harrington. "We are hoping to get her support."

He said the next step in the process would be filing a Certificate of Exemption with the Health Facilities Planning Board (HFPB), to officially consolidate the ownership of St. Therese and Victory under the Vista corporate umbrella.

Following that, if all goes as planned, a Certificate of Need would be filed, to get HFPB approval to move ahead with the physical consolidation and new building.

Harrington said the numbers will show the proposed allotment of beds would be an improvement.

Student redistribution plan still on table

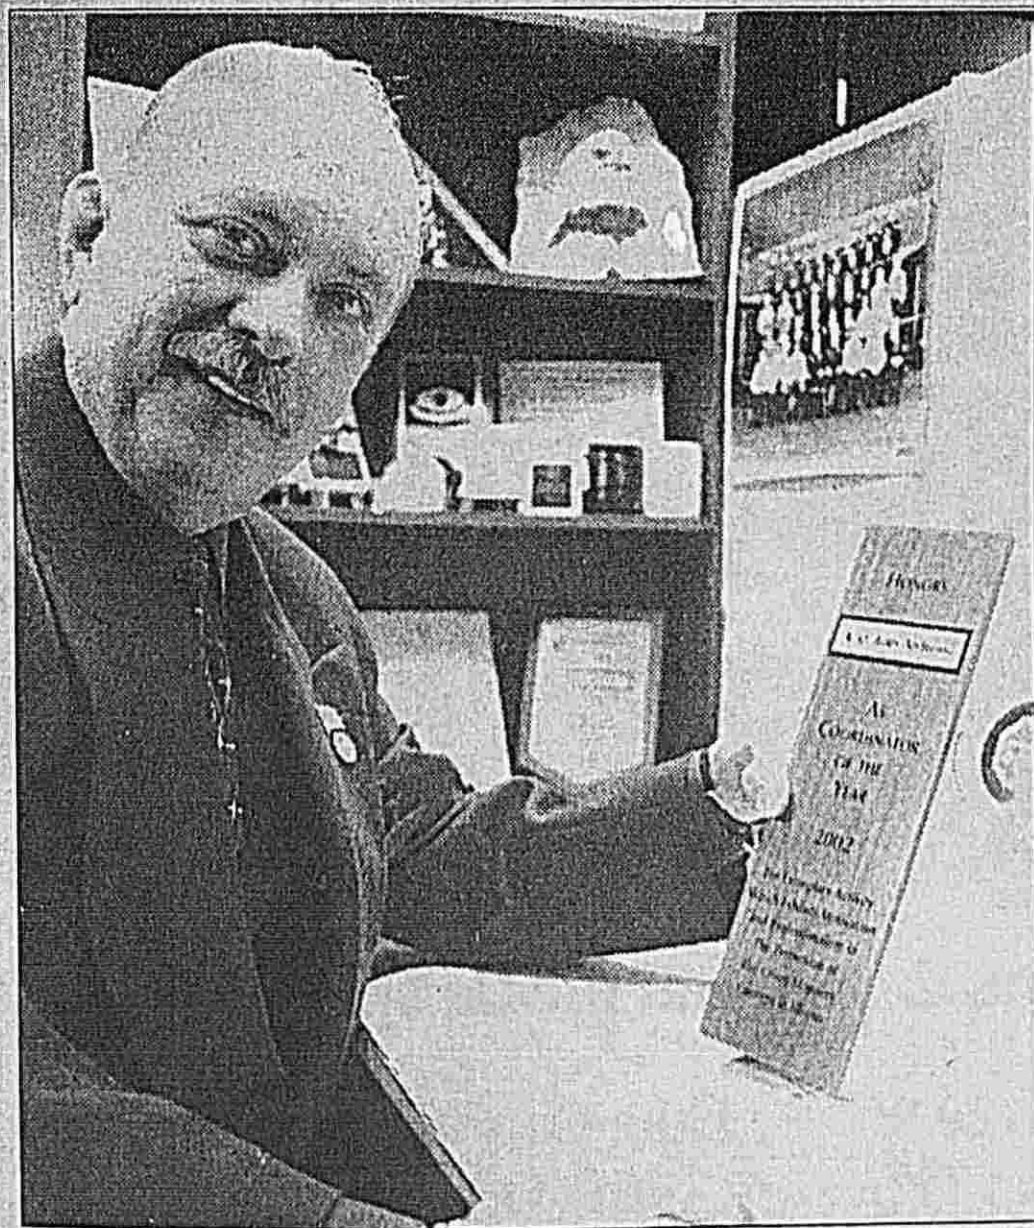

Mundelein—Option 4 is still a hot topic, but the hurdles for the District 76 board are becoming clearer. The two fundamental issues right now are whether or not Lincoln School will end up with more low-income students and the quality of education available at Washington. Right now, 37 percent of the students at Washington are considered low income. Mechanics Grove has 16 percent and Lincoln only 12 percent of the student population in that category.

Residents gain support on developers' woes

Island Lake—Residents of Rolling Oaks subdivisions gained support for their case against a proposed development. All village board members agreed that Spruce Terrace should not be used as the entrance street to the development in the village's north side. About 25 residents of the Rolling Oaks area off Burnett Road attended the committee meeting. Most left satisfied that their concerns were addressed, but were also asked to attend zoning board meetings.

Gavin rejects cost bid to reform group

Fox Lake—Gavin School Board members are not jumping in on the movement to finance a way to reform school funding. District 37 board members voted to not spend $5,000 on an inter-governmental agreement to joint cost share for enactment of the legislation. Area schools to sign on for the expense are Johnsbury District 12, Wauconda District 118, Richmond-Burton High School and Grayslake Elementary District 46.

Crime Stoppers nears 20-year mark

Tip line has led to scores of solved cases

By CHRISTY BLANDFORD
Lakeland Correspondent

When a 17-year-old girl was reported missing in Sept. 2001, the case went unsolved for almost five months. Only after receiving a tip from a concerned resident did police recover the victim and arrest a 26-year-old man for sexual assault and harboring a reported missing juvenile.

But this tip might not have come if the Lake County Crime Stoppers hadn't been established. On the eve of its 20-year anniversary on April 26, Crime Stoppers has much to celebrate, including decades of successful coalitions among local law enforcement and county residents.

Andy Anderson, executive director of the Lake County Crime Stoppers, said the program originated in New Mexico in 1976 under founder Greg MacAleese, and spread across the U.S. Today, the program is also established in Europe, Japan, Korea and Australia.

As the philosophical ideas of the program spread, a Waukegan police chief continued its migration north. "Low and behold in 1981 the chief of police in Waukegan went to a conference in the south, heard about the program and thought it was a phenomenal idea," Anderson said. "When he came back to Lake County, he started a Crime Stoppers program in Waukegan."

But when a Lake County sheriff heard about the program, he decided to expand Waukegan's unit into a countywide crime stopping alliance on April 26, 1983.

Crime Stoppers, which works in coordination with all police departments in Lake County, serves as a community program utilizing residents as a force to provide information on felony crimes and fugitives. Crime Stoppers is a nonprofit organization, funded by private donations from individuals, corporations, retailers and organizations.

Those who supply information are not required to identify themselves by name, and instead are assigned a secret number to use as identification. Caller ID is not used in the Crime Stoppers office, and the only form of identification is the assigned number.

Anderson said since the program's inception, he has issued 10,116 secret coded numbers, and 98 numbers from Oct. through Dec. of 2002 alone.

And for those who do offer information leading to an arrest, there's a reward. Up to $1000 can be awarded for information, and with over 20 years in existence, a lot of information has been received — and many rewards have been granted.

Over $544,000 in cash rewards have been awarded over two decades to those who made the call to Crime Stoppers with information leading to an arrest. Those phone calls have closed 4612 cases, led to over 3900 arrests and the recovery of over $12.9 million worth of contraband and illicit narcotics.

But Anderson said the rewards aren't the only reason residents call in.

"We live in such a fast-paced society that nobody really has time to get involved, but here's a way for someone to just call up and say I heard this, I saw this," he said.

Crime Stoppers calls are ringing in more and more each year. In 1999, 481 calls were logged and in 2001, that number almost doubled to 845. In 2002 alone, Crime Stoppers received over 800 calls —

CLC mourns Dorsey's death

Rev. Dr. James Dorsey, 60, a sociology instructor at the College of Lake County and an ordained Baptist minister, died Jan. 23 at St. Therese Medical Center following a heart attack.

A resident of North Chicago, Dorsey was a well-loved and respected CLC faculty member since 1991. He taught African-American history and sociology.

Born in 1942, Dorsey was a graduate of North Chicago High School, and was an ordained Baptist minister and served at Mt. Zion Missionary Baptist Church in Zion until last year. He also served as a minister at several local churches in the North Chicago-Waukegan communities.

"The entire college community is deeply saddened by the sudden death of Dorsey," said CLC President Dr. Gretchen Naff.

"As a teacher, Jim was passionate about the subject matter, and as a person, he was the friendliest person I had ever met," said human services instructor Carol Huntsinger, who shared an office with Dorsey.

Dorsey spent a lifetime learning and researching African-American history and sharing his vast knowledge with people of all ages and ethnic groups. Locally, he was a sought-after expert in the history of African-Americans in Lake County and the Underground Railroad in Lake County, which prior to the Civil War helped people in the South escape from slavery. In 1986, he published a book titled "Up South: Blacks in Chicago's Suburbs (1719-1983)," detailing the history of the African-American population in the Chicago suburbs.

Dorsey is survived by his wife Jacqueline, son Derrick and daughter Kelley. Funeral services for Dorsey are pending.

Wannabe coroners find job isn't like a TV show

Many apply, few have the skills it takes

By DENYS BUCKSTEN
Staff Reporter

Recently developed, popular television shows on forensic science are drawing fresh blood, so to speak, into a profession that may appear to be exciting and glamorous.

But Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson said the $37,000-plus (starting) deputy coroner jobs are right only for a select few.

"We had 79 applicants for our last opening (effective Jan. 1)," said Richardson, "and I feel that is because of these television programs (like 'Crossing Jordan' and 'CSI')."

The reality of the job, as coroner employees know, is hauling a 350-pound corpse, decomposing for a week, out of an attic in 95-degree heat, down two flights of stairs.

"Some of these kids do not know what they are getting into," Richardson added.

The Coroner's Department has a full-time staff of nine, including Richardson, Chief Deputy Coroner James Wipper, and deputy coroners John Rorabeck, Stephen Newton, Knute Sandahl, Robert Barrett, Corey Briggs, Michael Sheedy and a Jan. 1, 2003 hire, Tammy Williams.

But the vast bulk of the calls are handled by Newton, Sandahl, Barrett, Briggs, Sheedy and Williams, as Rorabeck, one of the regions' foremost forensic analysts, is in the lab, and Richardson and Wipper shoulder the administrative work.

The Lake County Board approved the additional deputy coroner position for the 2003 budget, although Richardson had asked for two new slots.

Wipper, on the job for 19 years, said the training required to be a deputy coroner, the psychological trauma and the pure physical demands of the job allow only the hardest of candidates to make the grade.

"In 2001 we had just under 3,000 cases," he said. "This year (2002) we finished with 3,300. That's an increase of 10 percent and even with six people out on the street, that's an average of 500 deaths per year per person."

"That's a heckuva caseload, considering all the responsibilities of the deputy coroners, responding to the scene, the inquests, the reports, plus the contacts that have to be made when dealing with police and fire and attorneys and doctors and families of the deceased."

"Just the phone work involved is very time-consuming. A deputy coroner is on the clock 40 hours, but usually that's one or two nights a week on call. An on-call shift is 15 hours for a weeknight, from 5 p.m. to 8 a.m., and on the weekends, it's a 24-hour shift, from 8 a.m. Saturday to 8 a.m. Sunday."

What this all adds up to, said Wipper, "is that even though we had over 70 applicants for the last opening, there are more people applying who don't have all the qualifications we need."

"Although the universities are offering more programs, like forensics, anatomy, pathology, toxicology and such, this is still a job that requires a lot of different skills, and a lot of the situations are unpleasant."

"I tell people here that your mailbox isn't going to be overflowing with thank you notes. It's a thankless job, but it's part of what we're here for, to help (victims' families) in some way through the crisis."

"Maybe down the road, when things become a little clearer for the victims families, that's when we get the call or a nice note."

Police officer recovering after shootout in Gurnee

By ELIZABETH GUARD
Staff Reporter

A 24-year-old Milwaukee man was shot to death by Gurnee police officers Monday night after his three-town shooting spree came to an end in a Gurnee subdivision.

At around 9:30 p.m., police received a call of shots fired from a resident on Williamsburg Avenue in the Providence Oaks subdivision. According to police, the gunman, Tremell J. Celestine drove into the subdivision and began shooting randomly at homes and into the air.

Kevin Schreiner, the first officer to respond to the call, located a vehicle that matched witnesses' descriptions near Cohasset Court. When Schreiner approached the vehicle, Celestine, armed with a 9mm handgun, began firing at him from his car and hit Schreiner in the upper left arm.

According to Gurnee police Commander Jay Patrick, Schreiner continued to return fire as four other officers, two of them armed, arrived on the scene, exchanging shots with Celestine. Celestine was hit twice, once in the head and once in the left hip.

Celestine was taken to St. Therese Medical Center where he was pronounced dead at 10:36 p.m., the Lake County coroner's office said.

Schreiner was also taken to St. Therese, treated for his wounds and released, but could undergo surgery this week, Patrick said.

Authorities believe the spree may have started at around 9:10 p.m. Monday when a gunman fired at a car stopped at a traffic light on Westleigh Road at Route 41 in Lake Forest. The bullet, found lodged in the doorframe, was determined to be from a 9mm handgun, the same type of weapon Celestine used.

About 10 minutes later, a woman discovered a vehicle stopped on Route 41 at Washington Street in Park City. When officers arrived on that scene, they found John C. Pemberton III, 48, with a fatal gunshot wound to the head.

After shooting Pemberton, police said the gunman headed east on Washington Street and sideswiped a vehicle. The driver of that vehicle, James Brown, 48, of Chicago, followed the driver for 4 miles. Brown said at one point the man got out of his car and approached Brown's vehicle with a handgun. After fleeing in reverse, Brown continued to follow the car and called police on his cell phone with a description. Police then received the call of shots fired on Williamsburg.

The Lake County Major Crimes Task Force is handling the investigation. With detectives in Milwaukee Tuesday, it has been determined that Celestine had been mentally distraught. According to Patrick, one of Celestine's family members was trying to talk Celestine into going to a hospital for a psychiatric evaluation just before the incident occurred.

County wants sales tax hike

By ELIZABETH GUARD
Staff Reporter

County officials are seeking legislative authority to place a .25 percent sales tax increase on the April 1 ballot.

For years, county officials have been seeking a county sales tax increase to be used for road improvements, but legislative authority is necessary to move forward and has not yet been granted.

Last fall, the proposal got attached to another bill and was never called for a vote. But the proposal will be voted on sometime during this legislative session.

If granted legislative authority, the proposal would not involve state dollars, but would give the county the authority to go to voters and seek the .25 percent sales tax increase for Lake County.

Lake County Administrator Barry Burton said the tax increase is vital for the county to be able to move forward with road improvement projects.

"It's absolutely essential that we put more dollars into our transportation."

If granted legislative authority and passed by voter approval, the increase would generate approximately $12-15 million per year to be 100 percent dedicated to road improvement projects.

"With the tax, we can triple the amount of road projects we can do and we can make a big dent in that priority list," Burton said.

Grumbling hits disposal center for county

Over the years, Gurnee has gotten used to leading the way. Acclaimed amusement park. Internationally known outlet mall. Top branded coffee and doughnut outlets. Stores and shops with instant name recognition.

So it's somewhat disconcerting that there is a bit of neighborhood grumbling about the long sought home for a household chemical waste facility being located in Gurnee. The Solid Waste Agency of Lake County searched far and wide for nearly five years for a location before Gurnee stepped up to offer a site. Waukegan, Zion and Round Lake declined being home for the $1.7 million building that is regarded a state-of-the-art center for enhancing environmental safety.

Gurnee OK'd a home after laying down certain conditions for siting in an industrially zoned sector. Gurnee is only the third community in Illinois to host a household chemical waste center. After pursuing a location for nearly five years, Solid Waste Agency Director Andrew Quigley paid Gurnee officials a debt of gratitude with their support.

Thirty-seven Lake County communities belong to the agency, which is funded by a $1.27 a ton surcharge at local landfills and host fees paid by haulers. The waste gathering center isn't exactly a Love Canal disaster in the making. Products to be stored temporarily look a lot like the stuff found in the average suburban basement or garage—paint, solvents, cleaning fluids, pesticides.

Village Administrator James Hayner looks upon the facility as providing a service for all of Lake County. And that's exactly what it is. The new Gurnee drop-off center will be enhanced by one-day collection points operated throughout the county during summer months.

Thanks Gurnee for providing a home for unused household chemicals. Grumbling aside, the center will make our locality safer.

See skullduggery in six-lane plan to build Rte. 53

In the labyrinth where highway construction plans are conceived or germinate, a new twist has been injected in a project of 40 years standing—resuming extension of Route 120 (Belvidere Road) as a four-lane highway westward including what has become known as the Grayslake Bypass.

What has surfaced (the origin is murky) is a proposal to build the bypass with six lanes. Foes of Route 53, a controversial north-south solution for mid-county gridlock, quickly have labeled the six-lane idea as a stealth tactic to muddy up the highway planning waters. Six lanes, so their thinking goes, would not only divert attention from a sensible and doable solution to the crying need for improved east-west transportation, but also pave the way for Route 53.

A third view as been offered for the six-lane note: That it sets a trap for conscientious county and municipal officials who would be labeled hypocrites for voicing favor for extending Route 120 from the present end point in Wildwood without the north-south tie that Route 53 would provide if ever built.

County Board Rep. Steve Carlson (R-Grandwood Park) finds the "trap" concept discomfiting as the bypass proposal goes before the County Board. Legislative and Inter-Governmental Affairs Committee. County Board Rep. Bob Powers (R-Round Lake) campaigned for the Route 120 extension last year and is committed to pushing for the new roadway.

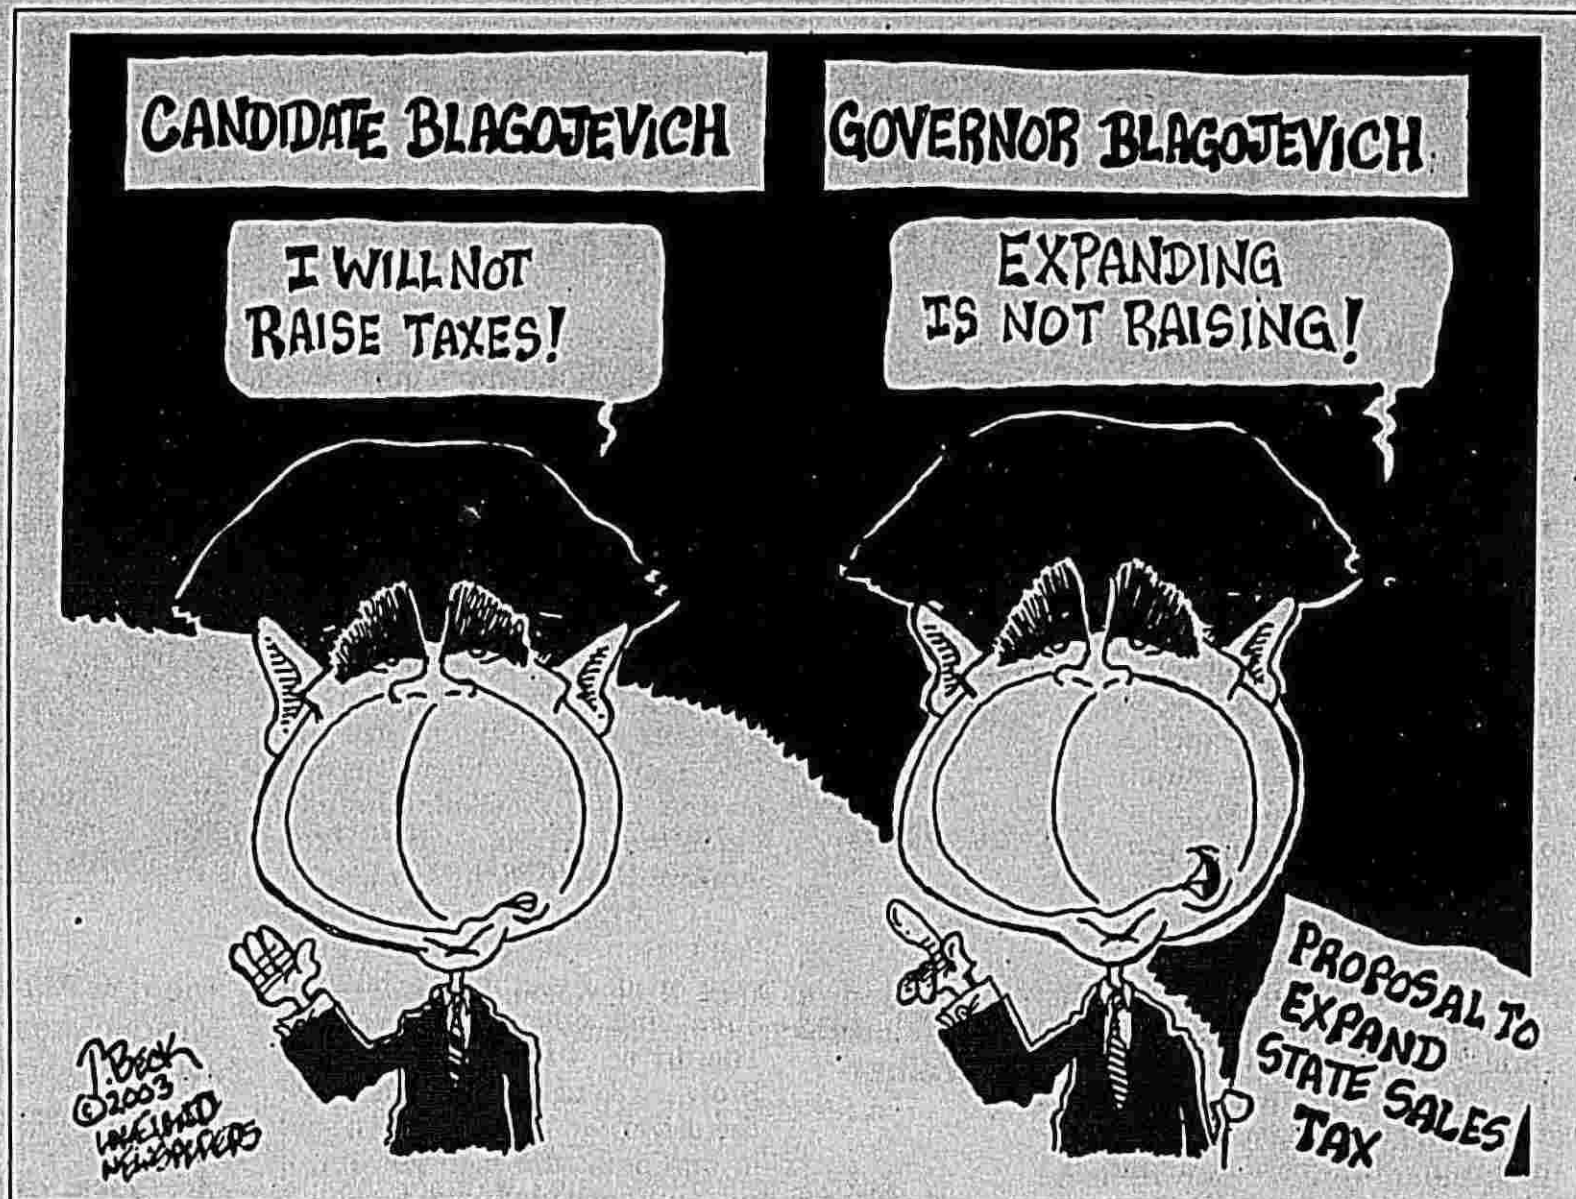

Technically, resuming extension of Route 120 is a matter for the Illinois Dept. of Transportation (IDOT). Involvement of the County Board is advisory, a sounding board. The County Board, though, can be an effective lobbying force for highway construction besides being a body politic with the tools to ferret out any skullduggery involved if there is a covert side to the six lane plan.

VIEWPOINT

Smiling server makes the day

Surly servers who speak in one word grunts are so common at fast food spots these days you forget that an understandable reply with a smile is supposed to be part of the deal.

After ordering a burger, fries and a soft drink, I was startled when a smiling order taker in easily understood language replied, "That's the same as our special meal deal. I rung your order up that way. That'll save you some money."

Well, fine. Nothing like saving a few pennies.

Moments later, while I balanced a tray to fill the catsup cup and picked up salt packets for the fries, the conversational counter guy with the ready grin passed by and inquired brightly, "Everything all right? Everything going OK?"

The question startled me. Something must be up. "Yes, yes. I'm doing fine. Are you the manager?" Why was the server being friendly and helpful?

Wiping off my table with a damp cloth, the congenial server replied, "Oh, no. I'm just doing my job. Hospitality is my job. Yes, hospitality."

Hummmm. What a novel idea. Serving fast food with a smile while being helpful and hospitable. Yes, something must be up. But what's the deal?

One man's family

Kids these days sure know all about the fun dining spots. You don't have to ask the youngsters (at least not in our family) twice about where they want to celebrate their birthday. Alexandra (Ali) quickly selected Rain Forest (because of all the creepy things). John picked John's Garage (because it has "a good name").

COMMENTARY

Will the teachers' lobby ever get enough?

By Jordan Madorsky

Considering the State of Illinois' budget woes you probably will be surprised to hear that on Jan. 3, outgoing Governor George Ryan signed House Bill 5169 allowing teachers to apply up to 340 unused sick days towards retirement.

Previously they could only apply 170 days of unused time. In essence, it allows teachers to use sick days for up to two years of service credit rather than one year. Former House Republican leader Lee Daniels sponsored the bill. It comes at a time when kids and their parents are being asked to sell pizza pies and cookie dough tubs to buy things like sheet music for their school bands.

The state manages the Teachers Retirement System (TRS). A recent audit of the state's five funds showed they will need a $1.8 billion dollar infusion of capital to meet next year's obligations. That's $250 million more than expected. The TRS is far and away the largest fund and it has suffered substantial losses in the equity markets.

Working teachers contribute 9.5 percent of their salaries, which makes up about 50 percent of the system's working capital. The balance must be earned in the equity markets, or paid for by taxpayers. Because the markets have faltered, tax revenues are needed to make up the difference. It is important to note that the teachers neither pay for nor do they collect Social Security. However, many teachers work part-time jobs so that they can meet the 40-quarter contribution mark required to collect Social Security. When a teacher earning $80,000 per year with 34 years of service credit, they will collect approximately $60,000 retirement per year with a 3 percent annual raise. The 9.5 percent of his or her contributions to the TRS stops. By allowing two years credit rather than one, you not only take the contribution out of the system, but you add another retired teacher earlier than planned. A new teacher making perhaps $28,000 and contributing his or her 9.5 percent creates a net loss to the already underfunded plan.

Teachers' contracts are negotiated at the district level and 10 or more days of sick pay for a 180-day school year is not uncommon. The convoluted power struggle between state and local authorities has further weakened their ability to say no to the teachers' lobby, which routinely plays both ends against the middle.

Because State of Illinois pension systems remain so generous, they have never been able to live up to their funding obligations. Old-fashioned defined benefits retirement plans are virtually gone in private industry. Unlike civil servants, private sector workers are lucky to tread water with their IRA or 401k plans.

To add insult to injury, school funding from sources like property taxes will continue to increase to offset ever-lessening state funding. Unless you believe that Representative Daniels woke up one morning and decided that he needed to sweeten the pie for teachers, you can only conclude that the teachers' lobby never gives up.

Because the lobby's public relations campaigns are second to none, well-meaning parents continue to take the teachers' side in any labor dispute wherever and whenever it occurs. Local control of schools is a myth perpetuated by the teachers' lobby.

In a monopoly system without merit pay, school boards and legislators are powerless. Within a school district there is no division between management and labor. Superintendents are teachers with doctorate degrees. They're a part of the same pension system, and they place their colleague's interests first, last, and always. No matter the quality of education in any given school, all students are indoctrinated in one thing: Teachers are under appreciated.

It's a lesson their parents believe too. They hold fundraisers and circulate sales sheets hawking grocery items to buy school equipment that should rightfully be included in the budget. Maybe parents will finally wake up to the greed of the teachers' lobby when students are asked to sell candy or cookie dough to pay for their retiring teachers.

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Beaubien's decision paying dividends

By making the right decision on backing new House leadership in the Illinois General Assembly, veteran State Rep. Mark Beaubien (R-Barrington Hills) has vaulted into the upper strata of party influence.

Beaubien early on joined the team of State Rep. Tom Cross (R-Oswego) who was engaged in a contest to succeed House Minority Leader Lee Daniels who resigned.

In politics for more than 15 years, including a stint on the Lake County board, the lawyer-banker found himself breaking new trails in McHenry County when redistricting overhauled the 52nd District a year ago. The roughly 50-50 split for the Lake County side includes Lakemoor, Volo, Island Lake, Wauconda, Port Barrington, Fox River Grove and the Barrington communities.

Beaubien has been designated as a party spokesman on budget matters, and revenue and labor issues. He also will be handling a variety of committee assignments.

Nothing trivial

Wauconda Trustee John Amrich entertained those present at a village board meeting with some Wauconda trivia. How many water towers (three) and how many presidential street names (11) ner Saturday, Feb. 15, if scheduling permits. Topinka is the highest ranking Republican state officer. Booked for Maravella's Banquet Hall, Fox Lake, the event is a high point for the Lake County GOP.

Paulson promoted

Martin "Marty" Paulson is settling in as the new Lake County Supervisor of Assessments. Paulson, a resident of Wadsworth, succeeds Ken Larson of Antioch, who retired officially Dec. 31. Paulson was Larson's long-time assistant.

Budget criticized

Hawthorn Woods Mayor Kelth Hunt is suffering criticism for a top-heavy public works budget, especially with the assault on trees considered to be cluttering up roadway right-of-ways. Critics are finding fault with a public works budget of 27 percent that is just one percent less than the police budget.

Popular post?

Third Lake Mayor Donna Golchert is wondering about all the interest in the mayor's job. Two challengers have filed for the April 1 balloting for mayor in the normally placid village. The aspirants are Steve Chiodo and James Tutaj.

were questions. The audience and fellow board members did pretty well.

Gurnee connection

Former Gurnee engineer Bud Reed's expertise can now be found at Volo Village Board meetings. After 17 years as Gurnee's engineer, Reed, who was not re-appointed by Gurnee Mayor Don Rudny, was hired by Manhard and Associates, Volo's village engineer. Another former Gurnee staffer, Jon Wildenberg, is the Volo planner.

Thank goodness for dumb crooks

The daily news, sadly, is full of crime stories these days but on rare occasions they sometimes have satisfying endings.

Consider this one from Los Angeles: A thug decided to car-jack a van, but when he opened the door out came the occupants, a college judo team.

The students needed the practice anyway so they used the thug for a punching and kicking bag, just enough to teach him a lesson. Afterward, a team member was invited on the "Today" show to discuss the gratification they had in subduing the hoodlum.

It's always uplifting when the old adage is true: Crime doesn't pay. And our crime rate would be even higher if some of the criminals weren't inept, one sandwich short of a picnic, or a few fries short of a Happy Meal.

(It's fun to insult people who have it coming.)

Here's another recent news item with a satisfying ending: Edward Blaine, a real loser, robbed a bank in Virginia. First he left a trail of $100 bills as he fled, trying to stuff the money into his pockets, and when he reached his getaway car he found the keys were inside. He had locked himself out!

THE PFARR CORNER

Blaine, still wearing a mask, began beating on a car window with a piece of wood. This attracted bystanders who chased and caught him. Blaine pulled out a gun and pulled the trigger, shooting himself in the leg.

"Oh, well," he told police. "Nothing was going right today anyway."

Blaine obviously isn't the sharpest knife in the drawer; in fact, he's a half-quart low on the dipstick of life. (It's fun to belittle people, especially when they aren't nice people.)

In a little Wisconsin town not far from us, bankers arrived for work one morning to discover someone had broken into their building. Apprehending the culprit was easy, they just followed his footprints in the snow to his home a few doors away.

A surveillance camera captured this bungle on television: Three hooligans tried to hold up a convenience store. One pointed a gun at the owner. Undaunted, the owner grabbed a handy golf club and began swinging it at the crooks.

After a tussle the robbers decided there must be easier pickings elsewhere and fled out the door. At they pulled away in their car the store owner was still after them, smashing car windows with the golf club.

Police remind us it's best not to resist like that. Give the bad guys the money and whatever else they want. We can always recoup that, but not our lives.

And now for another true story in which we almost feel sorry for the man who broke a Chicago city ordinance that slaps a $500 fine on public urinals.

During our recent sub-zero weather this "law breaker" had a weak bladder and saw he was all alone at a concrete wall near Wrigley Field. You couldn't blame him for considering this an emergency, but he got too close to the wall and froze a body part against it; a very dire situation.

Fortunately, someone came along who could fetch him a cup of warm water.

Bring soldiers home

Six days after the World Trade Center disaster, President Bush loaded his gun and put his finger on the trigger. He and his oil-minded advisors are on a mission.

I believe President Bush and his advisors ought to start listening to the U.N. inspectors in Iraq, and not be in a hurry to kill a lot of innocent people. President Bush's threats and mind-boggling speeches are brainwashing the whole world. He has us all sitting on the edge of our chairs.

We and the whole world know that if Iraq makes any threats or attacks any nations, then we the United States alone could take out Iraq in a week. So Mr.

President you should get your finger off the trigger and bring home the soldiers so that they can get on with their lives.

Consider environment

I would like to thank Claude LeMere for having the foresight to add commercial development to Antioch. I would also like to thank Mayor Taso Maravelas and the village board for approving the Super Wal-Mart project for Antioch. I, like many of you, care about our village, but it is time to look to the future and realize we are growing with new developments being approved. It is time to add commercial, which adds to our tax base, instead of residential, which impacts our schools. It will take several years for the village and schools to see the tax dollars benefit, but it will definitely be an asset to our community.

My main concern regarding this project is that the developer and the village staff will be sensitive to the environmental impact this will be creating to the environmental areas surrounding this project.

Arrogant act

To call what former Governor Ryan did a mistake or a misjudgment on his behalf would be an understatement. To commute the death penalty of 167 prisoners showed that he completely lost touch with reality. This was not a courageous, moral, or just act by former Governor Ryan. It was an arrogant one. Now, the families of all the victims get the pleasure of knowing their tax dollars are assisting in keeping these convicts alive.

I could see how former Governor Ryan might reconsider some of the death penalty cases that had some doubt surrounding them in the first place, but perhaps that would have been too logical. There have been 13 wrongful death penalty sentences in the last 26 years from which the prisoners were exonerated and set free. That is roughly one person every two years.

There are far more horrific crimes that occur in Illinois than one every two years. These numbers don't justify what Ryan did. He has thrown thousands upon thousands of dollars and hours of work down the drain in an attempt to free his guilty conscience. All of the time and effort put forth by numerous attorneys and judges has been wasted and made to look meaningless.

To think that someone believes Ryan should be awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for what he's done is ridiculous. It would be a sad day in our country when a man is rewarded with a prestigious award honoring him for allowing guilty men and women to escape justice.

Looming loss

Many articles have been written lately regarding the sale of the Hastings Lake YMCA property. Whether you are a strong supporter of the coalition, are indifferent to the sale or were not aware that we had a YMCA in our community, here are some thoughts you should consider before they let a developer build on this property.

Where will all the children go to school? What impact will this have on our police and fire departments? What will traffic be like on Grand Avenue (especially since the new hospital will be built across the street)? What will all the teenage children who attended summer camp there be doing with their idle time now that they have no place to go? Who's taxes will go up to cover all these impacts on our community?

For 80 years the YMCA peacefully coexisted in our community asking nothing from us as neighbors. Now it is our time to take a minute and let the village and township administrators know that maybe developing this property is not what the community needs or wants. You have the power as a member of this community to have a say on what happens here, whether through your voice or through your vote. Take a minute and make a phone call.

If you don't take the time now, in two years when you have to leave 30 minutes earlier to get to work, while your child is sitting in an over-crowded classroom and your property is less desirable due to high taxes and negative impact to community safety you'll wish you had.

No tax limit

Are these people crazy? Do they feel that because we live in Lake County we have unlimited funds? That they are the only ones that should not be held accountable and to live within the constraints of a budget?

The nation's economy is in the dumper, which affects all of us and yet we are supposed to approve another $592 increase in property taxes? This on top of the approximately $284 increase that was just barely approved last November. Give me a break!

The property tax rate in Grayslake is getting way out of hand. As a result, the desperately needed commercial real estate is seeking residence elsewhere. They are more willing to pay higher rents in Gurnee than the outrageous property taxes in Grayslake. Who can blame them, especially when it looks as if there is no end in sight. Does the school district think that because one vote finally passed (on its third try) that they should just keep inundating us with threats to get another referendum passed?

Telling truth about abuse helps church cope: bishop

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

A new era has dawned when it comes to the relationship between a priest and his people.

In today's emotionally-charged atmosphere of sexual abuse of minors by priests and the removal of some priests from parishes, the days of a campout or a trip to the ice cream store by priests and young people are gone.

On the positive side, Bishop Jerome Listecki of the Chicago Archdiocese believes that the emotions of the scandal of the past 13 months are adequately being addressed. About 75 parishioners of St. Bede Catholic Church in Ingleside gathered to hear Listecki's comments about the matter.

"I think that we have a climate where victims feel comfortable in alleging complaints. If there is an allegation, it is investigated fully, keeping in mind that we are dealing with people's reputations," Listecki said. "The only thing that I can compare it to is would be if abuse happened with a family."

Lake County has been touched by the scandal with a pastor, Rev. Ray Skriba, at St. Joseph in Round Lake, and two former Transfiguration Church pastors brought up on previous sex abuse charges. Listecki attended the Dallas conference of bishops, which set the framework for rules regarding allegations of abuse.

"It is a mixture of reactions. There is sadness, anger, hurt and embarrassment," Listecki said. It is Listecki's role as vicar of priests to go to parishes and inform them that a priest has been removed.

This is due to the new laws first drafted at the U.S. Conference of Bishops in Dallas and further refined through talks with the Holy See officials, the Vatican.

"We are fortunate in a way, here in Chicago, that there were procedures in place in the 1990s under Cardinal Bernardin, to handle these situations. But even those have been tweaked by the Dallas conference," he said.

Listecki reaffirmed a report by Cardinal Francis George that no funds donated by parishioners will be used by the diocese to help pay to help victims.

"It will come from excess property that the diocese may have or insurance (funds)," Listecki said.

"I hope that we have come to some type of a resolution on this issue," said Rev. Tim Fairman, pastor of St. Bede.

"I think that it has been communicated in an open way," said parishioner Bob Collins.

Listecki told the interested audience that the old way of thinking was 'the less said about an abuse situation the better chance for reform.' The church thinks the opposite now, led by public pressure.

"It used to be that a parish priest would not question what another priest was doing. But now, there is a fraternal obligation, a moral obligation, to do so. And not just about sexual abuse, but about how the parish is being run, too," Listecki said.

Chicago Metro YMCA won't sell pool, center

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER
Staff Reporter

An apparent about-face in the YMCA of Metropolitan Chicago's bidding process has Hastings Lake YMCA members up in arms, with some threatening to cancel YMCA memberships in the wake of the change.

When the Chicago association announced in October its plans to sell "all or part" of the Hastings Lake campuses, the entire Hastings Lake board of directors resigned, forming the Hastings Lake Community Coalition, with the intention of purchasing the property and running an independent YMCA.

"We were told the community center parcel was out of the bid process for everyone except the coalition," coalition chair George Richter said. He accused the YMCA of Metropolitan Chicago of "reneging" on its agreement to encourage an independent YMCA as, last week, the Chicago-based board of trustees ruled it will give no preferential treatment to the coalition.

Between 7-15 acres of the Hastings Lake property is to be retained by the association. This includes the pool and fitness facility. The balance of the 265-acre property, which includes a lake and wetlands, is in a sealed bid process. The deadline for bids is Feb. 12.

At a public meeting of the coalition, held on Jan. 27, local residents became indignant when they learned the association's decision to keep the community center off the bidding block was a direct result of the coalition's efforts to rally support.

"Our plan backfired," said Richter. At an earlier meeting of the coalition, the public was encouraged to participate in the YMCA to let the Chicago association know the community was intent on preserving its presence in the community.

"We heard the community's voice," said Steve Dahlin, senior vice president of operations for the YMCA of Metropolitan Chicago. Citing a large membership increase during the past few weeks, Dahlin said the association now viewed the site as a "viable business."

According to coalition members, Hastings Lake has been a profitable operation for several years.

"During the past three years the Hastings Lake YMCA produced over $1 million," said Richter. "That could have been used to improve this facility."

Instead, according to coalition members, the money was siphoned off to support other Metropolitan facilities. Dahlin admitted, "YMCAs that provide surpluses help support other Ys."

Several people at the meeting indicated their intention to cancel memberships, citing their lack of faith in the Metropolitan board.

"Clearly the Metropolitan group cannot be trusted," said Richter. "What purpose do we have in buying (the property) if we can't run the Y?"

"You said you needed money fast," said coalition member Suzanne Smith. "If you are dedicated to the Y and its core values, what is the problem with getting the money you want and keeping the community happy by selling to the coalition?"

"The support you wanted is gone," she added.

Hastings names Haas as director

Rich Haas, formerly director of the Foglia YMCA in Lake Zurich, is undergoing a baptism of fire, as he takes on the executive directorship of the Hastings Lake YMCA.

Barely three weeks in his new position, Haas faced the wrath of local residents at the Hastings Lake Community Coalition meeting.

"My job is relationship building," he said. His work is cut out for him, as he encounters the possibility of losing both old and new members in the aftermath of the YMCA of Metropolitan Chicago's decision to keep the membership center at Hastings Lake.

At present, Haas is running the center with no board of directors. The previous board resigned when the sale of the property was announced. They formed the Hastings Lake Community coalition, with the intention of purchasing and running the YMCA.

"In about a month we will be looking for a new board of directors," he said.

Sitting beside him during his interview, Chicago association spokesperson Nicole Leiter said the search for a new board would occur "once things are resolved."

Haas stressed his—and the association's—commitment to the Hastings Lake community center. Noting the Foglia center is a model YMCA facility, he described plans to improve and expand the existing Hastings Lake facility on the 7-15 acres the Y plans to retain after the sale of the rest of the campus.

In answer to questions about the future of day camping and childcare at Hastings Lake, Haas said the YMCA was looking into off-site locations for day care. He expects to announce day care programs for next year before the end of the current school year.

Haas began his YMCA career 11 years ago, at the Lattof Y in Des Plaines. In 1999, he became director of the Foglia Y, the second newest in the association of 31 YMCA facilities and 100 satellite sites.—Brenda Beitscher

Gall named president of LCMS

Dr. Eric P. Gall, Professor and Chairman of the Department of Medicine at Finch University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School has been elected President of the Lake County Medical Society. Gall is a rheumatologist who came to Finch University in 1994 after 21 years on the faculty at University of Arizona, where he was the Director of the Arthritis Center.

Gall is also a recent recipient of the Illinois Chapter Laureate Award from the American College of Physicians-American Society of Internal Medicine for his abiding commitment to excellence in medical care, education and research, and in service to his community, his Chapter, and the ACP-ASIM.

Gall's presidency, effective Jan. 1, will focus on two primary directives: continuing to build the relationship between FUHS/CMS and the practicing physicians in Lake County, and working toward tort reform in the State of Illinois.

2002-03 LAKELAND MEDIA BOYS BASKETBALL PROGRESS REPORT

Steve Peterson and John Phelps contributed to this report. Photos by Sandy Bressner, Lynn Gunnarson Dahlstrom, Samir Id-Deen, Candace H. Johnson and Steve Young.

This has been a season of streaks and milestones. Zion-Benton, with star guards Andre White and Julian Lott, are looking for a top seed in the Waukegan sectional come March. White, headed for the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee next year, became the school's all-time leading scorer earlier this season. The only thing this guy hasn't done is make a trip with the Bees down to Peoria. Looks for that to change in a little over a month from now. The Bees are tall but they're fast and can score in bunches. Quincy Rogers, MacArthur White and Keenan Davis have really stepped up their game. Libertyville, which handed Zion's only loss, is solid with Ryan Schwerman in the middle and Austin Yarc running the point. Ben Engstrom is silky smooth from the outside. Schwerman suffered a broken wrist and missed the first few games as Libertyville started 2-3. They are now 13-4, thanks largely to his inside presence and, oh, an 11-game winning streak. The Cats play an up-tempo game and a smothering defense at times. They need to avoid the mental lapses and lack of intensity for that 2-3 minute stretch when they let other teams back in the game. Like in the third quarter against North Suburban Lake leading Stevenson.

Andrew Wynne, C.J. Walleck and the Grant Bulldogs are certainly challenging Zion for the top spot in the North Suburban Prairie. The Dogs lost to the Bees in early January but will get a crack at revenge when Zion comes calling for the rematch Fri., Feb. 21 on the west side. Wynne will look to add to his 1,000-career point total.

Don't ever count Chuck Ramsey's Warren Blue Devils out. They always step it up come 'crunch time'. Warren has struggled a little its lack of height. But that's music, perhaps, to Ramsey's ears because defense, after all, wins championships. Ryan Murphy has been solid in the middle, averaging close to Crunch time!

Libertyville's Austin Yarc (21) goes against Zion-Benton's Julian Lott (20).

20 a game. Junior newcomer to varsity Casey Pond is chipping in close to 11 per ballgame and will be a factor in the post season. The Treiber brothers are always a threat as well.

Upstart Round Lake has a solid inside-outside game, not to mention a terrific trapping defense. Jimbo Nicoline, Dre Gant, Tony Murdock and the Panthers are currently 8-7 and looking to finish above .500 in at least five years since Leroy Nordlund took over the helm.

Carmel could be scary come regionals. Jack Simmons and Mark Venegoni take care of business in the paint while the Corsairs rely on K.J. Whigham and Kyle Robinson from the outside, among others.

Down the road we have Mundelein, with inside threat Matt Corning filling it up. Jamie Hawkins and Ryan Raymundo have been potent from the perimeter. Turnovers and playing with intensity for all four quarters have kept the Mustangs from climbing over the .500 mark. They're still a dangerous team, however, and could snakebite you any given night.

Grayslake has struggled record-wise. Josh Peregrin was out for most of the first half of the season with a torn ACL. But Tim Bowen has the Rams playing good defense. The team has gone 2-2 since Christmas and look to finish strong heading into regionals.

Johnsburg is rolling in the Big Northern. Heck, they're rolling period. The Skyhawks, led by 6-foot, 8-inch John Smith, are currently undefeated at 16-0 and look to challenge for a Class A State title.

The injury bug and losing players to graduation have not been kind to teams like Vernon Hills, Wauconda and Antioch. Still, all are playing with a lot of heart and as the saying goes, when the post-season rolls around, anything can happen. That's what makes sports, specifically on the prep level, so intriguing. —By John Phelps

TEAM-BY TEAM CAPSULES

ESCC

Carmel Corsairs

Current record: 8-11 (3-6 ESCC)

Last year: 10-16 overall (6-8 in ESCC)

Head coach: Joe Molloy (3rd yr.)

Key players: G Kyle Robinson, Sr.; F Jack Simmons, Jr.; G Bryan Heinrichs, Sr.; F Arie Herzog, Sr.; G Pat Graham, Sr.; G Dexter Reid Jr., Sr.; G K.J. Whigham, Sr.; F Mark Venegoni, Jr.; G Nate Rittenberry, Jr.

Down the stretch: The Corsairs struggled out of the gates but have since been playing some very competitive basketball. Venegoni and Simmons are tough in the paint. Whigham, Robinson and Reid are good floor generals who can light it up from outside. Problem with the Corsairs is one quarter, they are world-beaters but minutes later, the other team is making a run. It translates to confidence. Carmel starts lowering their heads and all of a sudden the opposition is ahead on the scoreboard. Stay focused, fellas! You certainly have the talent.

Quotable: "Some of the guys were in a trance out there the first couple of games. The ball was like a grenade—nobody wanted to handle the ball." —Head Coach Joe Molloy

Mid-season grade: C

FOX VALLEY

Grayslake Rams

Current record: 4-14 (3-7)

Last year: 10-17 (7-11 Fox Valley)

Head coach: Tim Bowen (3rd yr.)

Key players: G Josh Peregrin, Jr.; G Jay Bajgett, Jr.; G Andrew Forshee, Jr.; F Devlin McCluskey, Sr.; G Derrick Bowers, Sr.; C Tom Rapanos, Sr.; F Doug Hanson, Sr.

Down the stretch: The Rams suffered a blow when sharpshooter Josh Peregrin went down in the beginning of the season with a torn ACL. Bajgett also broke his hand and was out for the first seven games of the year. But both are back and the Rams are healthy, which means more cohesiveness. Since returning, Peregrin is chipping in 8 points per game. Hanson has been solid in the middle while the perimeter game has been sharp with McCluskey, Bajgett, Gentella and Forshee. McCluskey has averaged 17 a game as Grayslake has gone 2-2 since Christmas. Bajgett's averaging 10 and Gentella and Hanson are both around 8 in what has turned into a balanced offensive attack. Bowen's troops have slowed down the pace on offense, which has yielded more patience and more wins. McCluskey's senior leadership is becoming invaluable.

Quotable: "We're just going to keep plugging away. Hopefully the latest trend we've set will continue." —Head Coach Tim Bowen

Mid-season grade: C-

NORTH SUBURBAN LAKE DIVISION

Antioch Sequoits

Current record: 5-14 (0-6 NSC Lake)

Last year: 10-18 (2-8 NSC Lake)

Head coach: Jeff Dresser (16th yr.)

Key players: G Ryan Bell, Sr.; F Nick Severson, Sr.; F/G Eric Lear, Jr.; G Kyle White, Jr.; C Richard Brown, Jr.; F Mike Persman, Sr.; G Chris Kiddoo, Jr.

Down the stretch: Teams have some trouble with the Sequoits' slow-down, half-court offense. Antioch can score in bunches but not before the defense gets lax and lets the opposition get out to too big of a lead. Different players step into the limelight—but not at the same time during games. Brown has been steady in the post, both in terms of scoring and on the boards. Lear and White are good from the outside, but when one is one, the other is not. A tough road awaits with games against

Warren, Stevenson, Libertyville and Zion Benton, will let Antioch know exactly where it stands heading into regional action.

Quotable: "We have a lot of interchangeable parts, guys who can play 2-3 different positions." —Head Coach Jeff Dresser

Libertyville Wildcats

Current record: 13-4 (1-2 NSC Lake)

Last year: 21-6 (8-2, NSC Lake champs)

Down the stretch: The Cats have been a scary team, especially since the return of Schwerman, who missed the first few games with a broken wrist. Since then, they have only lost once during a span that included 11 straight wins. Handling Zion its only loss in December started that streak after a 2-3 start. Goodwin stresses defense while pushing the ball up the court in rapid fashion on the offensive end. The Cats are holding opponents to 54 points a game while the offense ranks in the top-10 in the area at close to 62 points per game. Yare runs the show and runs it well. Engstrom, Dan Gibbons and Taylor add to the solid scoring attack. Hogan and Zurek are tough cookies with their defensive prowess. Both can also score when teams collapse on Schwerman and Taylor in the paint. The only thing keeping Libertyville from running the table is that little 2-3 minute span where they allow teams back into ballgames. Play with intensity for 32 minutes and we'll see you guys in Waukegan.

Quotable: "We've been weathering the storm. The nice thing about these guys is that they can adjust to just about anything without having to practicing it first." —Head Coach Jim Goodwin

Mid-season grade: A-

Mundelein Mustangs

Current record: 8-11 (2-4)

Last year: 9-18 (3-7 NSC Lake)

Head coach: Perry Wilhelm (8th yr.)

Key players: G Ryan Raymundo, Sr.; G Jamie Hawkins, Sr.; F Matt Corning, Jr.; G Brian Leay, Sr.; C Steve Sliozis, Jr.; F Adrian Henry, Sr.

Down the stretch: A turnover here, a missed shot there and the Mustangs are several games over the .500 mark. They are still going to surprise some teams, especially when you have the inside game of Corning (19 ppg). Put that together with the floor generalship of Hawkins and the outside scoring of Raymundo (11.5 ppg) and you have an offense that averages a crisp 58 points per game. Raymundo is near the top in the area with his three-point shooting. Free-throw shooting has been a trouble spot for the Mustangs. In a 68-58 loss to Warren, they only made 7-of-15. Shooting 3-for-15 from the field in the third quarter also kept them from upending the Devils. Henry also runs the offense well and has the physical presence on defense, which in turn leads to pretty good chemistry that the Mustangs are striving for consistently. Gaebler is also dishing out 3-4 assists per game, someone to keep an eye on.

Quotable: "The kids are playing hard but in spurts. We just have to get some of our chemistry back and we'll be okay." —Head Coach Perry Wilhelm

Mid-season grade: C+

Warren Blue Devils

Current record: 10-6 (4-2 NSC Lake)

Last year: 18-11 (7-3 NSC Lake)

Head coach: Chuck Ramsey (10th yr.)

Down the stretch: The Devils have been a little sporadic at times this season. Ironically, defense and rebounding are the area's of concern for Ramsey and the boys. But no matter what, these guys know when to get that big defensive stop when they need it, which is one of the traits that is so important come playoff time. Pond (11 ppg) has been a pleasant surprise. He joins Dan and Ryan Treiber as potent outside scorers. Murphy has come a long way in the paint, with his 19 points per clip. Free-throw shooting has been a trouble spot at times. If that's cured and the defensive intensity is there where it usually is, we'll see the 'Blue Crew' once again at the 'Dawg Pound'.

Quotable: "We have to be physically tougher. We also have to be able to play as we think." —Head Coach Chuck Ramsey

Mid-season grade: B+

NORTH SUBURBAN PRAIRIE DIVISION

Wauconda Bulldogs

Current record: 4-11 (1-5 NSC Prairie)

Last year: 3-24 (1-9 NSC Prairie)

Head coach: Rich Wolf (3rd yr.)

Key players: Pt.-G Ken Nitz, Sr.; F Steve Hernandez, Sr.; F Alex Wallace, Jr.; G Hawk Haiduke, Sr.; G Tyler Balma, Sr.

Down the stretch: The Bulldogs have been in a position to win a lot more games than the won-loss record indicates. They haven't yet mastered the formula where finishing teams off in those close games is concerned. But, according to Coach Wolf, playing with intensity for all four quarters will certainly help matters. The Dogs are undersized, but make up for with quickness and good outside shooting. Wauconda will definitely learn where it stands because they will be playing some of the best down the stretch, with the likes of Warren, Zion-Benton, Stevenson and Buffalo Grove on the slate. "We could always do better rebounding, too," said the coach. "We really stress defense because that can win a lot of games for you. Our goal, though, is to keep teams under or around 50 points. Doing that will give us the opportunity to win ballgames." Wauconda will have to do without the services of Ty Weidner, a good outside shooter who is most likely out for the season with a stress fracture in his knee.

Quotable: "We undersized but I'm really proud of the kids because they work hard and are always trying to improve." —Head Coach Rich Wolf

Mid-season grade: C

Down the stretch: Good things are definitely happening out in Fox Lake. The Bulldogs are in position to challenge for the NSC Prairie title with Zion-Benton, whom they lost to already but have at home later in February. Wynne in a monster inside. He's near the top in the county with his 18 points per game scoring average. In that loss to the Bees, he hit for his 1,000th career point. Walleck adds to the 1-2 inside punch with his scoring and defense. Lotz and Burger have provided sparks. The main area of concern for the Dogs is avoiding that big run by the other team. These guys have been in every one of their losses except for Zion. But everyone is almost healthy and rest assured, the outcome against Zion should produce different results come Feb. 21.

Quotable: "Our shot selection has been excellent. But we need to do a better job of handling the press." —Head Coach Phil Ralston

Grant Bulldogs

Current record: 12-4 (4-1)

Last year: 20-6 (7-3 NSC Prairie)

Head coach: Phil Ralston (3rd yr.)

Key players: F Andrew Wynne, Sr.; G/F C.J. Walleck, Sr.; G Brian Lotz, Jr.; C Brent Johnson, Sr.; C Brad Burger, Jr.

Round Lake Panthers

Current record: 8-7 (1-2 NSC Prairie)

Last year: 7-19 (3-7 NSC Prairie)

Head coach: Leroy Nordlund (5th yr.)

Down the stretch: It's been at least six years since the Panthers have finished over .500. That looks to change, especially with the potent inside-outside game. Patrolling the paint and crashing the boards are Gant and Murdock. Nicoline, Anderson and Felner have been known to light it up on any given night. Right now, the defense is allowing 57 points per game. Parker, a good outside shooter and floor leader, missed the first 11 games of the season with an injured ankle. He's back but not full strength as of yet. Nordlund would like to see the defense continue to step up, especially when it comes to trapping and pressing. If the Panthers can master that, they're in store for more than just a .500 season.

Quotable: "A nice season would be great for the school. We need something like that." —Head Coach Leroy Nordlund

Mid-season grade: B

Vernon Hills Cougars

Current record: 2-16 (1-5)

Last year: 20-8 (7-3 NSC Prairie)

Head coach: Michael Murphy (3rd yr.)

Key players: G Ian Peckler, Sr.; F Michael Bahnick, Sr.; G Mark Paulson, Sr.; G Chris Gai, Sr.; G/F Ivaylo Ivanov, Jr.; G/F Dan Fitzpatrick, Jr.

Down the stretch: The Cougars' have had it kind of rough. So goes the proverbial wheel. They lost three prolific scorers in Jason Newburger, Steven Melvin and Matt Gleebs. But they're learning and will only get better with experience. Peckler, Fitzpatrick and Steve Radojevic have provided much of the scoring. Turnovers have plagued them. They had 25 in a 20-point loss to NSC Prairie power Zion-Benton. The defense isn't bad having allowed 56 points per contest through the first 18 games. Keep playing fellas! Look what happened last year when you were down to Mundelein in the final quarter—you put on a furious comeback in coming away with the school's first regional basketball win.

Quotable: "Several of our guys have played supporting roles before. I think they're ready to show what they can do." —Head Coach Michael Murphy

Zion-Benton Zee-Bees

Current record: 18-1 (6-0 NSC Prairie)

Last year: 24-6 (10-0, NSC Prairie champs)

Key players: G Andre White, Sr.; G Julian Lott, Jr.; F Quincy Rogers, Jr.; F MacArthur White, Sr.; F Donte Bowers, Sr.; C Rajohn Kidd, Jr.; G Alex Morrison, Jr.; G Marcus Ruskin, Jr.

Down the stretch: Andre White (18 ppg) is Andre White. Julian Lott can hit the three's at any given time. The telling tale for Zion if they want to get to Peoria is the supporting cast, which, to this point, has been terrific. MacArthur White, Andre's cousin, has been effective in the paint while Rogers, all of 6-foot, 2-inches, has held his own against some of the best big men in the county. Keenan Davis is a nice spark off the bench. The Bees average a ton of points. The speed of the man-to-man defense also yields double-digit turnovers per ballgame. The only obstacle for Zion is, well, Zion. Don't Bee your own worst enemy and you may have that date in Peoria.

Quotable: "We're smaller than most teams but still effective in the post. We need to keep playing unselfishly and under control." —Head Coach Don Kloth

Mid-season grade: A

2002-03 LAKELAND MEDIA BOYS BASKETBALL PROGRESS REPORT

Meet the coaches

Tim Bowen

Coach: Tim Bowen
Team: Grayslake Rams
High school attended: Dallas City (West of Peoria) College graduated from: Illinois State
Years as head coach at school: 3
Years coaching overall: 17
Why got involved with coaching: When I was in high school and college, I really liked watching coaches like Dean Smith and Rollie Massimino—it just looked like fun. I always wanted to do some kind of coaching.
Biggest coaching highlight to date: When was assistant coach with Chuck Ramsey at Warren, we took second in the State tournament in 1998-99. My six years at Warren was basically a highlight.
During a bad stretch, what keeps you going?: Just trying to figure out ways to get better and keep improving. Sometimes it drives you crazy trying to figure out ways. But that's what keeps you going.
Overall coaching philosophy: Hard work. Lots of hard work. Playing together and a team is also very important.

Coach: Perry Wilhelm
Team: Mundelein Mustangs
High school attended: Mundelein
College graduated from: Northern Illinois
Years as head coach at school: 8
Years coaching overall: 21
Why got involved with coaching: I've put a lot of time into it and always loved being involved with athletics since majoring in physical education at Northern.
Biggest coaching highlight to date: When I was the head varsity softball coach here in 1994, we finished third in the State. I also enjoyed the 1998-99 boy's basketball team when we won regionals and got to play in Waukegan.

Coaches take plenty of heat. The only exposure they get sometimes during games happens when they're whistled for a technical. What about the masterminds behind the madness? The one's who call the shots and plan strategies from the sidelines. The one's who sometimes struggle to put the best possible five players on the floor at varying times, depending on the situation. As part of its mid-season progress report, Lakeland Media decided to take a closer look at area high school coaches and what drives them.

During a bad stretch, what keeps you going?: Always working at getting better at the game. The kids help keep you going, too. Regardless of the wins and losses, just knowing I'm having a positive influence on them.
Overall coaching philosophy: You're making a commitment to a group, the team. Getting the kids to work hard so that they can carry on a good experience for the rest of their lives.

Leroy Norlund

Coach: Leroy Norlund
Team: Round Lake Panthers
High school attended: Round Lake
College graduated from: Western Illinois
Years as head coach at school: 5
Years coaching overall: 16
Why got involved with coaching: I loved dealing with kids and the teaching aspect of basketball.
Biggest coaching highlight to date: Getting the first varsity coaching (against Mundelein).
During a bad stretch, what keeps you going?: Just seeing the progress were making as a team and how much more progress we can make as a group.
Overall coaching philosophy: Philosophies are going to change from group to group and year to year. But as long as we continue to work on the fundamentals of the game and keep getting better.

Coach: Phil Rahlston

Team: Grant Bulldogs
High school attended: Glenbrook North
College graduated from: University of Minnesota (under-grad); currently finishing Masters at Northwestern
Years as head coach at school: 3
Years coaching overall: 9
Why got involved with coaching: I've always been a big basketball fan. I had the opportunity to be a graduate assistant coach at Northwestern. That's when it kind of started. I coached the freshman at Deerfield High School before a teaching position opened at Grant. While at Grant, I coached at Trinity International before becoming Tom Maple's assistant on varsity for two years before taking the head coaching job after he retired.
Biggest coaching highlight to date: I've been honored to be a part of several. But the biggest was probably winning the Marengo tournament for the first time in the school's history. We beat a good Winnebago team, which only has two losses this season, for the title.
During a bad stretch, what keeps you going?: I don't really care what the record is as long as we continue to improve. When there is a bad stretch (or season) we just try and identify the problems and correct them in practice.
Overall coaching philosophy: Play tough man-to-man defense. I like seeing the kids take ownership of the team. If you can get them to believe this is their team and they want to be known for something, in most cases, they step up and deliver. Being good citizens and students is also very important. I'm a big believer in team unity—it's not just about what one person can do.

Coach: Chuck Ramsey
Team: Warren Blue Devils
High school attended: Johnston City (Ill.)
College graduated from: SIU-Carbondale
Years as head coach at school: 10
Years coaching overall: 30
Why got involved with coaching: I love the game and the competition.
Biggest coaching highlight to date: When we finished runner-up in the 1998-99 Class AA State playoffs.
During a bad stretch, what keeps you going?: The day to day interaction with the kids. You can never get away from that. If that's your focus, then a lot of other things fall into place.

Overall coaching philosophy: To continue to teach the kids to play hard, play smart and to play together. Things seem to work out if you follow that basic formula.

Coach: Rich Wolf
Team: Wauconda Bulldogs
High school attended: Schaumburg High School
College graduated from: Illinois State University
Years as head coach at school: 3 at Wauconda
Years coaching overall: 8
Why got involved with coaching: I've always been involved in competitive sports. I coached in summer camps and have always enjoyed coaching. I've had success and really like having the opportunity of trying to get the most out of kids while helping them develop.
Biggest coaching highlight to date: My first season as head coach here. We finished the season above .500 for the first time in the program's 29 years.
During a bad stretch, what keeps you going?: While wins and losses are important, my biggest thing is to get the kids to be better basketball players. As long as they want to learn and continue to develop. In times when we're not doing so well record-wise, the thing that really counts is that see how we can improve and continually try and get better.
Overall coaching philosophy: Taking a group of kids (and a program) and build and improve as much as we possibly can.
Special note: Please turn to the 2-7-03 edition of Lakeland Newspapers for the rest of the coaches profiles. Coming up next week: Antioch's Jeff Dresser, Johnsburg's Ed Sennett, Vernon Hills' Michael Murphy, Carmel's Joe Molloy, Libertyville's Jim Goodwin and Zion-Benton's Don Kloth.

2002-03 LAKELAND MEDIA GIRLS BASKETBALL PROGRESS REPORT

Steve Peterson and John Phelps contributed to this report. Photos by Sandy Bressner, Lynn Gunnarson Dahlstrom, Samir Id-Deen, Candace H. Johnson and Steve Young.

Who would have ever thought that mighty Stevenson would be below .500 for the first time since 1997? It's true. Other teams, though, made significant strides a year ago and are taking their programs to an even higher level this year.

Look at Grayslake, winners of 14 out of its last 15. The Rams, who earned the third seed in the Antioch sectional, won the school's first-ever regional title last March and are seriously challenging Dundee-Crown for the top spot in the Fox Valley Conference. They currently sit at 11-2 and a game behind the Chargers, a team they just beat five days ago. Kayla Ming is the real deal, averaging over 18 points per game. The junior sharpshooter surpassed 1,000 career points a couple of weeks ago. Where Grayslake lacks in size they make up for with quickness and defense. Senior Tiffany Lehner, all of 5-foot, 9-inches, can hang with anyone in the post.

Another team to be on the lookout for is Warren, winners of 13 straight. The Devils, led by Bradley-bound senior post player Amy Peters and her 21-plus point per game, got the No. 1 seed at the seeding meeting this week and rightfully so. The Scouts sit atop the NSC Lake at 8-0, while Warren improved to 7-1 in the league with a thrilling double-overtime win against rival Libertyville. The two collide Feb. 1 in Lake Forest. The Wessel sisters, Beth and Amy, have been known to light up the scoreboard, especially from behind the three-point arc. Trust us when we say, don't foul Amy Wessel. You'll see why if you do. The only thing stopping Warren is, well, Warren.

And speaking of Libertyville, first-year head coach Amy Holtsford's troops are hanging tough. Their only a game below .500 but with the way they played against area power Warren earlier in the week, they could be very dangerous come regional time. Take a look at senior forward Kelly True sometime. She's a warrior. Colleen Bray and Cassie Satala have been solid in the paint and Christie Schneider does a good job of running the floor. But watch for that centerline on the inbound pass next time.

Crunch time!

Carmel's Corryn Bitto

Carmel suffered a big setback when junior, Caitlin Krombach tore her ACL in her knee earlier in the season. The Corsairs lost their top scorer and perhaps one of the more hard-nosed players you'll see. But Jenny Eckhart has really taken her game to another level with Krombach out. Eckhart is one of the tops in the county in scoring at 18 points per clip.

Jennie Dewar of Antioch has also been on a tear for much improved Antioch. The junior forward had a stretch of three straight games where she scored over 20 points. The Sequoits won all three. They have won six out of seven and taken their program to the next level. But Warren, Stevenson and Libertyville are still thorns in their side. You never know with the playoffs approaching, though. Strange things happen.

Mundelein is struggling record wise but that doesn't mean this team isn't exciting. Take a peek at sophomore Sarah Miller and Beth Rosendahl. They are going to be prolific scorers for the next two years. Vernon Hills and the triple scoring threat of Lauren Horan, Beth Plucinski and Kim Rymer are all averaging in double figures for the 14-8 Cougars, who are in the thick of the North Suburban Prairie race along with Grant.

As for the upstart Grant Bulldogs—Rosa Csultis and Jenni Wick pack a mean scoring punch. Watch for freshman Ashley Arff for the next three years. Tom Oeffling and the girls are four wins shy of setting a new school record for wins in a season (18). Grant started off on fire at 10-0 but has since cooled down to 14-5. They will be a factor in regional—you can count on it.

Other teams haven't gotten to that upper echelon yet, but that doesn't mean they aren't a threat. Rachel Blau, Nicole Biskupski and Wauconda are feisty and could surprise. Round Lake has struggled but Amber Hussain and the Lady Panthers are always poised for an upset. Look out for Zion-Benton, with Dominique Moses and Lacey Simpson come playoff time. Johnsborg has found success in the Big Northern and currently sit at 10-9.—By John Phelps

TEAM-BY-TEAM PREVIEW CAPSULES

ESCC

Carmel Corsairs

Current record: 16-6 (4-0 ESCC)

Last year: 21-8 (4-5 in ESCC)

Head coach: John Ryan (4th yr.)

Key players: G Caitlin Krombach, 5-6, Jr.; Sr.; F Megan Lick, Sr.; G Jenny Eckhart, So.; F Keri Coleman, Sr.; G Becky Smith, Jr.; C Mary Devine, Sr.; F/C Corryn Bitto, Sr.

Down the stretch: Most people thought that losing top player Caitlin Krombach for the season to a torn ACL meant the end of Carmel's success this season. While the Corsairs did lose four straight games following the injury, they quickly righted the ship and have since won seven of eight games. What has been most surprising is the play of Eckhart, who is averaging 18 points and five assists per game in Krombach's absence. While Carmel is currently tied for first in the ESCC, a title does not appear very likely as the Corsairs close out the conference portion of their schedule against three of the top-10 teams in the state.

Quotable: "We still have a shot to win conference, but we're just hoping to get better every game."—Head Coach John Ryan

FOX VALLEY

Grayslake Rams

Current record: 17-5 (10-2 Fox Valley)

Last year: 23-9 (14-4 in FVC)

Key players: F Tiffany Lehner, Sr.; G Kayla Ming, Jr.; G Bethany Russ, Jr.; F Nicole Schroeder, Jr.; G Erin Myers, Sr.; F Erica Faden, Jr.

Down the stretch: Despite losing their best player Megan Francis to graduation, the Rams have not missed a beat and currently are in second place in the tough Fox Valley Conference, within a game of first-place Dundee-Crown. Ming and Lehner have become a dynamic duo for Grayslake, while the rest of the team chips in in different ways. With just a handful of games remaining, the Rams need Dundee-Crown to lose another game in order to share in a conference title but hopes are high for a repeat as regional champs.

Quotable: "We've had a target on our backs all season long, but the players have really responded."—Head Coach Mike Hirsch

NORTH SUBURBAN LAKE DIVISION

Antioch Sequoits

Current record: 10-12 (1-6 NSC Lake)

Last year: 10-18 (1-9 NSC Lake)

Head coach: Don Zeman (3rd yr.)

Key players: C Starla Williams, 6-1, Sr.; G Emily Bock, Jr.; F Jennie Dewar, Jr.; F/C Kate Hofeldt, So.; G Robyn Mortenson, Sr.

Down the stretch: After its customary slow start (3-9 at one point this season) that included a six-game losing streak, Antioch has been on a roll of late, winning seven of its last 10 games.

Behind Jennie Dewar's 15 points per game and the balanced scoring of Starla Williams, Emily Bock and Kate Hofeldt, the Sequoits are looking for their first winning season in quite some time. Given Antioch's tendency to finish its season strong, the Sequoits will almost certainly finish above the .500 mark. Dewar leads the team in scoring and rebounding with 15 and 9, respectively. Williams averages nine points and eight boards, Bock eight points, three assists and two steals, and Hofeldt eight points, six rebounds and two assists.

Quotable: "We'll have a real strong finish. There's no doubt about it."—Head Coach Don Zeman

Mid-season grade: C+

Libertyville Wildcats

Current record: 10-11 (4-3 NSC Lake)

Last year: 12-17 (3-7 NSC Lake)

Head coach: Amy Holtsford (1st yr.)

Key players: G Stephanie Dempski, Sr.; G/F Cassie Satala, Jr.; G/F Colleen Bray, Sr.; G/F Kelly True, Sr.; F/C Terra McGinn, Sr.; C Christine Haber, Jr.; G Christie Schneider, Jr.

Down the stretch: Despite the sub-.500 record, Libertyville has been playing much better ball of late on both ends of the court. Especially encouraging in the Cats' improved defense, which is managing to keep the team in just about every game. If Libertyville can get more consistent scoring from players other than Kelly True and Colleen Bray, look for the Cats to make some noise in the post-season.

Quotable: "Every girl contributes in different ways. They are all important to the success of this team."—Libertyville Head Coach Amy Holtsford

Mid-season grade: C+

Mundelein Mustangs

Current record: 8-17 (0-7 NSC Lake)

Last year: 22-11 (6-4 NSC Lake)

Head coach: Jeff Harding (1st yr.)

Key players: G Sarah Miller, So.; G Beth Rosendahl, So.; F Elizabeth Carrasco, Sr.; C Sara Wetzell, Jr.; F Ashley Cretacci, So.

Down the stretch: Not much was expected from a team that has four freshmen and one sophomore as its starters. But the Mustangs have shown signs of their potential as they go through the second half of their schedule. Mundelein has been getting solid contributions from sophomores Rosendahl and Miller, and Cretacci and Tkaczyk have shown flashes of brilliance. While a few more wins for the Mustangs down the stretch would be nice, look for the team to be solid next season.

Quotable: "We're such a young team. This year is basically setting up for the next two years."—Head Coach Jeff Harding

Warren Blue Devils

Current record: 20-4 (7-1 NSC Lake)

Last year: 23-7 (8-2 NSC Lake)

Head coach: John Stanczykiewicz (4th yr.)

Down the stretch: After starting the season 7-4, Warren has since won 13 games in a row and a win at Lake Forest on February 1 would give the Devils their first conference title under Stanczykiewicz. While Peters has been her usual monster self, several other players including Amy and Beth Wessel have stepped up to contribute to the Devils' success. If Warren can maintain its strong play down the stretch, look for the Devils to not only win conference but possibly make a trip downstate.

Quotable: "I told my team: 'You either get better or you get worse. You never stay the same. And we've been getting better.'"—Warren Head Coach John Stanczykiewicz

Mid-season grade: A

NORTH SUBURBAN PRAIRIE DIVISION

Grant Bulldogs

Current record: 14-5 (6-1 NSC Prairie)

Last year: 10-16 (5-5 NSC Prairie)

Head coach: Tom Oeffling (4th yr.)

Key players: F Shannon Gustafson, Jr.; G Rosa Csultis, 5-7, Sr.; F Jenni Wick, 5-7, Sr.; F Shannon Gustafson, Jr.; C Cassie Howard, Sr.; F Jessica Sword, Sr.

Down the stretch: Grant does not have any star players. What the Bulldogs do have, however, is five starters that average between five and 10 points per game and three bench players who average over five points per game. This consistency up and down the lineup gives Oeffling a number of options on any given night. Grant is currently tied for first place in the Prairie division as the team looks to win its first conference title since 1979. With wins in four of their last five games, the Bulldogs can also surpass last year's school-record win total of 17.

Quotable: "We're still working on our weaknesses, but we're playing good ball right now."—Head Coach Tom Oeffling

Mid-season grade: B+

Wauconda Bulldogs

Current record: 5-12 (1-6 NSC Prairie)

Last year: 4-22 (0-10 NSC Prairie)

Head coach: Tim Bartusch (4th yr.)

Key players: Pt.-G Jenny Kordas, 5-2, Sr.; F Nicole Bikupski, Sr.; G Colleen Witte, Sr.; F Stephanie Gertz, Sr.; F Rachel Blau, Sr.; F Genny Thomas, Sr.; G Amy Calendo.

Down the stretch: Although Wauconda has a poor record, the Bulldogs have been in every game as just four of their 13 losses have been blowouts. The defensive pressure has been solid and Wauconda has held its own on the boards, the team has just struggled down the stretch of close games. If the Bulldogs can manage to play well in the fourth quarter, look for them to add to their win total down the stretch.

Quotable: "We know that when we walk on the floor, we have a chance to win every game."—Head Coach Tim Bartusch

Mid-season grade: C

Round Lake Panthers

Current record: 1-17 (1-7 NSC Prairie)

Key players: G Amber Hussain, 5-6, Jr.; G Janet Marrufo, Sr.; F Ashley Pollard, Jr.; F Amanda Hoekstra, Jr.; F Jaime Schaufel, Jr.; F Kristen Poglayen, Sr.

Down the stretch: To analyze Round Lake's season one simply has to look at its won-loss record to see that it has not been a very good season for the Panthers. The team puts forth a solid effort every game but turnovers, poor rebounding and a poor shooting percentage are all key factors in preventing Round Lake from playing well on a consistent basis. If the Panthers can overcome these faults, look for them to compete in games down the stretch.

Quotable: "Our goal is to put together four quarters of good basketball. If you that, the rest will take care of itself."—Head Coach Gary Edge

Vernon Hills Cougars

Current record: 14-8 (6-1 NSC Prairie)

Last year: 10-21 (7-3 NSC Prairie)

Head coach: Paul Brettner (3rd yr.)

Key players: G-F Kim Rymer, Sr.; G Beth Plucinski, Sr.; G Lauren Horan, Jr.; F Holly Pettersen, Sr.; F Rachael Blanton, Jr.

Down the stretch: Apparently Vernon Hills' lack of size hasn't hurt the team this season as the Cougars currently sit tied for first in the Prairie division with Grant and have won four games in a row. Vernon has received consistent scoring from the trio of Plucinski, Rymer and Horan as the rest of the team occasionally chips in with solid performances. If the Cougars can hold it together the rest of the season, look for them to share in the Prairie division title and perhaps win their first regional game.

Quotable: "We're kind of pulling it all together right now, and hopefully we can peak by the end of the season."—Head Coach Paul Brettner

Zion-Benton Zee-Bees

Current record: 11-11 (4-3 NSC Prairie)

Last year: 14-11 overall (9-1 NSC Prairie champs)

Head coach: Mike Cliff (5th yr.)

Key players: G Nikeisha Smith, Sr.; G Lacey Simpson, So.; G Sara Paulosky, Jr.; P Dominique Moses, Sr.

Down the stretch: Zion-Benton has struggled through injuries and illness throughout much of the year, namely the loss of team MVP Nikeisha Smith to a torn ACL. Despite this, the Zee-Bees have managed to hang around .500 by playing as a team as they look for their first back-to-back winning seasons since 1992-93. If Zion-Benton can improve defensively and be a little more patient on offense, look for the Zee-Bees to win a game or two in the post-season.

Quotable: "I don't know if we can sneak back into the Prairie race, but hopefully we can make some noise at regionals."—Head Coach Mike Cliff

2002-03 LAKELAND MEDIA GIRLS BASKETBALL PROGRESS REPORT

Meet the coaches

Coach: Tim Bartusch
Team: Wauconda

Years as head coach at school: 1
Years coaching overall: 1
High school attended: Lake Zurich
College attended: Eastern Illinois University
Why you got involved in coaching: I played three sports at Lake Zurich and I've always enjoyed sports. Former Lake Zurich boys' varsity coach Doug Cook called me and asked me to help coach the team and I accepted.
Biggest coaching highlight to date: N/A
During a bad stretch, what keeps you going?: The kids keep me going. I've been fortunate enough to have good kids and they dedicate themselves to the program so I owe it to them to give them my best effort.
Overall coaching philosophy: I'm a pure man-to-man coach on defense, but I've had to change that since I've been at Wauconda. I like to run a team-oriented offense, but everything changes as the players change from year-to-year.

Coaches take plenty of heat. The only exposure they get sometimes during games happens when they're whistled for a technical. What about the masterminds behind the madness? The one's who call the shots and plan strategies from the sidelines. The one's who sometimes struggle to put the best possible five players on the floor at varying times, depending on the situation. As part of its mid-season progress report, Lakeland Media decided to take a closer look at area high school coaches and what drives them.

Coach: Gary Edge
Team: Round Lake

Years as head coach at school: 17
Years coaching overall: 20
High school attended: Clinton HS in Clinton, Wis.
College attended: UW-Parkside
Why you got involved in coaching: I was involved in sports in high school and coaching was just a natural extension for me.
Biggest coaching highlight to date: Winning the Prairie division in 2000 in our first year back in the North Suburban Conference.
During a bad stretch, what keeps you going?: It's only a bad stretch or a bad season if you have bad kids,

Gary Edge

Biggest coaching highlight to date: N/A

During a bad stretch, what keeps you going?: Realizing that sometimes you're playing teams with more talent. I try to look at factors that lead to us losing and I try to put my mind at ease.

Overall coaching philosophy: I like to win, but not at all costs. I want my players to become good citizens; my mark as a coach is made concerning where my players are 10 years from now.

John Stanczykiewicz

Coach: John Ryan
Team: Carmel

Years as head coach at school: 4
Years coaching overall: 30
High school attended: Providence-St. Mel in Chicago
College attended: St. Mary's in Winona, Minn.
Why you got involved in coaching: I played basketball in high school, I loved the game and when I got into education it seemed natural to become a coach.
Biggest coaching highlight to date: N/A
During a bad stretch, what keeps you going?: I just have to dig in and work harder and things will take care of themselves.
Overall coaching philosophy: Defense wins games and championships, so I concentrate on playing good defense. On offense I like to push the ball down the floor and get easy baskets. I want the team to work hard, play smart and work together.

Coach: Paul Brettner

Team: Vernon Hills
Years as head coach at school: 3
Years coaching overall: 8
High school attended: Rolling Meadows
College attended: Bradley University
Why you got involved in coaching: I wanted to be a teacher so I could coach soccer and basketball.
Biggest coaching highlight to date: Beating Carmel on Nov. 27 back when they still had Caitlin Krombach.
During a bad stretch, what keeps you going?: Seeing improvement and seeing the kids work hard keeps me going.
Overall coaching philosophy: I like a full-court man-to-man defense and a motion offense. I'm a team-oriented coach that likes to get everyone involved.

Coach: Amy Holtsford

Team: Libertyville
Years as head coach at school: 13
Years coaching overall: 20
High school attended: DeKalb
College attended: University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign
Why you got involved in coaching: I've always loved the sport and I enjoy the relationships I can build with players.
Biggest coaching highlight to date: My biggest highlights have nothing to do with on the court. Years after I coach players, I love when they come back and reminisce.
During a bad stretch, what keeps you going?: I know that every day I have a job to do, so I have to get the players to play hard.
Overall coaching philosophy: I like to emphasize defense because offense is obvious to everyone else. Defense isn't necessarily more important but I like to maintain a balance.

Coach: Jeff Harding Team: Mundelein

Years as head coach at school: 13
Years coaching overall: 13
High school attended: Rockton-Highland College attended: Illinois State University
Why you got involved in coaching: I wanted to coach just because I played. It's been a great opportunity and I love it.
Biggest coaching highlight to date: Second place at the Richmond-Burton/Woodstock Christmas Tournament this season.
During a bad stretch, what keeps you going?: Knowing that I have these kids for two more years. I know that the hard times will be in the past next year. I try to look at the big picture; I'm excited about next year already.
Overall coaching philosophy: I expect hard work from the kids and I want Mundelein to be known as a great defensive team.

John Ryan

Coach: Mike Cliff

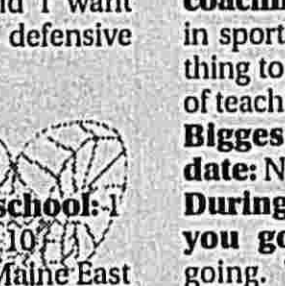

Team: Zion-Benton
Years as head coach at school: 5
Years coaching overall: 16
High school attended: Zion-Benton
College attended: Black Hills State in S.D.
Why you got involved in coaching: I've been around sports my whole life; my dad Leroy was the head football coach at Zion-Benton for 28 years and I knew I wanted to coach.
Biggest coaching highlight to date: Getting back-to-back double-digit win seasons for the first time since 1992-93 and winning the Prairie division last year.
During a bad stretch, what keeps you going?: The fact that I know they're high school kids and they will make mistakes but also that they'll get better.
Overall coaching philosophy: I want a positive image with my students and staff and I want Zion-Benton to become a respected program.

Mike Hirsch

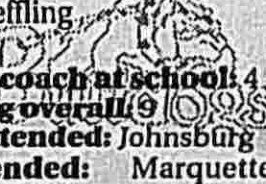

Coach: Mike Hirsch

Team: Grayslake
Years as head coach at school: 1
Years coaching overall: 10
High school attended: Maine East
College attended: Northeastern Illinois in Chicago
Why you got involved in coaching: I just fell into coaching. I enjoyed being around the games and the athletes and it just snowballed

Coach: Tom Oeffling

Team: Grant
Years as head coach at school: 4
Years coaching overall: 9
High school attended: Johnsbury
College attended: Marquette University
Why you got involved in coaching: I've always been involved in sports and I thought I had something to offer. It's a natural extension of teaching, which I love to do.
Biggest coaching highlight to date: N/A
During a bad stretch, what keeps you going?: The girls keep me going. They give everything they have, and I can never be upset with that.
Overall coaching philosophy: Each individual has an important role to make the team go. I'm a very team-oriented coach. We're actually a family.

Don Zeman

Coach: Don Zeman

Team: Antioch
Years as head coach at school: 3
Years coaching overall: 30
High school attended: Antioch
College attended: Dartmouth
Why you got involved in coaching: I saw how much my high school coaches did for me and I wanted to give back to others.
Biggest coaching highlight to date: At CLC in 1991, my girl's team had a school-record 23 wins and went to the state Final Four.
During a bad stretch, what keeps you going?: Continuing to see improvement keeps me going. I like to see a team come together.
Overall coaching philosophy: I try to instill a great deal of pride on defense and offense is where the fun is, so I try to get everyone involved. I believe in sharing the ball.

MENU PAGES

Featuring Nothing
But Menus
From Lake County Area Restaurants!

Welcome to Lakeland Newspapers' third edition of Menu Pages!

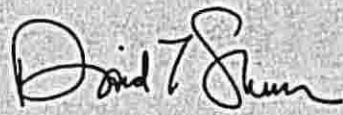

This special section is loaded with actual menus from many of the area's finest restaurants. Whether you are looking for a fancy location to take your Valentine to, a fun pizza spot for the family or just some place new and different-you can find it in Menu Pages.

More than thirty hot spots from Lake, McHenry and Kenosha county have their house specialties and prices all in one easy to store pullout section. You will want to make sure to keep this section for use during the whole year.

With Menu Pages, finding a spot to go to isn't the hard part...deciding WHICH to try first is the challenge. Either way, which ever restaurant you choose will be sure to be a good choice.

We hope you enjoy it.

Sincerely,

David Sherman

Big Al's Doghouse II

Big Al's started out in 1999, on a little houseboat which was converted by Big Al, to a full professional kitchen. It's a boat that people can pull up to in their boats, like a boat-thru! For the last 4 years, every weekend summer and holiday from Memorial Day to Labor Day, they park the boat in Grass Lake just south of the bridge. Making good food with quality and quantity, kept their customers coming back for more. It also made them ask, "When are you opening on land?" Big Al's Doghouse on land, at Depot Station in Antioch, right across from the Antioch train station. Continuing their quest to provide the best possible food & service to the public. Open 7 days a week. So now, winter or summer, land or water.

Blue Bay

Located at 885 Rollins Rd., Round Lake Beach. 847-223-0404. Dine-in our family atmosphere while enjoying any of our homemade specialties. Choose from a variety of favorites including Italian pasta dinners, seafood burgers, mexican dishes, greek gyros, delicious crisp salads and more. Serving breakfast, lunch and dinner.

Cafe' Pyrenees

When you enter Cafe' Pyrenees' dining room, you are transported into the Southwestern countryside of France. Make that special trip for lunch or dinner. Cafe' Pyrenees was established in 1990 by Chef Jean-Marc Loustaunau-Orthez, France. Cafe' Pyrenees is an excellent place for quick lunches, business meetings and special occasions or just a fabulous dinner out. Food ranges from the typical French Cafe' fare as well as specialties from the Mediterranean regions of Southwest France. All entrees come with salad, fresh vegetables and a starch. They have a private party room for all your party needs. They also offer an extensive list of wonderful desserts created by their pastry chef Sandra Sofere. Call us during our regular business hours to make a reservation for lunch or dinner. Cafe' Pyrenees is located at Hwy. 21 and 60 (facing Hwy. 60), River Tree Court Shopping Center, Vernon Hills, IL 60061. Phone: 847-918-8850 or 847-918-8852.

Country Squire

It's that time of year again, the period in between the changing seasons. Winter has over extended its welcome, spring isn't quite ready to blossom, barbeque and beaches are months away. In the midst of February, a bucolic setting for dining has special appeal. There's something rewarding about a satisfying meal in the warmth and comfort of a renovated mansion. Someplace where the fireplace crackles, people are hospitable and the sylvan scenery gives the illusion that you're part of the outdoors, yet sheltered from the chill. This perhaps accounts for the charisma of Country Squire, an inviting refuge from February's mixed signals.

There's a legitimate reason why this Country Squire distinctive dining and banquet destination looks, feels and acts like a beautiful place in the country. It occupies the former Sears estate and mansion, surrounded by acres of natural woods and manicured grounds, a historical and culinary landmark that has aged gracefully over the decades. Twenty-six years ago this month, the Govas family — Bill, Kris, Gus and Diane — acquired the prime property and converted in into one of the Chicago area's premier restaurant and banquet showcases. At any time of year, the recently revised menu offers innovative Mediterranean and American dishes daily except Monday for lunch, dinner and an elegant Sunday brunch. This wonderful merger of food and mood makes Country Squire particularly popular on holidays such as Valentine's day, Feb. 14, Easter, April 20 and Mother's Day, May 11, when a panorama of tulips and other flowers will be in full springtime bloom. With its well-preserved indoor and refreshing outdoor charm, this also is a preferred pick for wedding receptions, showers and other social and business gatherings for up to 400. Country Squire is conveniently located on Route 120, just west of Route 45, Grayslake. For reservations, call 847-223-0121.

Sammies

From a 6x10 foot trailer in 1964 that their father rented for us next to the gas station near our Chicago home, Sammies sold Vienna Hot Dogs for a quarter and soft drinks for a dime that first summer. Sammies was operated seasonally six months a year. Growing up and moving on, they opened a year-round store in Chicago in 1970 and two years later in 1972 a second in Grayslake, where they turned a walk-up summertime stand into a year-round fast-food operation. Expanded several times since, that restaurant has gone from six stools to seating for 78. In 1982 they opened in partnership with Dave Keith, a third location now located at 215 W. Rollins Road in Round Lake Beach. In 1988 they sold their original store in Chicago and not operate exclusively in the Lake County area. In 1997, a new Sammies was open in partnership with Tom Sheehan at 216 Milwaukee Ave. (Rt. 83) in Lake Villa. What hasn't changed in more than 37 years are the authentic Chicago Style Hot Dogs and other Chicago Style Sandwiches they serve. Visit all 3 Sammies locations: Grayslake, 799 Belvidere Rd., (Rt. 120 near 83) 223-4663; Round Lake Beach, 215 Rolls 546-4674; Lake Villa, 216 Milwaukee Ave. (Rt. 83 1/2 mile past Grand Ave.) 265-2400.

Tang's

Tang's #1. Chinese Restaurant, the best Chinese food in the area and our customers are the critics... "Great! Being one of Tang's very first customers, they are by far the best Chinese restaurant," Bob C., Gurnee. "Tang's is the best! Tried other Chinese restaurants and they don't even come close." Maria M., Grayslake. "Simply awesome! Tang's has the best of everything," Chris S., Lake Bluff. "Unbeatable Chinese food in Lake County," Alexis T., Vernon Hills. Setting the standard in Chinese Cuisine. Tang's is located at 111 South Highway 45, Grayslake. Call 847-548-8882. Mon.-Thurs. 11:30 a.m.-9 p.m.; Fri.-Sat. 11:30 a.m.-10 p.m.; Sun. 2:30 p.m.-9 p.m.

Twin Oaks

Is in a beautiful country setting located on Hwy. C in Twin Lakes, Wis. Banquet facilities to accommodate all parties. The menu definitely tells you what to expect when you dine-in this gracious atmosphere. Enjoy a couple's evening or bring a family group. What ever the choice is, you'll be pleased with the choice you've made to dine here. Relax and enjoy!

Villa D' Carlo

Come in for the changing seasonal ambience...but love the food! Italian cuisine made with you, their guest, in mind! Daily specials range from our stuffed prime rib to homemade ravioli. Be sure to save room for dessert — their tiramisu shines above all others! Outdoor dining as weather permits. Banquet and meeting facilities available for your private affairs. In 1957, Carl Ruffalo opened his first pizzeria in Columbus Park, where Italians first settled in Kenosha. He used only the freshest ingredients for his original family recipe and stone-bottomed ovens for a perfect crispy crust. Back then, people flocked to his restaurant and Villa D'Carlo soon became famous for thin crust pizza. Although times have changed, Carl's Pizza hasn't. Today, owner Beverly Ruffalo still uses the same family recipes. Everything is made fresh on premise...from the dough to our slow-simmered sauce and homemade sausage. While other pizzerias have come and went over the years, Carl's Pizza is still a favorite. They also invite you to visit their newest location on the westside, Carl's Pizza West, located at 5020-60th Street in Kenosha.

Malueg finds niche at CLC

Sports Editor

Dedication, hard work and sometimes just the constant exposure to the sport you love can yield some pretty good results.

After a few trials and tribulations, former Round Lake High standout basketball player Jenni Malueg has found a new home at The College of Lake County.

Malueg transferred from North Park to CLC at semesters last year. It was a change she gladly accepted.

"It was a good experience but overall, I wasn't too happy there (at North Park)," said Malueg, who is currently averaging 15 points and 6 rebounds on the hardwood this season. "It got to be too expensive. So I wanted to come back to the area and try and save some money so I could go to a 4-year school after CLC. Plus, athletes who come here love the game and they get a chance to play."

Malueg is certainly making the most of her first full season, whether it's spinning to the hoop inside or pumping in a long-range jumper.

"She was really strong inside and had a soft touch outside," said Braman. "She's been a delight to coach and really sets a great example out there."

Malueg had called Braman wondering if she could join the team. But because she transferred in at semesters, she wasn't eligible to play until this season. Yet Braman still let her practice with the team last winter.

"That was a great experience. It really helped me develop," said Malueg. "I got used to the system and was able to stay in shape."

Playing in summer pick-up games and playing in open gyms with regularity. Have helped her keep her focus.

"Anything to stay active," she said. "I usually work out at least once a day, just to stay not only physically, but mentally prepared."

But Malueg's talents are not only on the hardwood. She was one of the main offensive and defensive threats for Sue Garcia and the Lady Lancer softball team. Last fall, she was a Second Team All-Skyway selection and First Team selection in the All-District tournament.

"She's really a dynamic person and tremendous athlete," said CLC women's volleyball coach Bob Taterka. "She helps raise the level of play of everyone around her."

Back on the basketball court, Malueg's inside scoring isn't the only strong part of her game. When Erica Brown is in the post, it frees up Malueg to shoot that short jumper or even three-pointer.

"When teams play a man defense, that's when we do really well," said Malueg. "We have quick guards that can shoot and put pressure on the ball. We're just playing really well together and gelling. Everyone is working well together, from the guards to the post players. We definitely have high expectations for the rest of the season. A conference title and region title would be nice."

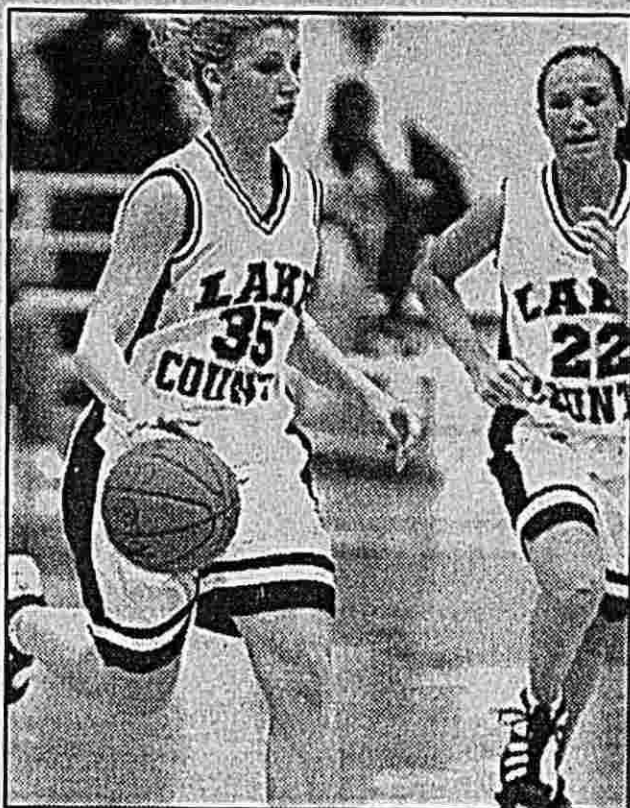

The Lancers have a great shot at that, too. They currently sit atop the Skyway Conference with Elgin and McHenry Community College at 5-1. The team is 11-11 overall.

Malueg really had the shooting touch when she drained a season and career-high 38 points in a 2-point loss to Harper earlier this season.

"I was shooting pretty good that day," she said. "But it was hard to celebrate because we lost. So, safe to say, we'll be out for a little revenge when we play them (Saturday)."

Speaking of which, CLC will entertain Harper at 1 p.m.

Not that Braman loves hearing this, but

Malueg looks to have enough credits to transfer to a four-year school at the end of this year.

"I wish she could play here forever," said the coach.

"I'd be eligible and wish I could stay here but academically, it would be foolish because I'll have already earned enough credits to transfer," she said.

Her future plans possibly include attending the University of Wisconsin-Parkside, majoring in education. The ultimate goal for Malueg is what else—becoming a coach for some high school girls hoops team.

Sounds like the perfect fit.

CLC men rolling

The College of Lake County men's basketball team defeated No. 3 regionally-ranked Morton last week to stay in second place in the Skyway Conference.

The Lancers cruised to 103-76 victory behind strong guard play, en route to their third conference win of the season. They currently hold a 3-2 league record.

"Anytime your over .500 in conference your pleased," said head coach Shawn Chism. "We were hitting on all cylinders against Morton. We had four guys in double figures and our bench did a great job."

CLC has stayed consistent with their backcourt throughout the season. Three of their guards average in double figures. Robert Bankhead leads the team with his 16 points per game, while Mark Harvey is averaging 15. Tim Addison has averaged 14 points while also dishing out six assists per contest.

"When (our guards) are on, we're on," said Chism. "These guys give us consistent performances night in and night out."

CLC continues to lead the region in points per game with an average 87. The win improved the record to 10-13 on the season.

The Lancers have a week off before their next contest on Feb. 4 at Oakton Community College.

Chism believes mental preparation will become key in the season's closing weeks.

"We just have to keep winning games," he said. "We have to win on the road, five of our next seven games are on the road. Our biggest key is being mentally tough for the road games, and hopefully getting some road wins."

Athlete of the Week

CLC women's basketball player Jenni Malueg was named the Athlete of the Week after averaging 12.5 points per game in two Lancer victories. Her defense was also outstanding, according to Head Coach Bill Braman.

COLLEGE SPORTS REPORT AREA ATHLETES MAKING THE GRADE

Augustana College Men's basketball

Former Lake Zurich High post player Shaun Clements (Lake Zurich) continues to make his mark as part of the Vikings men's basketball team. Through 12 games, Clements is the team's top rebounder with close to seven boards per contest. Clements is also second on the team in scoring at 12.8 points per game. His scoring average ranks him 12th in the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin statistical leaders. He is also fourth in the CCIW in field-goal percentage (.579), 10th in free-throw percentage (.717) and ninth with his rebounding average per game.

Meanwhile, former IHSA Three-point shooting champ and Carmel grad Joe Baumann (Mundelein) nailed a three-pointer to keep Augie close during a 66-62 loss to Illinois Wesleyan. Baumann also showed his rebounding prowess by grabbing eight in a 66-59 victory over North Central. Clements also grabbed eight boards in the victory. In a 69-55 come-from-behind victory over defending CCIW champ Carthage, Clements pumped in 20 while Baumann hit for 13.

For the season, Baumann is averaging 6.3 points per clip in 11 games played.

The Vikings are currently 11-3 overall and 3-1 in the CCIW.

McNulty Irish Dancers ring in 2003 with Fiesta Bowl appearance!

This local dance troupe was chosen to appear in the Fiesta Bowl Parade on New Year's Eve. About 400,000 spectators gathered to watch the parade march down Central Avenue in Phoenix Arizona. The dancers were one of only 14 specialty units to march in the parade.

The McNulty group included 19 dancers, a 9-member color guard and auxiliary unit, and 2 directors as they performed traditional Irish step dancing along the 3-mile parade route. Dancers from the school's Chicago area and Dubuque Iowa locations (ranging from 8 years to adults) participated.

The Fiesta Bowl dancers included: Margaret and Kathleen O'Leary, Crystal Lake; Molly Haskin, Crystal Lake; Riley Simpson, Arlington Heights; Amy Pinski - Arlington Heights; Joy Mix, Gurnee; Meghan Geimer and Caitlin Naureckas, Oak Park; Elizabeth

Welch, Brookfield; Erin Sullivan, Elmhurst; Shailagh Heneghan, Niles

The Fiesta Bowl appearance was the culmination of a very successful year for The McNulty Irish Dancers. The dancers have been celebrating their school's 32nd birthday with several high-profile performances, including a 10-day tour of Ireland with a special performance at the request of the Mayor of Waterford City; half-time performances at the University of Notre Dame Men's basketball; the Chicago Blackhawks, Disney's Magnificent Mile Lights Festival in Chicago; and the Marshall Fields Jingle Elf Parade.

The McNulty School of Irish Dance offers classes in 13 Chicago area locations, including Libertyville, Gurnee, Richmond, Lake Forest, Arlington Heights, Schaumburg and Villa Park. Visit the schools website (www.mcnyltyirishdancers.com) for schedule and locations.

Appropriate discipline is the key to helping kids thrive

From the Kindergarten classrooms to the prisons we are letting people down! The common denominator is a complete lack of discipline.

Each day of my professional life, I tell parents that appropriate discipline works...period...to solve all behaviors. Even distractibility and off-task behavior. Not physical punishment, just creative discipline. Parents get skeptical and a little cautious because they don't believe me. Without exception, those who have followed what I have told them, come back the following week calm and smiling. "Who would have thought it could be that simple? It actually worked!" Many of them see improved behavior in their child for the 1st time. What I am talking about here is not some miracle I dug out of the ground that has never been seen before. It's just good old-fashioned tried and true discipline techniques that everyone seems to have forgotten about.

PARENT'S PLACE

Techniques that teach self-control and decent behavior. Skills that seem to be fading from our society. These are things that work every time with every little kid. They are not violent. They are not extreme. They do work! How do I know this? I do it every day!

The problem is that our society has been put through a "Dr. Spockizing" and has not rebounded from it. The nurture, compassion, blah blah blah route has taken us into a world of out of control kids with no visible discipline in place or worse yet, discipline that completely backfires.

This translates into hordes and hordes of kids who don't control themselves. You may notice that I didn't say "can't" control themselves. Trust me it is about won't! Classrooms are completely out of control even to the point of Kindergarten kids punching teachers. We have schools living in fear of lawsuits while behavior in the classrooms sink to new lows every day. We have classrooms full of medicated kids. All of this because people are so brainwashed against using good discipline.

I am going to get very bold here people! Any adult who supports their kid's rotten behavior and threatens to sue a school over them using discipline to teach a child that bad, obnoxious behavior has to end, is themselves using bad, obnoxious behavior. When I was growing up, it would have been unheard of to see a parent go to his or her child's defense when that child was behaving badly. The teacher would have had "carte blanche" to use whatever necessary to make the child sit in the chair, work, turn in homework and behave. Not so anymore. We now have detentions that allow Walkmans, losing recess only to play with other things inside, meetings with social workers to talk about feelings, lowered expectations for work load and quality. I could go on and on! Ask yourself, what does this kind of thing do for our kids? It's simple. It gives them an unrealistic view of how the adult world accepts behaviors. I will go further...I believe it cripples them for future success! We even have school programs out there that encourage children to get up from their desks whenever they feel like it! So, later on when they switch to a program that doesn't allow that, the ADD label is slapped on and that child is whisked away to the medication assembly line, even though they are only doing what they have been trained to do.

Everyday I tell people that these behaviors, including distractibility and off task behavior, are about bad habits that have been allowed to continue for too long. Bad habits that need to be retrained. What is accepted will thrive. What is not accepted will go away.

Again, discipline does not need to be violent. In fact, it never should be. It should always be a nasty experience and not be enjoyable, but it should never involve physical harm. That simply doesn't work to change anything and is not right to ever do to any child. Your consequences can have big, old, sharp teeth but not leave any bruises!

Some people think that discipline is too much work and too much follow-up and medication is easier. You know what...it's true. It is easier to do less work, but the outcome is what's at stake here. Each child has an untapped genius of creativity and spontaneity and wonderment. If we work and put effort into training those things the right way and stopping all the superfluous noise of bad behavior and the uncontrolled instincts that cause bad behavior, through habit change, we will have an explosion of powerful, creative thinkers who can build wonderful additions to our society.

I'm telling you folks, the key to changing all of our kid's futures is in attention/behavior retraining and appropriate creative discipline. Without those two things, behavior will get worse, child violence will get worse, creativity will go away, scholastic excellence and success will go away and we will see an explosion of kids on medication like you have never seen before. It's not a pretty picture. It's time to change it now!

CRIMESTOPPERS

441 of them bona fide—which led to 180 arrests and $31,000 in cash rewards.

Anderson said the program is invaluable to county law enforcement agencies.

"It's extremely beneficial because Crime Stoppers works in part with every law enforcement agency in Lake County," he said. "There's more than sufficient amount of crime in the county. Over the years there has been anywhere from standard theft, from homicide, to rape; and trafficking of drugs."

Anderson said Crime Stoppers has assisted in apprehending one of the top 10 most wanted in the county last year, and aided in the arrest of five more most wanted suspects in 2001.

Suspects have also been apprehended in murder and armed robbery cases, attempted murder, and a string of 22 burglaries in Gurnee last year, leading to the arrest of two men and recovery of $18,000 worth of stolen property thanks to Crime Stoppers tips.

A recent addition of a Gun Stoppers program, which has collected 110 guns since 1999, has also added to the success of Crime Stoppers in the county. A gun buyback program, which was organized by Crime Stoppers, the Lake County Chiefs of Police Association, Lake County Metropolitan Enforcement Group and sheriff's office, also took 408 weapons and 478 guns off the street in 2001 and 2002 respectively.

But these statistics have not gone unnoticed. In Anderson's office the accolades the program has received—including awards, certificates and flags flown in their honor—cover the walls and fill on his bookshelf. In 2002, the program became fully accredited, was honored in as an "everyday hero" in Lake County and was ranked as the number one Crime Stoppers unit in the state for the second year in a row.

'It's extremely beneficial because Crime Stoppers works in part with every law enforcement agency in Lake County'

*Andy Anderson,
Executive director of the Lake County Crime Stoppers*

In 2001, the American flag was flown at the U.S. Capitol building recognizing the Lake County Crime Stoppers program and in 2002, the Illinois State flag was raised at the State Capitol in Springfield in honor of the program, Anderson said.

Former Gov. George Ryan proclaimed Jan. as Lake County Crime Stoppers month throughout the state. Anderson said the recognition is a statement about the program's effectiveness.

"That says a lot because the governor, whether it was the past one, the one prior to that or the one we have today, they know that Crime Stoppers works," he said.

In the proclamation, the former governor recognized the benefits that arise out of ordinary citizens aiding police.

"Lake County benefits when concerned citizens look out for each other and report crime to the appropriate authorities," the proclamation states. "It is the type of support between concerned citizens and the law enforcement agencies that improves the quality of life and safety for all communities within Lake County,"

Anderson said the Crime Stoppers program was also recognized nationally last Jan. by President Bush.

"Jan. of every year is Crime Stoppers month around the world in reality," he said. "Bush announced Jan. 2002 as Crime Stoppers month around the U.S., and to the best of my knowledge, that was the first time a president announced that and it was publicized."

After 40 years in law enforcement, Anderson knows what programs work, and this is one of them, he said.

"I believe in this," he said. "I just enjoy what I'm doing very much. Does the program work? Sure it works, and it's a known fact that it works."

beds for every 1,000 of population," he explained. "The new standard is .9 beds for every 1,000." He said the allotment would be well over the minimum, with the consolidation producing a net increase of 12 beds over the current configuration. An additional 120 beds would be located in the Lindenhurst hospital.

The hospital consolidation and other health care concerns in Lake County will be the subject of a "Blue Ribbon" panel discussion at a public meeting on Friday, Feb. 7, from 9 a.m.—noon at Cardinal Health Care, 1430 Waukegan Road (between routes 120 and 137). The panel is under the auspices of State senators Susan Garrett (D-Lake Forest) and Terry Link (D-Vernon Hills).

225 Business Opportunities

The biopharmaceutical industry offers a wide variety of career tracks, with opportunities available for candidates of differing academic backgrounds and ambitions. Wherever your interests lie, from the drug discovery laboratory to the front office, opportunities abound.

Biologist
Opportunities for biologists range from B.S level up through the doctorate, with an increasing emphasis on specialization at higher levels. Lower level positions such as Assistant Research Biologist involve basic lab functions like assay prep. Advanced positions require research design, the conduct and oversight of studies, and contribution to published findings. At every level, the biologist must be able to communicate his or her work to other members of the scientific team and to other departments, such as marketing.

Biostatistician
A biostatistician gathers and analyzes data from drug studies in order to demonstrate how the drug behaved in trials. This data is crucial to the development and regulatory processes. At the managerial level, biostatisticians will confirm that statistical methods are uniform across studies and will monitor the rigor of statistical analysis. Advanced biostatisticians interact with regulatory agencies during the drug approval process. A master's degree is usually required for this position.

Chemist
Chemists test drug materials for quality, purity and strength, using approved methodology and safety practices. They produce sample batches of a drug for trouble-shooting and help design the scaling-up process that takes drug manufacture up to factory proportions. Advanced positions require extensive record keeping and the supervision and integration of a lab team.

Clinical Data Manager
Clinical trials produce vast amounts of data that a pharmaceutical company uses to achieve regulatory approval of a new drug. The clinical data manager helps to design and standardize the process for gathering and storing that data, as well as ensuring timelines are met.

Clinical Programmer
The clinical programmer builds the databases which house the information gleaned from clinical trials of experimental drugs. The programmer must ensure that the databases conform to company standards in order to facilitate the use of the data in the regulatory process. At management levels, clinical programmers assist in the design of databases for specific trials and assure that lower level staff members have sufficient training to complete assigned databases.

CRA (Clinical Research Associate)
The CRA is the interface between the pharmaceutical company and the healthcare sites conducting trials of experimental drugs, and as such, can be responsible for a wide variety of duties. These include writing study protocols, interacting with physicians, and interacting with investigators and other site staff. An intricate knowledge of FDA guidelines is required. These positions usually require a BS, RN, or BSN degree, and require some travel.

Clinical Supply Manager
The clinical supply manager coordinates and ensures delivery of drug compounds for clinical trials, procures bulk supplies from outside vendors as needed, oversees appropriate labeling and packing issues, and facilitates the timely arrival of supplies at testing sites. The clinical supply manager also forecasts supply need and recommends outsourcing opportunities to relevant governance units within the company.

Drug Safety Specialist
The drug safety specialist knows and flags safety signals as they arise in trials, oversees the compilation of adverse event data and analyzes the data. He or she provides risk/benefit analysis and trial design input to clinical teams, marketing teams, labeling committees, regulatory officers and outside entities. The drug safety specialist also ensures that drug safety data are gathered according to standard procedures.

Medical Director
The medical director is an expert in a disease area and therefore able to plan a late-stage clinical trial in that area. He or she implements the approved plan, including budgeting and oversight, and acts as a knowledge resource to other departments by producing profiles of diseases in his or her area. At a global level, the medical director is responsible for the implementation of clinical trials in many countries, and may interface with outside entities to keep their opinion of the industry informed and up to date. Provides Medical and Scientific leadership, guidance and expertise for products after market introduction by planning, managing and reporting phase IIIB and IV clinical studies as well as investigator driven clinical studies.

Medical Writer/Technical Writer
The duties of the medical writer include the writing and editing of clinical reports and study protocols, as well as submissions to the FDA. Medical writers may also be charged with the production and publication of peer-reviewed scientific papers explaining the result of clinical studies.

Microbiologist
Microbiologists perform tests on microorganisms and bacteria in the environment around manufacturing areas, conduct lab tests in support of process validation studies, grade water used in manufacturing, and perform other testing functions to support operations, legal compliance and regulatory documentation.

Pathologist
The pathologist's role is to design, carry out, report on and analyze data from pre-clinical animal toxicity trials of potential drug compounds. This scientist also engages in profiling the mechanisms of toxicity for the purpose of designing less toxic compounds in the future, and serves on the committees that see a compound from late pre-clinical through early clinical stage trials. This position requires a medical degree as well as a license to practice medicine.

Process Engineer/Manufacturing Engineer
In this position the employee designs, installs and troubleshoots manufacturing equipment, helps plan and record safety procedures to ensure a high quality product, investigates quality control problems, and tries to improve the manufacturing process to promote better manufacturing times and the highest quality product.

Quality Assurance Engineer
Like the manufacturing engineer, the quality assurance engineer is heavily engaged in the manufacturing process. He or she develops protocols to ensure a consistently pure, high-quality product, oversees protocol implementation and checks product quality levels. In case of quality problems, the quality assurance engineer works with the manufacturing staff to rectify the issue.

Quality Control Analyst
The quality control analyst is responsible for developing formalized product testing procedures, and for writing and debugging the scripts to run the procedures. He or she also assists in the selection and use of testing tools and confirms that any additions or fixes to the testing system do not disrupt other components.

Regulatory Affairs Specialist
Drug approval and marketing is the raison d'être of a pharmaceutical company. The regulatory affairs specialist is an expert in regulatory requirements, assures that those requirements have been met in drug approval studies, and at higher levels interfaces with the FDA in the approval process and in post-marketing follow-up in order to ensure the largest possible market for a product.

Toxicologist
As part of the pre-clinical team, a toxicologist's job is to examine the toxicity of potential drug compounds at the molecular level. With the advancement of genetic technology, toxicology increasingly uses the tools of genetics such as microarrays and protein characterizations to examine toxic interactions.

Validation Engineer
An integral part of the quality assurance process, the validation engineer develops and writes manufacturing validation protocols, implements the protocols in keeping with regulatory requirements, and tracks and reports on validation measures. He or she operates from the physical level of calibrating production machinery through such managerial functions as time budgeting for validation processes.

A Journey of a Thousand Miles...

When people learn that they have cancer, their perspectives on life are often altered. The fundamentals that we often take for granted become more important, basic ideals that we all subscribe to - the need for compassion, for hope, for understanding - become vital. As does the care for all aspects of one's life - the emotional and spiritual, as well as the physical. For 25 years, Midwestern Regional Medical Center has been setting the industry standard for this natural approach to cancer treatment.

We are currently recruiting for several key positions within our organization:

Radiation Therapist
Registered Nurse
Patient Care Technician
Medical Transcriptionist
Clinical Research Nurse
Transfusion Services Supervisor
Housekeeping

And true to our values, we care for our employees in much the same way, in all aspects of their career development and through competitive salaries and comprehensive benefits that encourage a healthy work/life balance. It's a special kind of person who works for us. But then again, it's a special kind of job we do. Consider us a first step to a healthy new career.

For consideration, please forward your resume to: Midwestern Regional Medical Center, Attn: HR, Job Code: Lakeland-1/24/03, 2520 Ellisha Avenue, Zion, IL 60099. Fax: 847-872-6222. E-mail: hr_zlon@ctca-corp.com • EOE

BALANCE LIFE FOR HEALTHY WORK

By Scott T. Fleischmann

Several years ago I read an article written by a hospital chaplain. He had been at the bedside of many people shortly before they died. His primary point was that although he had heard many people who regretted spending too much time at work, he had never heard anyone complain about spending too much time with family. Nor had he heard anyone complain about spending too much time golfing, fishing, or exercising.

From his perspective, people who are close to the end of life have a good understanding of priorities. He went on to surmise that much of our American society is skewed to work. We do not take our time for relaxation, as we ought. Nor do we spend time with our family and friends.

Balance is important. Here are some ideas to help balance our daily work.

• Keep yourself healthy. Start an exercise program and learn how to eat a balanced diet. There are many books on nutrition. In addition, family doctors usually have information on eating correctly. Plan an exercise program. Start slowly and build up to a more challenging level. This program does not need to be costly. Walking, jogging, and bike riding are all good cardiovascular exercises. Callisthenics at home can significantly improve muscle tone. Health club memberships and expensive home equipment are not needed.

• Plan to spend time with family and friends. My family spends every Sunday evening together. My two best friends live about fifty miles from me. I have to plan time to be with them. Yes we can have relationships at work. But often those relationships are based on expectations. Family and friends, in a healthy relationship, accept us for who we are. There are few expectations. We need to spend time with those who love us unconditionally.

• Find hobbies. Unfortunately, too many of us come home from work exhausted; we gobble down a meal composed mainly of fat and cholesterol and spend the time before bed watching television. There is nothing wrong with watching a good movie or an occasional ball game. However, spending time doing productive activities that compliment work helps to balance our lives.

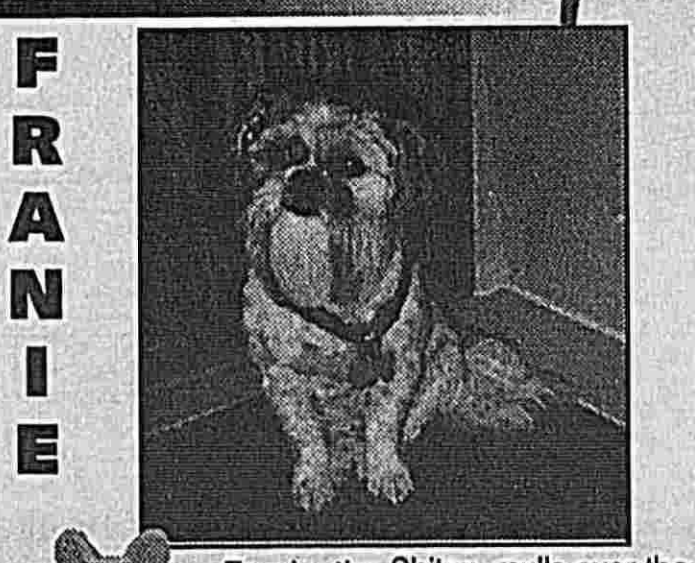

A carpenter who comes home and does woodworking as a hobby has missed the point. A computer programmer who comes home and builds web sites has missed the point. But a programmer who comes home and remodels his kitchen, or a carpenter who comes home and builds a family web site understands task balance.

• Give back to others by doing charitable work. The number of people who have contributed to my life is beyond counting. I feel an obligation to give back to others who have a need. And the truth be known, I grow significantly from those experiences. That growth manifests itself as an appreciation for others, as a feeling that I have helped another person, and through the joy of seeing others grow along with me.

A balanced life can make work more enjoyable. Exercise relieves stress. Good nutrition is the basis for physical and emotional well being. Spending time with others builds binding relationships with those who love us. Serving others and hobbies give a sense of self-fulfillment. Try balance. It will change your work perspective.

PUBLIC NOTICE

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE NINETEENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT, LAKE COUNTY, ILLINOIS

 WALLACE R. STACK) No. 01 P 935 Deceased)

CLAIM NOTICE and NOTICE TO HEIRS AND LEGATEES

Notice is given of the death of WALLACE R. STACK, of Waukegan, Illinois. On October 15, 2001, Letters of office were authorized to be issued to Angelique K. Guinn, and on or after November 29, 2001, said Letters were so issued to Angelique K. Guinn, as Appointed Executor. Angelique K. Guinn's address is: 130 East Randolph, Suite 3800, Chicago, Illinois 60601, and her attorney is Daniel K. Sinclair, 4170 Old Grand Avenue, Gurnee, Illinois 60031.

Claims against the estate may be filed in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court at 18 North County Street, Waukegan, Illinois, 60085, Room C-104, or with the Appointed Executor, or both, on or before August 5, 2003, which date is not less than six months after the date of the first publication of this notice and any claim not filed within that period is barred. Copies of this claim filed with the Clerk must be mailed or delivered to the representative and to the attorney within ten days after it is filed.

Notice is also given to: LAUREN KAMASTA; WAYNE WALD; JANET WALD; CHERYL WALD; KAREN STACK; LINDA STACK; and BRENDA STACK; all of whom are heirs of the Decedent in the above proceeding to probate the will and whose addresses are not stated in the petition to admit the will to probate; and also to GLADYS LaFOND; SHARON STACK; RAYMON STACK; and DARYL CHAPIN; all of whom are heirs of the Decedent in the above proceeding to probate the will and whose addresses, on information and belief, are not stated in the petition to admit the will to probate, that an order was entered by the court on October 15, 2001, admitting the will to probate.

Within 42 days after the first publication of this Notice, you may file a petition with the court to require proof of the will by testimony of the witnesses to the will in open court of other evidence, as provided in section 6-21 of the Probate Act of 1975 (755 ILCS 5/6-21).

You also have the right under section 8-1 of the Probate Act of 1975 (755 ILCS 5/8-1) to contest the validity of the will by filing a petition with the court within 6 months after the first publication of this Notice.
